Herald internation Eribune.

PUBLISHED WITH THE NEW YORK TIMES AND THE WASHINGTON POST

Paris, Monday, July 11, 1994

No. 34.637

Yeltsin Balks On Pullout Of Forces From Baltics

Despite Clinton Nudge, Russia Says It Will Keep 2,000 Troops in Estonia

By Douglas Jehl
New York Times Service

NAPLES — Despite prodding from President Bill Clinton, President Boris N. Yeltsin of Russia said Sunday that he would not meet a commitment to withdraw all Russian forces from the Baltic nations by Aug. 31.

While promising that Latvia would join Lithuania by that deadline in being finally free of Russian troops, Mr. Yeltsin said he would not pull back the 2,000 soldiers that his country has left stationed in Estonia until that country agrees to grant wider rights to retiring officers who stay behind. On the day that Mr. Yeltsin joined the leaders of the seven major industrial democracies as a full participant for the first time at their annual summit meeting, his declaration on the Baltics provided a stark between Russia and the other nations. It also gave a new glimpse of the still-complicated relationship between Russia and the states it once occupied.

reminder of the differences that remain

With Mr. Clinton looking on in apparent displeasure, Mr. Yeltsin complained very crude violations of human rights" in Estoma, which declared independence in 1991 after 46 years of Soviet

He said Estonia's refusal to grant citizenship and provide housing to Russian military retirees had left Moscow's relationship with that country "somewhat more difficult" than with its Baltic neigh-

Mr. Yeltsin did agree to meet with President Lennart Men of Estoma in hopes of resolving their differences, and his public hard-line stance may in part have been a negotiating ploy.

U.S. officials said the promise of face-to-face discussions between the Russian tand Estonian leaders represented the "sig-nificant progress" that Mr. Clinton claimed during a joint news conference to have made in his properties with the Russian leader. But when asked immediately afterward whether he intended to honor his own Aug. deadline Mr. Yeltsin replied with a blunt "nyet," bringing a flash of tension to a day in which the gathered leaders tried otherwise to show that they held common cause on trouble spots from Bosnia to

As they concluded their three-day summit here, Mr. Clinton and his fellow G-7

See G-7, Page 5

North Korea.

G-7 Shrugs Off Weak Dollar as Summit Ends

By Alan Friedman

onal Herold Tribune NAPLES - Leaders of the world's seven richest industrial democracies ended their annual economic summit meeting here Sunday determined to ride out the vicissitudes of the volatile financial markets that have pushed the dollar to historic lows against the yea and sent long-term interest rates soaring.

During a generally harmonious two-day meeting, President Bill Clinton and his counterparts from the other Group of Seven industrialized nations tried repeatedly to put a brave face on the dollar's weakness. In their effort to collectively jawbone financial markets, they stressed that underlying economic fundamentals in G-7 countries were sound and announced that their finance ministers and central bankers would meet more frequently "to enhance the ongoing process of multilateral surveillance and policy cooperation." In their final communique, the G-7 leaders hailed what they termed improved conditions for a sustained, low-inflation economic recovery. They also reaffirmed their determination to take steps to battle unemployment, and committed themselves to further moves to help Russia, Ukraine and other East European countries in their transition toward a market economy. But the communiqué made no explicit mention of the G-7's nearly unanimous view that the dollar is currently underval-

Lloyd Bentsen, the U.S. Treasury secretary, who on Friday had suggested such a statement might be forthcoming, said he was not disappointed. "We discussed the issue, particularly among the finance ministers," he said. "And we shared the objections." tive of a strong dollar."

In place of a written statement on the

See SUMMIT, Page 12

People crying after placing flowers before a statue of Kim II Sung on Sunday at the Revolution Museum in Pyongyang.

Clinton's Switches Baffle His Peers

By William Drozdiak ingum Post Service

NAPLES — Nearly two years into his presidency, Bill Clinton's peers among leaders of the world's industrial democracies give him high marks for congeniality, intelligence and his assiduous habit of consulting them on matters of mutual con-

But they are becoming increasingly baffled, and troubled, by his penchant for reversing policies and floating half-baked initiatives in ways that crode his stature, project an image of disarray in his decision-making and sap the confidence of the allies and the public in his leadership.

Mr. Clinton's performance at his second Group of Seven summit meeting has only confirmed what leaders in several allied capitals were beginning to suspect: that in contradiction of Machiavelli's famous dictum, he is a leader who prefers to be liked rather than feared.

The White House's embarrassing withdrawal of an initiative to launch a new review of world trade barriers, even before last year's world trade deal is ratified by the 123 countries that signed it, was so hasty that it raised questions among allied governments about what purpose the administration ever saw in it.

NEWS ANALYSIS

WORLD CUP (GRANDSTAND

Allied governments were only informed of the proposal recently. President François Mitterrand of France and Chancellor Helmut Kohl of Germany were quoted by aides as saying they could not believe Mr.

Clinton wanted to affix his name to it. Other leaders were more polite. Mr. Kohl and Prime Minister Silvio Berlusconi of Italy urged Mr. Clinton to ditch the idea in the absence of a consensus - at least until the new world trade treaty is endorsed by all participating nations

"I accept your arguments," Mr. Clinton replied. "We will see after ratification." The U.S. proposal called for a review of world trade barriers, building on completion of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade that was signed in Morocco in

While the turnabout may inflict no serious damage on global trade patterns, the way it was handled disturbed senior European officials, who have been growing

See CLINTON, Page 5

North Korea Orders Urgent Meeting Amid Signs of Calm Transition

By T. R. Reid

Washington Post Service

SEOUL - The North Korean government ordered members of the national Parliament and Workers' Party leaders from around the nation to gather in Pyongyang on Monday for a mass meeting that could mean the official declaration of Kim Jong II as the Communist state's new su-

The special session could merely be part of the national mourning for Kim II Sung, analysts here said, but it might also mean that the late ruler's son had successfully consolidated power in the three days since his father's death.

South Korean officials monitoring radio broadcasts said that Pyongyang's state news agency had started referring to Kim Jong II, 52, by the exalted title "Great Leader," a term that had previously only been applied to his father. This was a significant semantic promotion for the younger Mr. Kim, previously known as

The fragments of information coming out of the hermit nation all seemed to indicate a fairly calm and smooth transition of power to Kim Jong II. But officials here noted that Kim Jong IL the regime's propaganda expert, runs the radio network and that might account for the absence of any reports of opposition.

Complete control of broadcasting has been an important tool of dominance for the Kim clique that has ruled North Korea since the nation was formed at the dawn of the Cold War. Radios and television sets sold in the North can receive only two stations — the two state networks.

On Sunday, North Korean television broadcast dramatic footage of an outpouring of weeping citizens who turned out by the thousands in Pyongyang to mourn their late leader. The man who ruled for 49 years before his death at 82 was virtually worshiped by the people because of the myth — taught as history in all North Korea schools - that he was the man who defeated Japan in World War II and thus liberated Korea from colonial rule.

Tapes broadcast at length Sunday on South Korean television showed long lines of people moving up a hill to the National Museum of Liberation, site of a 30-meterhigh gleaming bronze statue of the late

The mourners, most carrying flowers, got down on all fours, placed their foreheads on the concrete plaza, and sobbed. After a few moments of grieving, a new line of citizens would move in and do the

The strong and ubiquitous cult of Kim II Sung may permit the North Korean regime

How much is known about Kim Jong II? Precious little. Page 4. • Economic necessity will force greater contact with the world. Page 9.

to achieve what no other Communist leaders could manage, a hereditary succession from father to son. As further evidence that a quick transition to the rule by the son was in the works, North Korean officials at the U.S.-Korea talks in Geneva asked their American counterparts to stay in Geneva and be prepared for a quick resumption of the negotiations, which were suspended Saturday with word of President Kim's death. Even if Kim Jong II successfully assumes power now, analysts have warned that he may not be able to rule uneventfully for long.

North Korea is one of the poorest and most primitive nations on earth. Over the past year or so, visitors have reported widespread famine and misery among the 22 million North Koreans. Even in Pyongyang, a showcase city that is the closest North Korea comes to modern convenience, electricity and water supplies often function only three hours per day, recent visitors say.

The apparent love for Kim Il Sung among the populace probably helped people put up with the deprivation. But the son lacks both the historic stature and the cheery charisma of his father, and might find it harder to maintain order.

"Kim Il Sung was able to put his son in place," Park Doo Shik, a columnist, wrote Sunday in the South Korean newspaper

See KOREA, Page 4

Unpredictability of North Has Washington on Edge

NAPLES - Secretary of State Warren M. Christopher expressed nervousness and uncertainty Sunday about the aftermath of Kim Il Sung's death.

"With a country with the history of North Korea, with the sudden death of the leader of the country, I think it's a time for real vigilance and careful watching by the United States," Mr. Christopher said in a televised interview. "We had some important talks under way with them. We hope they will continue."

"But I think the present watchword ought to be vigilance," he said. "Fortunately, there's no indication that there's been any unusual or threatening buildup by North Korea, but until the uncertainty of this moment is resolved, I think the United States should be in a very careful position."

In Geneva on Sunday, the North Korean delegation said its negotiations with the United States had been suspended until after Kim Il Sung's funeral on Sunday.
The U.S.-North Korea talks had opened Friday on an upbeat note, as both sides declared their efforts "useful and produc-

The negotiations are aimed at resolving international concerns over North Korea's suspected nuclear weapons program. In return, North Korea would receive diplomatic and economic benefits.

Speculation about the future of the nuclear talks focused Sunday on the question of whether Kim Jong II will take a more hard-line position than his father regarding U.S. demands, possibly to shore up support among military officers loyal to the elder Mr. Kim but skeptical of the

As for Kim Jong II, the North Korean president's son and designated heir, Mr. Christopher said, "We know relatively little about him, frankly."

"We've not had contact with him, and he's been largely out of the press and out of public appearances in recent years," he said. "There's some indication that he's been involved in the important decisions of the country. We think he may have been involved in the decision to start the talks in Geneva, as well as the North-South talks, but we'll have to be in a watchful, waiting situation with respect to him."

Earlier, Mr. Christopher said that the United States would consider a meeting with Kim Jong II if he succeeds his father, but only if North Korea assures the international community that its nuclear program is not involved in producing weap-

"One of the problems we've had in the past has been isolation," Mr. Christopher said. "We would welcome the opportunity over time to get to know Kim Jong II better, but there would have to be a sequential series of steps — that is, they

See REACTION, Page 4

Kiosk

Panama to Accept Haitian Refugees

PANAMA CTTY (AFP) — Panama sion came after talks with two envoys will accept an unspecified number of Haitian refugees to be housed at U.S. Linowitz and Michael Kozack. military bases, the president-elect. Ernesto Perez, said Sunday. Mr. Perez cited "humanitarian reasons" for his decision. He takes office Sept. 1, succeeding President Guillermo Endara. He said his deci-

Earlier article, Page 3.

Page 5.

American Teens Have Adult Problems, but the 2 Worlds Don't Meet

Gianluca Pagliuca but hit the Italian

Brazil, in a thriller that produced all five goals in the second half, won on a free kick in the 81st minute by veteran defender Branco. The Brazilians had

Wednesday's semifical matches: Italy vs. Bul-garie, in East Rutherlord, New Jersey, 2005 GMT; Brazil vs. Sweden in Pasadena, Calitor-nia, 2335 GMT.

World Cup report: Pages 15, 16 and 17 taken a 2-0 lead on Bebeto's goal.

goalkeeper in the legs with his shot.

Brazil 3, Netherlands 2

By Susan Chira

Sweden Wins Shootout

Sweden best Romania in a penalty shootout to advance. Romania had tied the score at 1-1 at the end of regulation time, then went ahead early in overtime, but Kennet Andersson

Two goals in three minutes, by Hristo

Stoitchkov in the 76th minute and lor-dan Letchkov three minutes later, ended Germany's reign and put Bulgaria into the semifinals for the first time.

equalized for Sweden near the end.

Bulgaria 2, Germany 1

NEW YORK - A nationwide poll of American teenagers suggests that many lead lives shadowed by adult concerns like violence, drinking and getting a good job, but these are worries that many say they cannot share with adults.

Many appear to five in virtually separate worlds from adults. Four in 10 say their parents sometimes or often do not take time to help them, and many say the people they both trust and fear the most are other icenagers.

A total of 40 percent of teenagers surveyed said they knew someone who had been shot in the last five years, and most of those said that both the attacker and the victim were other teenagers.

Iordan Letchkov kicking the ball away from Germany's Martin Wagner on Sunday during Bulgaria's upset victory.

Lothar Matthaus, making a record-tying 21st World Cup appearance, had put Germany ahead from the penalty

Roberto Baggio, who bailed out his team with both goals against Nigeria, did it again on a goal with two minutes left in regulation in the quarterfinal match. Spain had a chance to take the lead in the 83d minute, when Julio

Salinas found himself tête-à-iête with spot in the 49th minute.

Italy 2, Spain 1

Moreover, 13 percent said that at least half the students in their schools carried weapons like knives and guns, and another 16 percent said some students were armed. A third said at least some classmates had cheated on the last test they took, and most confessed to cheating at

Amid these very grown-up troubles, many teenagers still cling to some rem-nants of their early childhoods. Many say their most cherished possessions are stuffed animals or baseball card collec-

And while many sounded blase about drinking or cheating, they often made harsh moral judgments about themselves, wishing they could control their tempers or be nicer to others.

The survey, conducted May 26 to June by The New York Times and CBS News, was a telephone poll of 1,055 teenagers, 13 to 17 years old. It has a margin of sampling error of plus or minus 3 percentage points. This was the first poll of teenagers these organizations have conducted, so it cannot be used to deduce changes in attitudes and behavior over time.

Many of today's adolescents feel estranged from their parents. Four in 10 said their parents were sometimes or often unavailable to them, a result that did not appear to depend on whether their mothers worked outside the home.

In follow-up interviews, many said their parents were not spending much time with them or communicating well with them.

While many teenagers said they would not want their parents riding herd on them anyway, hints of longing crept through the bravado.

"Even when my parents are here, it's like they're not because they don't have any time," said Aaron M., a 16-year-old who lives near Olympia, Washington, and who did not want his last name used. "We never do anything. We never go out to dinner. We used to do it all the time when we were younger."

For other teenagers, though, parental relationships were less bleak. "Sometimes, I feel like my mom is

See TEENS, Page 4

A Leg Up for Immigrants in France

MARSEILLE - Tahar Rahmani asks himself these questions: Can a tradition of hard work and trading skills disappear in a generation? Why does unemployment among the children of the enterprising, hardworking North Africans who came to France after the war soar above the national average?

Mr. Rahmani, 38, a community activist, believes that dormant entrepreneurial skills can be reignited, given encourage-

To prove the point, he set up an association, known as 3CI to help young people from immigrant families establish their own businesses. In eight years the association, which has branches in Paris, Lyon and Bordeaux and a staff of about 40, has helped set up more than 1,300 businesses, including 494 last year.

"Our purpose is to see that projects are feasible, not too far-fetched," he said. "We go over the finances, the site, the qualifications and the personality of the applicants. The essential thing is that they must be made to understand the problems for themselves.

3CI, which is funded largely by city and government money and provides most of its services free, does not offer financing of its own. It shows candidates how to apply for government aid, guides them through the maze of official regulations, and helps them organizations will accept.

They put us on the road said Franck Kessous, who with a partner established a physiotherapy clinic in a poor quarter three years ago. They gave us a lot of confi-

Today, the clinic employs eight, owns three adjoining

Up and Coming/// An occasional series about the leaders of tomorrow.

apartments and is about to open a paramedical center. The clinic was our work, but we owe 3CI a moral debt," said Mr. Kessous. "They always gave us the idea that we were not alone. They keep in touch, not like a bank." As a student at commercial school, the Algerian-born Mr. Rahmani became involved with an organization dealing with problems of poverty in France and the developing world. Against his father's wishes, he dropped out of the commercial school and studied for a diploma in social studies

After a spell living with a native Indian tribe in northern Quebec, Mr. Rahmani set up an adventure playground for disadvantaged children in Marseille.

Ten years ago, after prepar-ing a report for the city on social conditions among immithat banks and other lending grants, he set up 3CI, initially tablished an office alongside a organizations will accept.

to combat racism. The title branch of the national employstands for Council for the Creation of Enterprises and International Cooperation.

The association has helped set up corner shops, an exportimport business, a factory making transport pallets that employs 14 handicapped people, a gardening company, an instrument maker, a sports promotion company, an advertising agency, a security firm and Kader Allik's tiny

Mr. Allik, 26, and his brother Mustafa had no money, no formal qualifications and no hope of bank financing when they decided to set up the business in a bleak housing project. But the brothers reckoned they could win the patronage of students and teachers at a nearby nursing school, and they were right. The cafe is a bright spot in what used to be a no-go area, and Mr. Allik says all the bills are paid. He said 3CI still helps him deal

The businesses established with 3CPs help have a good survival record — about 20 percent fail in the first year and about 35 percent in five years, which is half the national average. Mr. Rahmani argues that 3CPs 5.5 million franc ($1 million) budget last year saved the state money by turning welfare recipients into with frustrations over red tape.

As his concept expands, Mr. Rahmani and his team continue to come up with new ideas. With government help, 3CI es-ment agency in an abandoned supermarket in an immigrant area. In less than a year, the office has helped 25 businesses get established, and has prepared about 80 business plans. The association also took over a floor in a building near the Marseille railway station and turned it into a nursery for fledgling businesses. At relatively low cost - 2,500 francs a month - a new company can rent an office for up to 23 months, sharing a receptionist, secretary, photocopier and fax

Mr. Rahmani spends his spare time managing Radio Soleil, which has a predominantly North African and Jewish audience. He also is a member of the National Council for Immigration.

The next step might appear to be a career in politics. The only problem is that he has a low opinion of politicians and thinks they should not be trusted to run anything. Marseille has long been a magnet for political adventurers, such as Jean-Marie Le Pen, the extreme rightist, and the maverick Socialist, Bernard Tapie.

"Marseille needs a different kind of politician who will do justice to the city," Mr. Rah-mani said. He said it was common for politicians to use the city as a stage for national ambitions and ignore the problems of the poor.

Mr. Rahmani, who is married and has three sons, is a Tahar Rahmani believes in reigniting traditional skills.

passionate defender of Mar-reality, Mr. Rahmani descille's ethnic bouillabaisse, scribes Marseille as having while recognizing its social enormous potential.

Speaking from the experience of dealing daily with peonle trying to turn december 10 years before the rest of ple trying to turn dreams into the nation."

Rwanda Rebels Promise a Truce but Rule Out Talks

Compiled by Our Staff From Dispatches

KIGALI, Rwanda — Tutsi rebels said Sunday that they would not negotiate with the Hutu government but said Rwanda was nevertheless within days of

"As soon as we secure the areas we have captured and form a new government, we will declare a cease-fire," Jacques Bihozagara, the rebels' diplomatic director for Europe, said.

We expect it to be within days," he Faustin Twagiramungu, a moderate

Hutu named prime minister in a multiparty agreement before fighting began in April, was expected to return from Brussels this week to select the new

New York Times Service

Belarus chose presidents Sunday in elections that have been dominated by debates about re-

The outcomes, which are likely to produce a tighter core of Slavic post-Soviet states, are being closely watched in Washington and Europe, where con-

BONN — German leaders expect the high court to give Bonn a green light on Tuesday for a world military role with the United Nations, casting aside the posture of military restraint the country adopted af-officials said they expected the court to back Chancellor Helmut Kohl's efforts to have Germany join peacekeeping and combat missions under a UN just ask the butler...

Politicians and government

ter World War IL

Bonn High Court Expected

To Back UN Military Role

lations with Russia.

MOSCOW — Ukraine and

Asked whether the rebels were negoting with the government, Mr. Bihozand that mortar shells had sent 400,000 back to the western border with Zaire. ating with the government, Mr. Bihoza-gara said: "Never. Not one of those men did anything to distance himself from

In anticipation of the promised peace, thousands of refugees flooded the streets of Kigali on Sunday after rebel soldiers told them the capital was safe enough for them to go home.

Advancing rebels, meanwhile, tightened their grip on what remains of the rump government, battling its forces near the northwest garrison town, Ruhengeri, overnight and driving thou-sands of terrified civilians westward. Journalists returning from Ruhengeri on Sunday said the rebel forces of the

Rwandan Patriotic Front were trying to Russia, make up the Slavic have had brief periods of sover-

Voting With an Eye on Russia

Closer Ties to Moscow Are Seen for Ukraine and Belarus

Ukraine and Belarus, with heartland, and many Russians, at least, have a difficult time

drawing these new sovereign

But it was the leaders of Russia, Belarus and Ukraine who together broke up the Soviet Union when they met in Minsk

The court must rule on a complaint by the opposition

Social Democrats against the use of German troops in NA-

TO's monitoring of UN sanctions and the no-fly zone in the former Yugoslavia, and peacekeeping — since abandoned — in Somalia.

The Social Democrats argue that the 1949 constitution.

drawn up in reaction to Nazi militarism, explicitly forbids

the use of German troops except in the defense of Germany

S-I-N-G-A-P-O-R-E

Process of the second of the s or its NATO partners.

borders in their heads.

lism is growing.

than 500,000 Rwandans were killed after President Juvénal Habyarimana's political parties. plane was shot down on April 6. Most were minority Tutsis killed by government milities.

on independence.

ter World War II.

cal ties to Russia.

with Russia.

While Ukraine and Belarus

eignty in the past, the question of independence is much sharper in Ukraine, where the more nationalist western half of the country was Sovietized only af-

Still, both Ukrainian candidates - Leonid M. Kravchuk, the nationalist-backed incumbent and former Communist Party ideology secretary, and Leonid D. Kuchma, a former prime minister from eastern Ukraine — say they will work for closer economic and politi-

But with weak economies and currencies, Ukraine and Belarus are looking toward friendlier, more privileged banking and trade relations in Belarus, both candidates called for economic union with Russia, while one calls for the re-creation of the Soviet Union.

The conservative prime minister, Vyacheslav F. Kebich, maneuvered to create the post of president so he could fill it. But he was humiliated in the first round by the strong populist showing of Alexander Lukashenko, who won 44.8 percent of the vote to Mr. Kebich's 17.3.

Mr. Lukashenko, 39, calls for fixed prices, no privatization, a ban on private ownership of land and an end to inflation. Mr. Kebich, 59, seems stunned by the popular anger and, like Mr. Kuchma in Ukraine, has found little benefit from Moscow's open political support.

The Tutsi rebels, who had signed a cease-fire with the government in June, immediately launched a new offensive. Within three months, they overran the Cross said.

refugees in camps fleeing for safety.

out of ammunition and faced defeat by the rebels, who could capture the town and that mortar shells had sent 400,000 After capturing the capital July 4, the rebels moved most of the population, The rump government's prime minis-ter, Jean Kambanda, told a news confer-Hutu and Tutsi alike, into emergency ence on Saturday that his army had run internment centers where thousands had already taken shelter. Mr. Bihozagara said the government will. to be named by Mr. Twagiramungu

The Red Cross estimates that more would be broad-based and include representatives of all of Rwanda's major

A top priority now, he said, was to rush emergency aid to the 3 million Rwandans forced out of their homes. Another 2 million Rwandans, more than a quarter of the population of 7.4 million, are unaccounted for, the Red (AP. Reuters) spokesman said The northern government of Ali Abdullah Saleh proclaimed victory last Thursday in the nine-week civil war after the city fell and separatist leaders fled the country. The spokesman said rem-nants of the southern secessionist army had evacuated the

The southerners headed

San'a has asked its neighbors

General Saleh also met with the Saudi ambassador, Ali Qofaidai, to hand over a message to King Fahd calling for "good neighborly relations and cooperation," an official announce-ment said. The north had accused Saudi Arabia and the Gulf states of providing financial backing to the secessionists. The official Yemeni media last week announced a pardon for all who fought against the northern-based government, excluding the southern leader, Ali Salem Baid, and 15 of his Ukrainian national guardsmen at a polling station in Kiev. tinian sources said.

North Says Its Forces Control All Of Yemen

The Associated Pres

SAN'A, Yemen - Government forces expanded their control over the whole of Yemen on Sunday after the re-mainder of southern secessionist forces fled to neighboring countries, the Defense Ministry

Forces of the northern-based government began withdrawing from the former southern stronghold of Aden, a ministry

Mahran Province.

across the border to Sandi Arabia and Oman or across the Bab al Mandab strait to Diibonti. They took some aircraft, navy boats and other military equip-to return the materiel, the

Arafat Visits Sandi King

RIYADH — Yasser Arafat, the Palestine Liberation Organization leader, arrived Saturday in Jidda on a 24-hour visit for talks with King Fahd, Pales town of Sayum, one the main cities in the eastern province of Hadhramaut, and also left ment with them.

spokesman said.

About 3,000 southern prisoners of war have been released.

oy numerous traces of beatings and injuries." The Palestinian human rights group al-Haq also triged an investigation. The Palestinian human rights group, which is based in the occupied West Bank town of Ramallah, said that Mr. Jarbu's arrest at the ead of June, "resembled a forced kidnapping more than a language arrest." than a lawful arrest." Bangladeshis Seek Blasphemy Ban to the autopsy.

DHAKA, Bangladesh (AFP) — Hundreds of supporters of a Bangladeshi fundamentalist group Sunday demonstrated to demand the enactment of an anti-blaspheny law, witnesses said. Leaders of the Jamest e Islami Party also called for punishment of "infidels," incliding a fugitive Bangladeshi writer, Tas-

WORLD BRIEFS

Rights Groups Call for Investigation

JERUSALEM (AFP) — Human rights groups voiced concern and demanded an inquiry Sunday after a young Palestinian suspected of collaborating with Israel died in PLO custody in Gaza City.

The New York-based Human Rights Watch wrote to the Palestine Liberation Organization's "minister" of justice in the new Palestinian authority "to express its concern about the death in detention of Farid Jarba." It said it was "disturbed to learn" that his death had been caused "by the use of violence, according

The family of the 28-year-old text driver was told he had died of a heart attack, but his father said the body was "horribly marked by numerous traces of beatings and injuries." The Palestinian

Of Palestinian's Death in Custody

Maulana Matiur Rahman Nizami, the party's parliamentary leader, gave a petition containing the fundamentalists' demands to Home Ministry officials, sources said.

U.K. Conservatives Suspend 2 Aides

LONDON (Renters) - Prime Minister John Major on Sunday suspended two Conservative politicians as ministerial aides after suspended two Conservative politicians as ministerial aides after they were accused in a newspaper article of agreeing to file questions in Parliament in return for money.

The Sumday Times alleged that David Tredinnick and Graham Riddick, both members of Parliament, abused parliamentary privilege by agreeing to accept £1,000 ($1,500) from a reporter pretending to be a businessman seeking information obtainable through a parliamentary question to the government.

Both denied any impropriety. But Mr. Major, attending the Group of Seven summit meeting in Naples, moved swiftly to try to quell a new political storm. Mr. Major's spokesman announced the two were suspended as parliamentary private secretaries to ministers pending the outcome of an impairy by the House of Commons.

Nepalese Prime Minister Resigns

KATMANDU, Nepal (AFP) - Prime Minister Girija Prasad Koirala of Nepal resigned on Sunday after losing the support of Parliament in a debate on his government's annual program, state

"King Birendra received Mr. Koirala in audience and has Rong Birendra received Mr. Korrala in audience and has accepted his resignation," the announcement said. After the vote on the government's animal socio-economic and political program was announced, Mr. Korrala met with ministers and leaders of the governing Nepali Congress Party. He then decided to step down.

A parliamentary source said Mr. Korrala might advise King Birendra to dissolve Parliament and call elections before a May 1996 deadline.

Greek Police Wound an Albanian

ATHENS (Reuters)—The pelice in Greece shot and wounded an Albanian woman Sunday after the car she was riding in failed to stop for a search near the Albanian border.

The woman was wounded seriously in the head and her husband was arrested. Two or three other men abandoned the car and fled into the rugged border countryside on foot, a police spokesman in Ioannina said. He said the car was on the Greek side of the border and had been ordered to stop for an inspection at a police road-check. Someone in the car opened fire on the police who fired back, wounding the woman, the spokesman said.

TRAVEL UPDATE

Alitalia Strike in Rome and Naples ROME (AP)—An airline workers' strike threatened to ground most Alitalia (lights and cause delays at some airports on Monday.

The 24-hour strike affects all international and domestic flights from Rome and Naples, where the Group of Seven summit meeting ended Sunday. The strike could hamper the departure of some delegations and journalists. But Alitalia said it would guarantee a minimum number of flights, including major routes to New York, Bangkok and most European destinations.

Unions are protesting Alitalia's cost-saving plan to cut 4,000 jobs. Last week, a two-day strike by flight crews forced Alitalia to cancel half its flights. A planned walkerst by air traffic controllers.

. . . .

Cancel half its flights. A planned walkout by air traffic controllers was delayed until later this month.

Beaches in the southern resort city of East London, South, Africa, were closed Sunday after a Great White shark attacked two-surfers on Saturday, South African radio reported. One of the surfers lost his right leg in the attack.

Greek authorities are planning to throw nets across the Gulf of Saronikos to stop an influx of millions of jellyfish, the minister for Three people were injured by buils Sunday in Pamplona, Spain, bringing to 24 the number of people hurt during the city's annual Chine will build a 1,300 kilometer high-speed train line between. Beijing and Shanghai by the end of the century, the Xinhua news agency reported Sunday. The total cost of the 800-mile line is estimated at 100 billion yuan ($11.6 billion), it added sted at 100 billion yuan ($11.6 billion), it added.

This Week's Holidays

Banking and government offices will be closed or services, curtailed in the following countries and their dependencies this week because of national and religious holidays:

MONDAY: Mongolia. TUESDAY: Mongolia, dec. WEDNESDAY: Mongolia. THURSDAY: France, Iraq, Mo FRIDAY: Brunet

ENCOURAGE TALKS BETWEEN COUNTRIES

Antigua (Available from public cardphones only.)

001-800-333-1111 022-903-012 1-800-624-1000 0900-10012 1-800-623-0484 0-800-2222 000-8012 1-800-888-8000 1-800-624-1000 Chile(CC) Colombia(CC) 980-16-0001

Egyptica:4 uside of Caro, dial (12 first) 355-5770 El Salvador+ Finland(CC) 9800-102-80 194-00-19 France CCW Gambia+ 00-1-99 Germany/CC 0130-0012 (Limited availability in easiern Germany.) Greece!CC74 00-800-1211 1-801-624-8721 Use your MCI Card," local telephone card or call collect...all at the sume low rates.

U.C. County to county calling matches. My not be resigned without all microstronia because. Certain e and a strategy of the property of the prope public planes outh. But depends on call regards Means of International communications curried e 🚧 available from public pay plantes. • Public plantes trap require deposit al course plante card for deal tea

Czech Republic(CC)

Ecuador+

8001-0022 1-800-751-6624 170 Italy(CC14 Liechtensteink C4

080-90000 Gustemala

00-42-000112 Hziti(CC)+

(Available from most major cities.)

1-800-55-1001 177-150-2727 172-1022 090011 155-0222 0800-0112 95-800-674-7000

To call from country to country, or back to the U.S., dial the WorldPhone number of the country you're calling from.

001-800-444-1234 Netherlands Antilla 001-800-674-7000 (Outside of Managua, dual 02 first.) 00Y-900-01411 Norway(CC4 Military Bases PortneakCC1 Puerto Rico(CC) Slovak RepublicaCCI

05-017-1234 1-800-888-8000 172-1022 0800-99-0011

06-022-91-22 191-997-0001 020-795-922 reden (CC) 800-19912 . Trinidad & Tobago (SPECIAL PHONES ONLY) To call the U.S using BT 0800-89-0222 To could the U.S. using MERCURY 0500-890-222 To call anywhere other than the 50500-800-800 Uruguay U.S. Virgin Isla Vatican City (CC) 172-1022 800-1114-0

THE AMERICAS / NOW. THE

Special Prosecutor Spurns Congress

ar and

11,247

WASHINGTON - Robert B. Fiske Jr., the Whitewater independent prosecutor, has rebuffed a congressional committee that asked him to testify later this month about some of the issues he is investigating.

Mr. Fiske declined an invitation to testify before the House Banking Committee. The committee's chairman, Henry B. Gonzalez, Democrat of Texas, released his correspondence with the prosecutor.

In a letter to the committee, Mr. Fiske wrote: "I believe it would be inappropriate and would compromise my ability to function effectively as an independent counsel if I were to appear before Congress to answer questions about my investigation while a major part of it is still going on."

In a separate letter to Mr. Gonzalez, Mr. Fiske discouraged congressional testimony by some Clinton administration offi-cials on the grounds that their appearance could compromise his criminal inquiry. Among the officials that Mr. Fiske said could be involved in his inquiry were two former senior officials at the Justice Department, Philip B. Heymann, the former deputy attorney general, and Webster L. Hubbell, the former associate attorney general

Undoing a Concession on Air Quality

WASHINGTON - The Clinton administration has moved to overturn one of the biggest concessions President George Bush gave industry during its fierce battle with environmentalists over enforcement of the 1990 Clean Air

In a controversial 1992 decision. Mr. Bush eased the rules under which industries could expand their operations even if the expansion would result in higher levels of emissions than allowed by the permits they had obtained.

During the debate over the issue, environmentalists favored a provision that would have permitted the public to challenge changes in industrial emissions before any expansion could proceed.

But the White House Competitiveness Council, under the leadership of Vice President Dan Quayle, argued that such a rule would stymic industrial growth and hamper attempts to bring the country out of recession.

The Environmental Protection Agency administrator, Carol M. Browner, has proposed a rule requiring a period of public comment on potential increases in emissions whenever businesses apply to expand operations. The rule, which would take effect after a 90-day comment period, would overturn Mr. Bush's earlier decision.

Clinton's AIDS Official Quits Under Fire

WASHINGTON — President Bill Clinton's chief AIDS policy officer, Kristine M. Gebbie, submitted her resignation after a rocky 11-month tenure.

Her departure had been rumored for weeks. Advocates for people with AIDS had been unhappy with Ms. Gebbie ever since she was named and it became clear that she would not be the sort of high-profile administrator in the AIDS battle that the Clinton campaign had promised.

Experts on AIDS policy said that Ms. Gebbie, a former health commission in the state of Washington, had been hampered by the ill-defined nature of her job. And while they credited her with good intentions, they said her lack of political savvy had prevented her from making something of a job with little authority.

The budget for AIDS care and research has increased substantially under Mr. Clinton, and prevention programs are being completely reorganized. Those were two of the major demands that groups active on behalf of people with AIDS and HIV, the virus that causes AIDS, made before Mr. Clinton's election. But Ms. Gebbie was seen as having little to do with those developments.

Quote/Unquote

President Clinton, after noting that no foreign visitors had inviting foreign dignitaries to the funeral or receiving them, I would certainly send someone there."

On Campaign Trail, Mum's the Word on Clinton Health Plan

By Richard L. Berke New York Times Service SAN BERNARDINO, Cali-

SAN BERNARDINO, California — Health care may be at ton has no one but himself to ton's agenda, but at least for creating a sense of urgency by now it has sunk near the bottom linking health care to the larger as an issue on the campaign notion of security for all Amerimore pressing, and with con-gressional debate mired in com-or compromise care. plicated and contradictory health-insurance bills, most inrecess last week.

made a point of publicly em- sition team. bracing Mr.-Clinton's embattled proposal. And even some lic has become more rather than of the physicians running for less confused about the link beoffice have abandoned health tween the problems and the care as their driving issue.

In California, the state with the second-highest ratio of uninsured people to total population, Senator Dianne Feinstein, a Democrat seeking re-election, spent her time not on health crime issue, which carries none of health care's political risks.
"Violence is the No. 1 issue in the state of California today," Ms. Peinstein said in an interview. "Next to that, I would have to say people are worried about whether they have a job today, and at the end of the year."

The current absence of any public passion on health care is bad news for the White House, threatening to diminish the president's ability to pressure lawmakers to meet his line-inthe-sand demand for universal coverage and his proposal for some form of requirement that employers pay for it. Beyond that, many advocates of a health-care overhaul believe, the silence could jeopardize efforts to reach consensus on a compromise,

Backers of the president's proposal predict that interest will be rekindled when the issue advances to the House and Senate floors later this summer and the nation begins to focus on specific legislation.

Their best hope, they say, is that incumbents of both parties will realize that health care's political risk is double-edged: tacke; for backing a given pro-blamed for gridlock if no substantial measure is enacted.

the top of President Bill Clin- blame for the current hill. After cans, they say, he allowed oppo-With voters saying they con-sider crime and the economy much of the nation into think-

"Clinton squandered the salience of health-care reform by combents surveyed around the his cockamamy nine-month country barely gave health care task force," said Ted Marmor, a a nod as they campaigned back home during the Fourth of July Yale School of Management who was an informal health-Virtually no Democrats care adviser to the Clinton tran-

> "Over the past year, the pubtween the problems and the remedies," he said. "The choices now are between some Chinese-menu compromise, where they take a little bit from a lot of other things, or literally deadlock."

Another predicament for the care but on events geared to the White House is that perhaps the worst thing going for the president's proposal is its very name: the Clinton plan.

Polls show that despite some nervousness over other elements, most Americans favor the plan's cornerstones; universal insurance and employer mandates. But, the findings suggest, the same people have reservations about the author.

According to the latest Gal-lup poll, 77 percent support guaranteed coverage for all. And 52 percent say employers should pay either all or most of the insurance premiums.

A Tougher Test Awaits in Simpson Case

By Michael Janofsky New York Times Service

LOS ANGELES - For all its drama and sensation, the sixday bearing that persuaded a municipal court judge to order O.J. Simpson arraigned on two charges of first-degree murder was a breeze for prosecutors. sible to know how a trial will They only had to demonstrate play out if Mr. Simpson, the that a crime had been committed and that Mr. Simpson was the likely assailant.

Now, the prosecuting be-comes harder. To win a conviction in Superior Court, the district attorney's office will have to meet a much higher standard of proof in trying to persuade a jury of 12 people beyond reasonable doubt that Mr. Simpson killed his former wife, Nicole Brown Simpson, and her friend, Ronald L. Goldman, by stabbing them to death.

For now, it is virtually imposactor and former football star, holds to his plea of not guilty and his alibi that he was at home asleep when the murders occurred outside Mrs. Simpson's town house on the night of

In the preliminary hearing,

ing had no need to reveal the strength of their defense. cumstantial evidence are not only challenging for prosecuficult to defend.

bare-bones case, built largely on circumstantial evidence, of-

And Mr. Simpson's lawyers, they would prevail at the hear-prominent defense lawyer in Los Angeles not involved with the case. "But a case with lots of piles up against you." the victims' bodies were discoving before Judge Kathleen Kennedy-Powell, prosecutors relied volved.

AUSTRIA: 0660 8155 BEIGIUM: 0800 1 7538 FRANCE: 05 437 437 GERMANY: 0130 848585

Germany^a

Greeçe

DEPAY_

Green Britain

NEWS EVENTS WHICH COULD AFFECT

YOUR LIFE:

Slow Recovery in Europe
Unresolved Problems in Bosnia

Cipil War in Recunda

Political Changes in Japan

FOLLOW THE WORLD EVERY DAY IN THE IHT

CALL US TOLL-FREE

Or send in the coupon below.

6,000 - 307 ---

700 302

E 210 32 115
Dr 75,000 25 41,000
Ert. 220 37 125
Line 500,000 27 275,000
L Fr. 14,000 38 7,700
R. 770 46 420

3,400 -33 " 1,900

Subscribe now 47% off the cover p

prosecutors presented only a mostly on blood-stained items, testimony that demonstrated Mr. Simpson had had the time fering a single drop of blood as to carry out the killings and the the strongest link between Mr. lack of any witness to say he Simpson and the murder scene. was elsewhere at the time.

But the prosecutors' case in knowing it was unlikely that the hearing was presented without severai key components that could cause problems at the trial. Any jury, Mr. Chaleff In any event, many legal ex- said, might be reluctant to conperts say cases layered with cir-vict a well-known and once-respected celebrity on such serious charges - let alone, send tors, they are also the most dif- him to his death - without seeing a murder weapon, hearing "You can always find ways to from an eyewitness or underimpeach a witness or an ex-pert," said Gerald L. Chaleff, a could have committed such a brutal crime,

Despite testimony from two dozen witnesses in the prelimicircumstantial evidence gives nary hearing prosecutors did you no one thing to attack. It all not or could not produce the knife believed to have been The district attorney's office used in the killings. Nor did has been building the pile since they call to the stand anyone who had witnessed the killings ered. In arguments at the hear- or who could explain why Mr. Simpson might have been in-cover price

LIXEMBOURG: 0800 2703 SWITZERLAND: 155 57 57 THE NETHERLANDS: 06 022 5158 UNITED KINGDOM: 0800 89 5965

12 months $7.5 % 6 months 3 months + 2 months $5.5 % 1 months + 1 month + 13 FREE liquids

3,300

1.800

210

1,50,000

A New U.S. Realism on Haiti

Junta's Ouster Would Not Be Enough to Restore Aristide

By Walter Pincus Washington Post Service
WASHINGTON — Although the Clinton administration has stressed the need to replace Haiti's top three military leaders, it recognizes that their ouster would not be past U.S. governments over sevenough to end the violence and restore exiled President Jean-Bertrand Aristide.

Instead the administration accepts long-held CIA analyses that the real power in Haiti, and most of the violence, can be traced to the lower ranks of the Haitian military: the noncom-

Away From Politics

 What is being called the worst flooding to hit Geor-gia and parts of Alabama and north Florida in this century has cost at least 24. lives in the last week. Five persons are missing after heavy rain from a stalled tropical storm pushed dozens of usually tranquil rivers and creeks over their banks.

· Young blacks at the NAACP convention in Chicago are sending a message to their elders: Stop com-plaining about the evils of white society and start looking within. "We can't blame another race for our problems, said Angel Walters, 17, of Pasadena, California, one of hundreds of black tecnagers competing for writing and artistic awards at the 85th annual National Association for the Advancement of Colored People convention.

 Governor Mario Cuomo's administration has given the green light to New York City and two suburban counties to take electronic fingerprints of some welfare recipients in an effort to fight fraud, as long as local governments pay a share of the cost and follow state regulations. AP, LAT, NYT missioned corporals and ser-geants, and their families. The White House believes it is unrealistic to try to change the Haitian military from the bottom up, a task that has been sources familiar with the ad-ministration's thinking. As a result, the administration is gambling that removal of Haiti's top military leadership would open the way for new, more cooperative senior officers to emerge, the sources said

"They're looking for oppor-unistic or right-thinking mili-tary leaders who will go along the Haitian military to a "group with an Aristide-type government or its equivalent, and hoping that the rest of the military will follow," one of the sources officers, or if there were, that they could overcome resistance from the rest of the Haitian armed forces. But the administration has few options, given the structure of the Haitian mil-

President Bill Clinton and his chief spokesmen have made a focus of their Haitian policy the need to remove the military troiks that leads the country: Lieutenant General Raoul Cadras, the commander in chief; Brigadier General Philippe Biamby, the army chief of staff; and Lientenant Colonel Michel François, the police chief of Port-an-Prince and the region's military commander. Mr. Chinton has threatened to oust the dictatorship if economic sanctions fail to do so. But the administration is "under no delusions that this leaders.

alone will solve the problem," a source close to the White House

R. James Woolsey Jr., director of central intelligence, bas bottom up, a task that has been stressed to Clinton policymak-attempted unsuccessfully by ers a "long-held" intelligence community view that "removen decades, according to ing these guys and reintroduc-sources familiar with the ading Aristide would not change the violence," an official said. Some of the CIA's past reporting on Haiti has caused controversy in Congress, particularly a report that was highly critical of Father Aristide. But the administration accepts the agency's views on the Haitian of quasi-organized extortion groups" that rule the countryside as they have done for years.

will follow," one of the sources

"It's fing of the hill in a violent system," he said. If Father
It is not clear there are such Aristide returns, this official added, "They fear for their lives

In a sign of the strength of the lower ranks, a senior U.S. intelligence official said General Cédras was "brought along" when the lower-ranking cadres revolted in 1991 against Father

Recognition of the makeup and important role of the Haitian military in that country's society, as portrayed in the CIA analyses, has vastly complicated planning to meet the current situation.

Given the intelligence assessment, the administration has refused so far to approve any new covert action by the CIA designed to buy off General Ceindirectly to use military force dras and the other two military leaders. There also is no current support for promotion of a military coup against the Haitian

The CASH MACHINE Instant printing T-shirts, coffeemugs, posters and much more.

$1,000 cash per day possible. Coffee-mug systems from $5,900, textile and 1-shirts systems from $9,900. Special backgrounds (stick photos) are stored in the computer and by combined with your cus age car. No strees selling invol and customers come prices for resolutes). KEMA Dept. EB1, Postfach 17 03 40, D-60077 Prophfur/Mein Tel. + 49-69-74 78 00 Telex 41 27 13 Telefex +49-69-75 29 74

AMERICAN TOPICS

Neglect the World of Religion Religion has been systematically neglected as a factor in international affairs, according to the Center for Strategic and International Studies, a Washington research institution

Why Experts of U.S. Statecraft

ed scholars and diplomatists These experts contend that policymakers diplomats, strategists and journalists focus on economic assets, military forces and social and political rivalries while scarcely noting the role of religion. When a Central Intelligence Agency analyst proposed an examina-tion of the leading religious leaders in Iran when the shah was still on the Peacock Throne, the idea was rejected as irrelevant

And so the ayatollahs went largely unnoticed. In "Religion: The Missing Dimension of Statecraft," a collection of studies that Oxford University Press will publish next month, the center's scholars say one reason religion is slighted in U.S. statecraft is the principle of the separation of church and state and the resulting tendency of American cul-ture to relegate religion to the realm of the

A second reason is the school of realism. which emphasizes the primacy in international relations of "national interest" defined in terms of power and material advantages rather than ideals.

Henry Kissinger's new book, "Diplomacy," a vast realist study of politics and diplomacy, contains no entry for religion, Christianity, Judaism or Islam. Nor does it contain any entry for Mohandas K. Gandhi, Martin Luther King Jr. or Pope John Paul II.

Short Takes

The Baltimore police department has installed a $10 million automated booking system to process the 70,000 arrests made each year. The system is designed to cut at least a half-hour from the time it takes to process each incoming prisoner, and to free at least 100 policemen for other duties. The computer retrieves criminal records, tells jailers if prisoners are violent, HIV-positive or suicidal, and takes a video mug shot. Prisoners are electronically fingerprinted by rolling their fingertips across a glass screen. The computer then checks for previous prints.

A bucket full of water and ice cubes is the fastest way to chill a bottle of wine, Frank J. Prial notes in The New York Times. It can take three times as long if the water is omitted - and longer than that if the wine is simply put in the refrigerator's freezer compartment.
"Air is a poor conductor of heat," Mr. Prial space around the bottle is taken up by air. It's a common error. Many waiters never bother to add water to an ice bucket. Some insist it's not necessary. It is."

Another New York Times writer, Dan

Shaw, notes somewhat sadly that the standard greeting on the New York party circuit. which saves the greeter from remembering whether he or she has met the person greeted before, is "Nice to see you" instead of "Nice to meet you" or "How do you do?" This obviates the possibility of a faux pas but makes people sound like politicians trying to win your favor, which, in a way, many of them Cats that fall five to nine stories are often killed or seriously injured, while cats that fall farther often emerge barely harmed, according to a study conducted by New York's Animal Medical Center and New York University. The veterinarians and physicists found that the average cat reaches a "terminal velocity" of 60 miles (100 kilometers) per hour at five stories; from then on, it falls no faster. But after nine stories, cats manage to get into a position that somehow cushions the impact of landing.

Back in 1908, Fred Tenney, a first baseman for the New York Giants, stole second base in a game against the St. Louis Cardinals. Then, impudently, he ran back to first on the next pitch. On the following pitch he again stole second. The umpires huddled but could find no rule prohibiting a steal in reverse. Reverse stealing subsequently was declared illegal. International Herald Tribune.

CONFERENCES, COURSES AND EXHIBITIONS

JULY 27-31

World Congress ~ Evolution of Psychotherapy The leading clinicians - The relevant approaches - One conference

Aaron Beck, M.D.
Albert Ellis, Ph. D.
Viktor Frankl, M.D., Ph.D.
Eugene Gendlin, Ph.D.
William Glasser, M.D.
Mary Goulding, M.S.W.
Klaus Grawe, Ph.D.
Jay Haley, M.A.
James Hillman, Ph.D.
Otto Kembere, M.D. Otto Kemberg, M.D

CHICAGO

Amold Lazarus, Ph.D. Alexander Lowen, M.D. Cloé Madanes, Lic. Psych. Judd Marmor, M.D. William Master, M D james Masterson, M.D. Donald Meichenbaum, Ph.D. Adolf Ernst Meyer, M.D., Ph.D. Salvador Minuchin, M.D. Mara Selvini Palazzoli, M.D.

Erving Polster, Ph D. Minam Polster, Ph.D. Ernest Rossi, Ph D. Heim Stierlin, M D , Ph.D. Paul Watzlawick Ph.D. Joseph Wolpe, M.D. Iry Yalom, M.D. Jeffrey Zeig, Ph. D.

PARIS

Information and Registration. M.E.T. Psychotherapie Tagungs GmbH, Bernhard Trenkle, Dipl. Psych Bahnhofstr. 4, D-78628 Pottweil, Germany. Tel: +49-741-41774; Fax: +49-741-41773

ORLANDO, FLORIDA, USA

| | HAMBURG | |
|---|--|---|
| JULY 22-25 | OCTOBER 17-20 | FEB. 16-18 |
| International Craft Exposition Business opportunities abound! Honored by Tradeshow Week as one of the largest trade shows, this show offers buyers from around the world a unique opportunity to see the best this Industry has to offer in art. cash, floral, framing, miniatures, party, notions and needlework supplies, 2,000 exhibits and more than 200 hours of education from the industry's top leaders. Contact: Offinger Management Co. ACCI - Association of Crafts & Creative Industries. Tel.: 614-452-4541 - Fax: 614-452 2572 | The American Dieteric Association (ADA) ADA's 7th Amual meeting and Euthborn will address the changing dynamics of lookiy's health | Societies in Crisis and Mental Health Leading European psychiatrists, psychologists, economists and socialogists will examine the mental health effects on society of Unemployment, immigration and Violence Sponsored by European Social Mentations Social International Social Organizations Conference organizers seek socially sware Companies to develop symposia illustrating their efforts to help solve these problems Contact: Mercurre Communication International. Tel.: 133-11 42 99 17 70 Fax: 133-11 45 63 25 68 |

| n I |) P | Netherlands | R | 770 | #6.7 | 420 | 230 | | |
|----------|---|---|----------|---------------|----------------|--------|--------|--|--|
| īΙ | Saving | Norsey | N.kr. | 3,500 | 36 | 1,900 | 1,050 | | |
| 1 | اعد ا | Partugal | Esc | 47.000 | 389  | 26,000 | 14,000 | | |
| - 1 | 8 | Spein | Ptes | 48,000 | 36 : | 26.500 | 14,500 | | |
| e d | i Œ | - hand delay, Medrid | Ptes | 55,000 | - 24 | 27,500 | 14,500 | | |
| - ; | Subscription | Sweden (sirmail) | S.Kr. | 3,100 | 24 | 1,700 | 900 | | |
| e | 5 | - hand delivery | S.Kr. | 3,500 | 26 : | 1.900 | 1,000 | | |
| - 1 | 18 | Settrectand | S Ft | 610 | 24 | 335 | 185 | | |
| , |) | Rest of Europe ex CEI | - 2 | 485 | C | 265 | 145 | | |
| | | CEI, N. Africa, former French African, Woldie East | s | 530 | 7; | 345 | 190 | | |
| | } | Gulf Status, Assa, Central and South America | s | 780 | | 430 | 235 | | |
| | [| Rest of Africa | $ | 900 | | 495 | 270 | | |
| | * For information concerning hand-delivery in major German close cell toll tree IHT Germany at 0130-0486 $5 or tax (060) 175.413 Under German regulations. a 2-weet free period by grated for all new orders. Yes, I want to start receiving the IHT. This is the subscription term 1 pt (check appropriate boxes): | | | | | | | | |
| | | | | | | | | | |
| Į | | 🔲 12 months (364 | 1 issue | s in all with | n 52 banus i | ssues) | 1-7-94 | | |
| | 1 | | | | | | 7 | | |
| į | ĺ | 6 months (182 issues in all with 26 bonus issues). | | | | | | | |
| ı | 3 months (9) issues in all with 13 bonus issues). My check is enclosed (payable to the International Herald Tribune | | | | | | | | |
| ļ | | | | | | | | | |
| | | | | | | | | | |

Credit card charges will be made in French Francs at current exchange rates.

Please charge my:
American Express Diners Club
VISA

MasterCard
Eurocard
Access

_SIGNATURE.__ EXP. DATE FOR BUSINESS ORDERS, PLEASE INDICATE YOUR VAI NUMBER: (IHT VAT number: FR747320211261)

Mr. Mrs (I) Mrs FAMILY NAME

PERMANENT ADDRESS:

HOME

BUSINESS

Return your completed coupon to: Subscription Manager, HT, 181 Avenue Charles-de-Goulle, 92521 Neurly Cedex, Fra Fax: 33.1.46 37 06 51 - Tel: 33.1.46 37 93 61 This offer expires August 31, 1994, and is available to new subscribers only. A

FAX.

Herald Eribune

'Great Leader' Ruled Alone

Kim Il Sung Made All Decisions, Including a Costly War

By David E. Sanger New York Times Service

TOKYO - Kim II Sung, the man who launched the Korean War, leading to the deaths of hundreds of thousands, is dead.

The official North Korean press agency, KCNA, issued a seven-page amouncement of President Kim's death, stressing that he would be remembered as a man capable of "creating something from nothing." "He turned our country where age-old backwardness and poverty had prevailed into a powerful Socialist country, independent, self-supporting and self-reliant," the statement said. It called him the "sun of the "Great Leader," is reported to have collapsed with a heart attack Thursday. He died early Friday, according to a broadcast by Pyongyang radio.

The news agency said his son and heir apparent, Kim Jong II, would direct the funeral of his

Mr. Kim, who was North Korea's leader since 1945, was last seen, apparently healthy, during talks June 15-16 with Presi-

Death Is a Blow

To U.S. Initiative

On Nuclear Arms

Los Ángeles Times Service

GENEVA — The death of President Kim Il Sung could not have come at a worse time for the United States in its efforts to stop North Korea from acquiring nuclear weapons.

It means that the leadership in Pyongyang will be struggling to sort out its internal politics over the next crucial months, just when North Korea is facing major decisions about the future of its nuclear program, about the disposal of highly radioactive nuclear fuel and, more generally, about its relations with the rost of the world.

If Mr. Kim's eldest son, Kim Jong II, emerges in control in Pyongyang, he will usher in the world's first Communist dynasty. No other Communist leader ever passed on power from parent to child. At the very least, that means months of

NEWS ANALYSIS

"Even if Kim Jong Il takes the reins of power, we won't know for a while how solid his leadership is or whether he will last," said Leonard Spector, a nuclear specialist at the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. "Clearly, there's a faction in Pyongyang that wants to push this forward," he added, referring to North Korea's nuclear weapons program.

And so it may be one of history's unending ironies that Mr.

When President Bill Clinton, at the Group of Seven ecolences" to the people of North Korea, it was more than mere politeness. The North Korean leader, who has been viewed since the beginning of the Cold War as one of America's leading adversaries, became in his final days the man with whom U.S. policymakers hoped to make a deal.

True, Mr. Kim had fought one bloody war against the United States and its South Korean allies and opposed U.S.

policy in Asia for more than four decades. But he was considered the only one in Pyongyang with the unchallenge-able authority needed to cut off North Korea's developing nuclear weapons program before it destabilized all of East in the region, Japan and South Korea, now find themselves in:

Consider the plight the United States and its principal allies

• Talks in Geneva between the United States and North

Korea about the nuclear program were temporarily halted

Saturday, a day after they had started. North Korean negotiators apparently found out about Mr. Kim's death when a U.S.

official woke up one of his counterparts in the early morning

• Even if the talks start up again, they may not go anywhere for a while. Mr. Kim's death means that North Korea could well have either erratic leadership under Kim Jong II or an unstable or paralyzed leadership over the next few months.

• Meanwhile, thousands of highly radioactive nuclear fuel rods are cooling off in pools alongside North Korea's 25-megawatt nuclear reactor at Yongbyon. Something has to be done with them within the next few months before they begin to corrode. If arrangements are not made for the disposal of this spent fuel, as the United States hopes to do in the Geneva talks, then the rods could well be turned into weapons-grade

• Even if the immediate crisis involving the fuel rods is resolved, the new North Korean leadership will have to be persuaded to give up its other nuclear installations, including a reprocessing plant and a 200-megawatt reactor now under construction at Yongbyon, which could produce enough

In the face of these gloomy prospects, what hope does the Clinton administration have for peacefully defusing the

First, it is at least theoretically possible that Kim Jong II may turn out to be something less than the demon that Western intelligence agencies have depicted.

A second possibility for a peaceful resolution of the nuclear crisis is that someone else in Pyongyang may take over the reins of power. This scenario, however, carries its own dangers. Korean history is full of examples of bloody power plutonium at North Korea's reprocessing plant.

photonium for eight to 10 nuclear weapons a year.

North Korean crisis?

struggies and cours.

hours and told him to turn on CNN.

Kim's death is being greeted by the United States with more relations with the rest of the world.

uncertainty for the United States.

than a little regret.

nuclear program in return for confidence of the North Kore-restarting high-level talks with an military. the United States over an end to

Mr. Carter said last week that Mr. Kim told him at the time that he planned to "remain active for the next 10 years."

For half a century, North Korea has been essentially a family business headed by Kim Il Sung, whose image is cap-tured in monuments in every town and who is credited, in the national mythology and in song, with the country's creation and development.

His cult of personality is everywhere, celebrated in "mass games" on his birthday that in-volve hundreds of thousands, Mr. Kim, 82, revered volve hundreds of thousands, and in the everyday invocation of his philosophy of juche, or national self-reliance.

Years ago, in an attempt to create something of a Stalinist dynasty, Mr. Kim designated his son, known as the "Dear London" on his symmetry Leader." as his successor.

But there have been persistent doubts over whether the younger Mr. Kim, a reclusive and deeply mysterious man who, according to Western indent Jimmy Carter in which he agreed to freeze North Korea's mentally stable, would win the Many analysts have speculatthe country's five-decade-long ed that the death of the elder Mr. Kim would touch off a power struggle and perhaps a crumbling of the country's Communist government.

But such a process could take years. There is little understanding of the country's leadership elite beyond the elder Mr. Kim, who has been widely regarded as the only man able to make major decisions for the With the nation's economy shrinking and its factories grinding to a halt, Mr. Kim's Paradise on Earth," as his propaganda machine calls it, seems headed toward collapse.

Its nuclear program, which may or may not have already succeeded in producing one or two weapons, has in the past two years become the biggest security crisis in Asia. Mr. Kim was installed by

Stalin shortly after the end of World War IL

Born on the outskirts of Pyongyang, in a thatch house that is visited daily by thousands of North Koreans, he spent nearly 20 years of his youth in Manchuria, the North Korean border areas and the Soviet Union as a guerrilla fighter against the Japane Shortly after the official creation of the Democratic Peoples' Republic of Korea in 1948, he consolidated his power.

He launched the Korean War in 1950, in a blitzkrieg attack that took Washington and Seoul by total surprise. His goal, he said, was to reunite the Korean Peninsula, and it took three years to fight to an armi-

Since then the Demilitarized Zone dividing North and South has been the most heavilyarmed outpost of the Cold War, and 36,000 American troops are still stationed near it.

For years it appeared that his country would be the stronger of the two Koreas: It had all the raw materials and, until the early 1960s, a healthier economy. But that reversed as the capitalist South, with aid from the United States and Japan and a population of 42 million — compared to 22 million in the North - surged ahead as a producer of steel, cars and semiconductors.

The North, diplomatically isolated, went into slow decline, increasingly dependent on China and the Soviet Union for oil and critical industrial goods.

Its own industrial base was left over from the Japanese occupation, save for some major projects that President Kim was credited with directing with "on the spot guidance."

War, however, Mr. Kim was quickly abandoned by his allies. Russia embraced the South, eager for its aid and technological China also opened relations with Seoul, and Mr. Kim, on periodic trips to Beijing, was greeted with airport signs for Samsung, the huge South Korean conglomerate. Recently, South Korea's leaders began visiting Moscow and Beijing regularly. To save his regime, Mr. Kim turned to the nuclear option. He developed a small reactor at Yongbyon, a heavily guarded military installation north of the capital, into a sprawling nuclear complex.

While he signed the Nuclear Nonproliferation Treaty in 1985, he refused to allow inspectors into his country until two years ago. And since that time, he has conducted an increasingly tense cat-and-mouse game with the United Nations and the United States, keeping inspectors at bay.

Kim Il Sung, left, the North Korean leader who died Friday, and his son, Khu Jong II, shown in a 1992 photograph.

Kim's Son: Bizarre Tales but Few Facts

By Andrew Pollack New York Times Service

TOKYO — Kim Jong II, the man who is expected to be the next leader of North Korea, has been described as a ruthless terrorist, a spoiled playboy and an erratic manager who will have trouble keep-ing control of his country. But perhaps the only thing that can be said with certainty about him is that very little is known about him.

Most foreign visitors to North Korea, including former President Jimmy Carter on his recent trip, have been turned down when they asked to meet Kim Jong II, 52, who has been groomed for two decades to take over from his father, Kim Il Sung, who died Priday.

They are generally told that he is out in the villages working with peasants or that it would be impolite for Mr. Kim to upstage his father.

Even North Koreans, while worship-ing the younger Kim as the "Dear Lead-er" and putting propulation er" and putting pictures of him in their homes, had never heard his voice until two years ago.

Some analysts say that Mr. Kim has had effective day-to-day control of the government for about two years.

He was suspected of being behind North Korea's move last year to withdraw from the Nuclear Nonproliferation Treaty, which precipitated the long-running crisis. If that was the case, he might make the back-running crisis. If that was the case, he might make the back-running crisis. not be amenable to giving up the nation's reputed attempts to develop nuclear

But Selig Harrison, senior associate at the Carnegie Endowment for Interna-tional Peace, said that he believed Mr. Kim is interested in gradually opening North Korea to foreign investment and "People who are close to Kim Jong II are generally what you would call the reformist element in North Korea," Mr. Harrison said. If he does assume power, it is a big question how long he can keep it. Mr. Kim is usually described as erratic and impulsive and far less capable than his father, who ruled North Korea for half a

Pudgy and bespectacled, he is also considered less charismatic than his fa-

"Kim Jong Il does not have the back-ing of the North Korean military be-cause he does not have a military background," said Ra Jong Yil, a professor at Kyung Hee University in Scoul.

But some analysts think Mr. Kim might be given a chance to run the country, although he might have to share some power with other groups.

Mr. Kim was born on Feb. 16, 1942, probably in the Soviet Union, where his father was fighting with the Soviet Army. Perhaps because it is not fitting for a nation's leader to have been born abroad, the official North Korean biography says Mr. Kim was born in a secret camp of anti-Japanese guarnilas on Mount Packdn, a sacred mountain in North Korea.

Kim Jong Il's stepmother, Kim Song Ae, who attended some of the meetings between Kim II Sung and former Presi-dent Carter, is viewed as the younger Kim's rival for power.

China Set To Appoint Hong Kong 4 Executive

Agence France-Press HONG KONG - China plans to appoint a shadow chief executive for Hong Kong who would be ready to take over immediately on July 1, 1997 and replace the colony's senior civil servants with Beijing-approved appointees, according to Foreign Minister Qian Qichen of China.

The new chief executive apparently would assume the duties of the colony's British-ap-

Mr. Qian said Beijing's pre-paratory committee agreed that only "leading officials" of the Hong Kong bureancracy would be replaced, and that a new chief executive must be selected before the 1997 tumover.

"Civil servants will play an important role in the transfer of power and smooth transition," Mr. Qian said, according to the official Xinhua news agency.

He added that the colony's existing laws would remain "basically unchanged."

The civil service will guarantee a smooth transition as the territory reverts to Beijing's control in 1997, said Mr. Qian, who heads a select group preparing the framework for the Hong Kong Special Adminis-trative Region. He said Saturday that "our own efforts" will ensure an orderly turnover from the British, Xinhua reported.

"So long as China is prosper-ing, Hong Kong's stability will have a reliable guarantee, which will create good conditions for the transfer of power and smooth transition," he said. The Chinese economy has posted the world's highest economic growth rates in recent years, with zones near Hong Kong leading the charge. Mr. Qian, speaking after a plenary session of the preparatory committee, reiterated Beijing's stand that Hong Kong should gradually develop a democratic political system in line with its specific conditions. He said it was "necessary and reasonable" to encourage the return of Hong Kong residents who have moved abroad.

KOREA: Pyongyang Summons Leaders for a Mass Meeting on Monday

Continued from Page 1

Chosun Ilbo. "However, once the father is buried, he will no longer be able to control history. History will record that Kim official commentary was re- unpredictable North during a served, despite the fact that period of uncertainty.

Kim Il Sung caused the deaths South over the decades

South Korea's government urged its citizens not to do any-South Korea was calm and thing that might provoke the of millions of Koreans when he sands headed out by car and scheduled for July 25 to be launched the Korean War, and ordered countless guerrilla and terrorist attacks against the to the hills near the border with Kim Young Sam of South Ko-North Korea so that they could rea said he hoped the meeting glance into the other Korean would go ahead, and that he

South Koreans by the thou- summit meeting that had been would be willing to meet Kim. Jong II or any other kender des-

Christopher Is Set To Meet With Hanoi Official

Warren M. Christopher is scheduled to meet with the «Victnamese foreign minister in South Korean officials said, isnated by the Northsto attende Bangkok this month, according they expected the North-South the session.

Bangkok this month, according to senior Vietnamese officials. The meeting would be the first victory in Vietnam in 1975.

Deputy Foreign Minister Le Mai, who oversees relations with the United States, declined to confirm formally that the meeting was set. But he said in an interview, "I think there is a high possibility."

Mr. Christopher and Foreign Minister Nguyen Manh Camh of Vietnam will be in the Thai capital to attend talks among 18 nations on security matters after the annual foreign ministers' meeting of the Association of South East Asian Nations.

~2.

₽- :

20

The high-level Victnamese-

REACTION: U.S. Stresses Need for Vigilance Amid Uncertainty in Korea ment when a senior official acknowledged would have to give up their nuclear inten-

The nuclear issue is at the center of a long crisis that recently-revived talks in Geneva between the United States and North Korea were intended to resolve.

It also is a question that preoccupies the broader international community, as was shown Sunday by the Group of Seven industrial democracies in a joint statement at the end of their annual summit meeting

The seven, joined by Russia, urged North Korea to restore international safeguards and to "provide total transparency in its nuclear program through full and unconditional compliance with its nonproliferation obligations."

The leaders specifically demanded that North Korea maintain "the freeze on its nuclear program, including no reprocess-ing spent fuel or reloading its nuclear reac-tors."

The G-7 statement appealed for negotiations with the United States, which were suspended in Geneva on Friday after news that Mr. Kim died, to continue as soon as possible. The statement also called for a meeting between the leaders of North and South Korea to proceed as scheduled.

The planned North-South summit conference and the Geneva meeting resulted from talks in Pyongyang last month between President Kim and former President Jimmy Carter of the United States.

Speaking to reporters in Naples on Saturday, President Bill Clinton said North Korea had indicated to the South that the first meeting ever between leaders of the divided peninsula would go ahead as planned on July 25. But on Sunday the White House backed away from that state-that there had been "no formal contact between North and South." Many analysts agree that the younger Mr. Kim has long been the principal figure in charge of his country's miclear activi-ties, including an alleged decision to produce enough plutonium from 1989 to 1992 for one to two nuclear weapons: He also is said to have defied United Nations threats of economic sanctions by approving the withdrawal, without international observation, of fuel rods from a nuclear reactor.

Assistant Secretary of State Robert L. Gallucci, referring to the nuclear issue in a television interview on Sunday said:
"There is a great deal of uncertainty about exactly what course North Korea will follow in the future. But we do have reason to believe there will be a basis of continuity

U.S. meeting was arranged during a visit to Hanoi earlier this month by Assistant Secretary of State Winston Lord and Hershel W. Gober, the deputy secon this issue." (AP, WP, Reuters, APP) retary of veterans affairs.

対し、ビーナン シェン・デール

TEENS: U.S. Youths Face Adult Problems in Worlds That Don't Meet

Continued from Page 1

unavailable to me because her job sometimes sends her away for a week at a time," said Cristina Smith, a 16-year-old from Chicago. But if there was anything I needed, I could just ask her for it. I feel close to my parents. That's why I feel I can talk to them about anything. I get a lot of attention.'

Many teenagers described life across a divide from their ferred the company of their come from adults. families. These lives apart are shaped partly by a natural pull less mature, more likely to act toward their friends and partly by a fear of telling their parents what they really do and think. If teenagers see in one anoth-

COUNTRIES

They saw other teenagers as on impulse and more susceptible to group pressure. Many teenagers, even those living in affluent areas, said that er their greatest solace, they they worned about violence also see peers as the greatest and that some students in their menace. Most teenagers polled schools carried guns. said other teenagers were far Violence looms far larger in parents. While 30 percent said more likely than adults to com-they most enjoyed being with mit crimes against them; only a white ones. The black teenagers than their friends, just 3 percent pre-few said that danger would polled were more likely to fear crime and to be victims of crime than white teenagers. A total of 70 percent of black teenagers knew someone who had been shot in the past five years, compared with 31 percent of whites.

COUNTRIES

> Read THE MONEY REPORT every Solunday in the IHT

> > COUNTRIES

ACCESS NUMBERS

For investment information

Questions Raised on Death Of North Korean Leader

SEOUL - Observers of North Korea said that while the official cause of Kim Il Sung's death at 82 was heart failure, foul play could not be ruled out.

"It's probably most likely this was a heart attack," said Kim Chang Soon, director of South Korea's Institute for North Korean Studies. One suspicious point is North Korea's statement that no foreigness will be allowed to attend the funeral," something unimaginable for a man who loved foreign visitors, he said.

ACCESS NUMBERS CALLING ONE FOREIGN COUNTRY COUNTRIES ACCESS.NUMBERS AFRICA 05017-1-877 01-800-0677 8-075-155-6133 Dominios kancies (~ kancies + AMERICAS 155-4123 001-800-777-1111 172-1277 St. Lucie A St. Lucie Triodad & Tobage 23 EUROPE 1-800-877-9000 071-11-0014 172-1477 00-800-1010 080-900-01 MIDDLE EAST THESE SIMPLE ACCESS 800-13I 135-4777 -- 64-197 CARIBBEAN #Q 1-800-366-4663 💗 Sprint WorldCopUSA94 智軟 置(中国・中)で、中国は、American Antonia (Colon) (Colon

ACCESS NUMBERS

hina Se

Executive

 $\omega_{-2m} = \frac{1}{2}\omega$

4.3

: •

7100 F.

 $\mathbf{v}:=\{v_{i,j},v_{i,j}\}$

Sideshow at G-7: Hunt for EU Chief

NAPLES - The leaders of the European Union's four biggest powers - Germany, France, Italy and Britain -engaged in frenetic but fruitless consultations during the Group of Seven summit meeting here as they struggled to come up with a successor to Jacques De-lors, the outgoing president of the European Commission.

The scramble for a new president — the topic of bilateral conversations at the margins of the gathering - was said by government officials to have failed to produce satisfactory

The matter is increasingly urgent because Chancellor Helmut Kohl of Germany has called a special summit meeting of EU leaders on July 15 in Brussels to decide on a successor. Mr. Kohl scheduled the Brussels meeting after Prime Minister John Major of Britain vetoed the French-German choice of the Belgian prime minister, Jean-Luc Dehaene. during last month's EU meeting in Corfu, Greece.

Time is running out but evcrything is still up in the air." said a senior European official. He and other officials said Mr. Kohl was disappointed that Prime Minister Felipe González of Spain, a longtime favorite, had ruled himself out. Shortly after the Corfu debacle, the two declared candidates for the succession — Sir Leon Brittan, the EU trade commissioner, and Rund Lubbers, the Dutch orime minister - withdrew their names from consid-

The names being most fre-

TRANSLATING L.A.:

$21. Norton.

A Tour of the Rainbow City

By Peter Theroux. 271 pages.

Reviewed by Carolyn See

DETER THEROUX likes

where everything is a mess, that look like "a towering (and sprawling) Babel of Indian barbers, Swiss bankers, Thai nannies, Filipino chauffeurs, American military advisors, Korean construction workers, and tens of thousands of other quacking, sunburned, homesick, menacing, money hungry, constantly carping infidels.

Theroux more thoroughly for Los Angeles, where those 92 languages are spoken and where each cultural group is

• Geoffrey Hyatt, a manage-ment consultant in Russia with The Boston Consulting Group, is reading "Private Parts," by

"For Americans abroad, it helps to keep in touch with the culture back in the States. At the same time, it amuses, entertains and disgusts — and it can be read in three hours. Freud would have loved it!"

(K. N. Cukier, IHT)

CENTENNIA ...

A detailed, carengraphic guide to the history of Europe and the Middle East from the year 1000AD

I dozen empires from the medicval Byzantine to the modern Soviet. From Normandy to Bosnia to Palestine, Centennia puta today's headlines in histurical perspective. Includes detailed text explaining events as they occur on screen, indexes of people, places, and events are linked directly to the maps. For IBM-PCs and compatibles with EGA or VGA graphics (formerly marketed as "Millennius").

(312)281-3132 Fax:(312)327-44/12

to the present (with frequent updates). Centennia's maps evolve dynamically. Watch the rise and fall of yadh, capital of Sandi Arabia, start by getting you moving. I re Theroux lived before he want to get you touching. Let it went to California. In "L.A." he out. Come on. I want everybody notes that his new hometown is up. Some of the translators, waster than the Sahara, a many of whom were very old looking at cities in change,

g an inger

quently mentioned here were those of Giuliano Amato, the former Socialist prime minister of Italy, and Jacques Santer, the prime minister of Luxembourg.

Mr. Amato, who is respected for his intellect, is said to have the backing of Britain, but that counts for little as most other EU leaders are still angry at Mr. Major's veto of Mr. Dehaene.

The government of Italy's prime minister, Silvio Berlusconi, meanwhile has made it clear that Mr. Amato is not its official candidate. "Others may like him, but Mr. Amato is an opponent of the Berlusconi government," an Italian official

Peter Sutherland, the outgoing director-general of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, is still considered a possible last-ditch compromise candidate for the European Commission presidency, but he does not have the support of the government of his native Ire-

Cabinet ministers from two Enropean governments — both of whom insisted they not be named - said there was little genuine enthusiasm for Mr. Santer, although Chancellor Kohl is said to be fond of him. "Kohl likes the idea of Santer because he is weak, from a small country, and can be pushed around," said one minister. The second disparaged the idea of a politician from Luxembourg heading the European Commission. "What is Luxembourg? It is not a country. It is tens. He's the most amiable of guides -a kind of Christopher Isherwood with a dazzlingly nice disposition. He hangs out, moseys around, translates L.A.

the giddy joy that make people who love L.A. really love it.

Theroux sets out with a Middle Eastern buddy and drives up the Pacific Coast Highway to a translating conference in Malibu. His buddy has insisted they bring bathing suits and towels in case the conference gets too awful, and it soon does.

BOOKS

An opening essay, "Translat-ing L.A.," can truly be said to agenda followed. He sees those capture the spirit, the attitude, several days as a rush for Pam-their skin."

ple," he remarked.

Q&A: Melding the Markets Into Political Life

The annual economic summit of the Group of Seven industrialized nations ended on Sunday in Naples. Accompanying President Bill Clinton was Robert Rubin, the former co-chairman of Goldman Sachs who serves as the president's assistant for economic policy. He discussed financial markets, and domestic and international economic issues with Alan Friedman of the International Herald Tribune.

Q. In your view, what were the key accomplishments here in Naples? A. The most important thing is that the combination of last year's Tokyo summit; the recent G-7 jobs conference in Detroit and this summit has helped us to re-energize the G-7 and to broaden its focus. And looking to next year's summit in Halifax, we are now examining the kind of world economy we will want to see after the year 2000. O. There has been much discussion here in Naples of the weak dollar and of financial markets in general. Has your perspective on markets changed, coming from Wall Street to the White

A. I don't think my understanding of markets has changed. What has struck me is that over the last five years the financial markets have changed enormously. They have become more global, increased vastly in size and invented a panoply of new instruments such as derivatives.

Q. And how has that change affected policymakers?

A. The markets have become much more relevant to economic life. Most people in political life are not very knowledgeable about the workings of financial markets. I suspect that poliucians and government leaders in years to come will know a lot more about markets because markets are much more important to their lives.

Q. Given the recent turbulence in bond and currency markets, what is the best advice you can give President Clinton now?

A. I think the best thing is for him to be focused, concerned, serious and to deal with long-term issues of the economy. And that's what he is doing. There should be a real concern about currency fluctuations, but the longterm fundamentals are right.

Q. How do you analyze the way bond markets have forced up longterm interest rates?

A. For a long time the rates were affected by deficits, which caused inflationary expectations. Once the markets saw what we did to tackle the deficit, that factor was taken out of the bond market. Over time I think long-term rates will fluctuate with

Q. Are U.S. long-term interest rates currently too high?
A. Maybe. It's hard to tell.

O. European leaders are worried that their high long-term rates could threaten recovery. Are European rates too high?

A. It strikes me that European longterm rates are too high. Q. Are governments progressively ceding control of economic policy to A. I don't think they are ceding control, but I think markets are globalized and have increased vastly in size and as a consequence it is more difficult for governments to affect

Q. Are you frustrated by that phe-A. Not really.

Q. Here in Naples, G-7 leaders have pledged to get the GATT accord ratified by the end of the year. How confident are you that this will happen in the United States?

A. The probabilities are high but it's not certain.

Q. What are the potential obstacles to ratification?

A. There is the funding problem. We have to come up with spending cuts and revenue increases to make up for about $10.5 billion of tariff cuts. And those moves will be announced when we get agreement on Capitol Hill. The second problem is making sure we have fast-track authority to negotiate future treaties, which is attached to the GATT ratification and

Q. What are your top priorities back in Washington?

A. Health care is one. The polls are consistently showing that 70 percent of the American people want universal coverage. The president wants it as a social objective and as an economic objective.

Q. Realistically, can some form of a health care package be approved this

A. With 70 percent of the people saying they want it, I think Congress will not want to go to the voters this November without a health care pack-

Q. What are your other priorities? A. We need the Re-Employment Act passed, plus we need new schools legislation and more of a focus on inner cities, on the problems of the urban poor, or what are sometimes called the underclass.

O. You have also worked on China issues, and the recent decision to renew most-favored-nation status for Beijing despite its human rights violations. Has President Clinton now swapped the moral high ground for

A. The highest-growth part of the world is likely to be Asia, and China is likely to be the largest economy in the world a few decades out, so the president feels that engagement will serve as the best strategy.

is very important to us.

G-7: Despite Push From Clinton, Yeltsin Balks at Pullout of All Russian Troops From Baltics Continued from Page 1

leaders, along with Mr. Yeltsin, called upon the warring parties in Bosnia to accept within nine days a map that spells out the three streets and 400,000 peodivision of their territory.

translates and tutors and lis- fact that everything got under blazed with self-pity and self-

Theroux makes light of the recent L.A. riot. He calls it a "consumer uprising" and points out that no political pers and television sets, an event pushed far out of proportion by the repetitious electron-

He saves his real indignation for Chicano hunger strikers at

UCLA, smashing windows at in Aztec garb, all for a separate Chicano studies department at ic nagging of television.

there would explode anew and on an even wider scale.

In their joint communiqué, they urged whatever regime They warned that a failure to succeeds Kim Il Sung's in the more than reaffirm their pre-love." Theroux knows what he knows: "One-issue nationalism was perfectly idiotic to anyone who knew the Third World -- all nationalism was destructive.

even the low-stakes academic

So what's the answer to those quacking, sunburned" subcultures grabbing for money, at-tention, love, the whole California dream? Theroux would say:

Listen to one another. And when it gets too unbearable, head out for the "hospital" at Muslims would raise the "grave and for all, the suspicions sur-risk" that war between them rounding its nuclear activities." during the day, Mr. Yeltsin er said in taking his protests urged all seven Western leaders public.

As they expanded their conclave to include Russia as an equal partner, however, the great powers' statement did lit--ALAN FRIEDMAN do so by the Serbs or Bosnian North Korea "to remove, once vious stances on those issues.

> As presented by Prime Minister Silvio Berlusconi of Italy, the bost of this year's gathering, it left unstated and still not agreed upon how the parties in Bosnia and North Korea should be punished if the West's demands are defied.

And while the G-7 leaders also joined in calling upon Haiti's military leaders to surrender their power, U.S. and European officials said that the reluctance of France had prevented the leaders from giving an openended endorsement to efforts to overthrow them.

The dispute over the Baltics was not the only one to divide Moscow and the West in Sunday's meetings, held in the 17thcentury Palazzo Reale. Twice and then Mr. Clinton alone to relax Cold War-era trade barri- known as COCOM, that estab-

The Western institution, ers that still deny Russia access lished those restrictions expired to certain high-technology last March 31 in recognition of the Cold War's end. But the "We're saying, let's give us West has yet to agree upon a equal rights," the Russian lead-

Japanese Leader Misses Day at Talks Due to Illness

NAPLES - Prime Minister Tomiichi Murayama of Japan rejoined the Group of Seven summit meeting Sunday for a final day of political business after missing a day because of stomach problems.

Looking healthy and upbeat, Mr. Murayama, 70, joined his six fellow G-7 leaders as they posed with President Boris N. Yeltsin for a photo. Television footage later showed Mr. Murayama seated at the leaders' table, smiling broadly and chatting.

He was hospitalized Friday night after he became ill during a state dinner. Doctors said he suffered from dehydration and an intestinal ailment.

CLINTON: Baffling Switches

Page 5

Continued from Page 1 worried about Mr. Clinton's image as a weak and erratic statesman.

"He arrived here as the leader of the world's only superpower, caught up in crises with tiny countries like Haiti and North Korea," a British official said. Then this kind of embarrassment comes along, and it only compounds the problem."

But European allies have always found reason to complain about Washington's lead, whether it is too forcible or too flexible. When a U.S. president fails to consult his European peers on any number of issues. he is often criticized for disregarding allied views and acting in an arrogant manner. But if he goes around seeking advice in various capitals, he can be lambasted as feckless and indeci-

Ironically, European governments have welcomed several of Mr. Clinton's most public policy reversals because the shifts moved the U.S. position closer to theirs and averted the danger of a rift in the alliance.

During the endgame phase of world trade negotiations that had languished nearly seven years, France threatened to veto an agreement if it eliminated subsidies for its farmers or filmmakers, Mr. Clinton intervened just days ahead of the Dec. 15 deadline and effectively caved in to the French position. His concessions were praised for salvaging a trade pact whose demise could have damaged prospects for world economic recovery.

Mr. Clinton's action here, in calling for a fresh review of world trade barriers, appeared designed to broach such issues as telecommunications, financial services and aviation that were dropped from the last trade round to secure a deal. But the allies were unprepared to accept a new round of trade

Guinea-Bissau Vote Results

BISSAU, Guinea-Bissau ---The governing African Independence Party of Guinea and Cape Verde has retained a majority in the legislature, according to full provisional results of the country's first multiparty elections released on Sunday. But President João Bernardo Vicira failed to win an outright majority and must face the opposition candidate, Kumba Yala, in a runoff.

11-7-94

carping infidels. A consciousness raiser from the university. He's scandalized. Carolyn See reviews books: And, yes, this could be a description of L.A., But it's Riupl Don't sit down. I want to smiles at their near-martyrdom Post.

the faculty center and dancing Zuma Beach and catch some whole flat planet with a Venu-sian veil of smog. Ninety-two Theroux writes, but the dreaded Theroux writes, but the dreaded languages are spoken in its school system." And Theroux special facilitator is interrupted by an urgent message: "Which of you is Peter Theroux? Could you please take Mr. Daryush to Zuma Hospitai?" And the two Carefree guys spend the rest of Theroux more thoroughly for carefree guys spend the rest of the sunny afternoon at Zunaa Beach handing out lemons to blondes so that they can keep their hair light and bright. rapidly getting more and more put out with the other 91. And if LA. by now seems overpublished by now cized, overseen (by zealous re-porters and repetitive television might not be tolerated from a more "serious" pundit. He sound bites), Theroux gloms knows that to live in a multicultural society, moderation is es-sential. As an adult literacy tu-tor, he runs into a cranky Latino born-again Christian onto it in a whole other way: He hears it, primarily; he gets it through the language.

Theroux has set up his pleasing "exile" in Long Beach, a who can't stand alcohol or statues or libraries. Theroux nice town that boasts the Queen opines: "I began to wonder whether this was a sort of built-Mary, the Spruce Goose and the boats that chug across the channel to Catalina Island; he whether this was a sort of builtin punishment for fanatics, the used her jump rebid of three score the slam and win the clubs to show a strong unbalanced hand with about 20 highcard points, South drove to six no-trump. The five-club re-sponse to Blackwood, in the partnership style, showed either four aces or three aces plus the diamond king.

BRIDGE By Alan Truscott

The actual dummy proved a disappointment: South had hoped for a longer diamond suit Q J 9 5 that would provide a source of tricks. South rightly assumed that a lot of good fortune was going to be needed. South won the opening spade lead with the king after East played the sev-en, and led the diamond queen. This was covered by the king and ace, and a diamond was surrendered to the jack.

cashed the heart king, hoping to collect the queen, and threw the A long-shot contract came to the rescue as South was ready for a do-or-die venture on the diagramed deal.

Lorenza et the New to south the club eight from the dummy. When this failed, matters looked desperate. With only one hope left, she took a deep finesse of the club ten and falls. Looking at the North-South finesse of the club ten and felt a

> NORTH (D) SOUTH

West led a heart to dummy's ace, and South entered her hand with a diamond lead. She then hands, one would choose to play three no-trump, the contract reached by the opposing North-South. But when North North South But when North South But was then simple to make the remaining tricks, soore the slam and min the ideally located in the heart of Beijing near the diplomatic district • 446 superior rooms, suites and executive rooms specially designed for the business traveller • 24-hour business centre, 4 function rooms and a Grand Ballroom Superb Continental and Carritonese restaurants, coffee shop and bar.

The Jianguo Hotel Beijing. Where business is a pleasure.

FRENCH COMPANY HANDBOOK

Herald Eribune

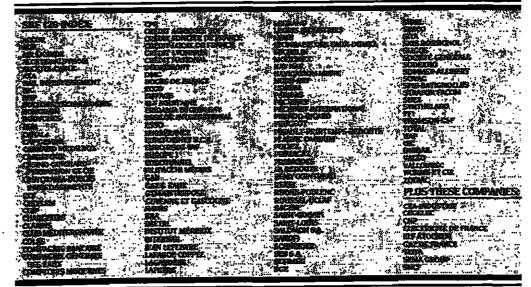

SBF-PARIS BOURSE

Published by the International Herald Tribune, in coordination with the Paris Stock Exchange, the 1994 edition includes detailed profiles of all the companies in the new SBF 120 Index.

Launched in December 1993, the SBF 120 is made up of the CAC 40 plus 80 other major firms. Its stocks gained 32.8% last year, making these the companies to watch in the coming years.

Each profile includes: head office, CEO, investor relations manager, company background and major activities recent developments, sales breakdown. shareholders, subsidiaries and holdings in France and internationally, 1989-1993 financial performance, and recent stock trading history.

French Company Handbook is updated annually for financial analysts, institutional investors, corporate, government and banking executives. documentation services – anyone who needs to know about the leading companies in the world's fourth largest economy.

| Return your order to International Herald Tribune Offers 37 Lambton Road, London SW20 OLW, England. |
|--|
| |

CARD Nº.

ADDRESS

CITY/COUNTRY/CODE.

COMPANY EC VAT ID No.

_copies of French Company

Outside Europe, postage per copy: North America/Middle East £3.50, Rest of world £6.

☐ Access ☐ MasterCard

□ Visa

For faster service, fax order to: (44-81) 944-8243

Please send me _ Handbook 1994 at UK£50 (US$75) per copy, including inecessary for credit card purchases) NAME (IN BLOCK LETTERS) _ postage in Europe. Three or more copies, 20% reduction.

Please charge to my credit card: □ Diners ☐ Eurocard

NEW WORLD BOOKS Suffern, NY 10901 914-354-2600 • FAX 914-354-1936

DISCOUNTS UP TO 30% est any US Book in Print International

MAILED FROM AMERICA

Put the History of the World on Your Computer with....

Herald Tribune

P.O. Box 148036 Chicago, IL 60614 USA

North Korean Transition

Reassure the Successor

Kim Il Sung's death comes at a critical moment, just days after he had personally eased mounting tensions over North Korea's nuclear program by mov-ing to resume talks with the United States. President Bill Clinton struck the right note, expressing appreciation for Mr. Kim's role in recent days and reassuring the North that he wants a con-tinuing and "personal" dialogue with his successor after an appropriate hiatus to mark Mr. Kim's passing. A delay poses no risk, with international inspectors in place to assure that the North's nuclear freeze remains in force. Washington can only hope that the son and heir apparent, Kim Jong II, will follow in his father's footsteps and choose negotiation over confrontation.

The legitimacy of North Korea's regime is critical to resolving the nuclear question. Founding father Kim had ruled longer than any other sitting world leader. After nearly half a century in power, he adopted a uniquely Korean form of succession, melding communism with dynastic rule.

He had begun to devolve day-to-day responsibilities to his son when the collapse of the Soviet empire and of the Soviet Union itself called the legitimacy of communism into question.

North Korea remained somewhat insulated from these larger currents. Its doctrine of self-reliance made it impervious to the shifting ideological winds, even in neighboring China. And its economy relied on outsiders for only a few necessities like subsidized oil. But North Korea suffered grievously from the loss of its Soviet and East European trading partners. And its nuclear program made it an international outcast. only deepening economic distress.

A Deal Still on the Table

Most Americans knew North Korea's Kim Il Sung not as his country's anti-Japanese resistance leader, founding father and ruler for more than 50 years but as an aggressor, terrorist, fanatical Communist and creator of a surreal personality cult who had enslaved his 21 million people, made his nation a prototype of a rogue state and seemed bent on acquiring a nuclear bomb. So outside of North Korea, which faces the unprecedented shock of its first succession, mourning for his death will be brief.

It is the commanding irony of the Korean conundrum, however, that this same Kim Il Sung had become the principal repository of American hopes to convert what is the Cold War's last armed and war-prone frontier into an accommodation in which North Korea would abandon its nuclear aspirations in return for an accepted economic and political place in the world.

Now one American nightmare is coming true. Instead of dealing with the single Korean leader with a considerable if not sure capacity to make the deal, either the United States will be engaged with a regime headed by the late leader's son and designated successor, Kim Jong II, someone currently known for his lack of popular standing and political weightiness, or it will be

Because most of the big economies are currently performing well, especially that of the United States, the seven politicians assembled in Naples this past weekend talked mostly about other things. There is not much inclination to fiddle with the machinery when it is running adequately. But the machine is far from stable. The latest reminder was the upward lurch of the Japanese yen's

To take a longer perspective, it is clear that the world's major economies have not been doing well enough in recent years. Some of the reasons are entrenched in countries' social values and the ways they choose to live. But one interesting question is whether economies can be strengthened by technical changes in the operations of the key financial institutions. There is good reason to think that they can. The Bretton

Woods Commission, a sort of seminar headed by Paul A. Volcker, the former chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, ter the conference 50 years ago this month that laid the foundations for the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank, Mr. Volcker and his colleagues say it is time to have a look at the directions in which those two highly

The World Bank and its subsidiaries influential organizations have evolved.

have become the central funnel of gov-

The commission has named itself af-offers specific proposals.

exchange rate against the dollar.

'Bretton Woods' Advice

No succession is a sure thing, and the younger Kim's impulses have worried some American observers. Officials around him may be inclined to tough it out; to rally domestic support, they would stress time-tested themes of selfreliance and the need to stand up to a hostile world, especially the United States. With that posture, they might want the bomb for protection.

But the elder Kim seemed to recognize the limits of that posture and quietly resumed a larger role to assure a smooth succession. He recognized that North Korea could not keep up with South Korea militarily; to try would risk economic collapse. And he knew that the tough-it-out posture would give the military too much influence over a suc-cessor regime. He resolved to seek a peace treaty and diplomatic relations with the United States, opening the way to security assurances and economic ties with the rest of the world. To achieve such a breakthrough, he was willing to put plutonium reprocess-ing on hold and allow international inspectors to verify that. Now the hope is that his son will see the wisdom of his father's ways. Continued reassurance from Mr. Clinton could help.

Hawks in Washington want to resolve the nuclear issue by destabilizing the Communist regime. But that risks a war that none of the North's neighbors want. The hawks' approach would likely revive the North's alliance with China. More important, it would risk an open breach with U.S. allies South Korea and Japan, which want both a stable and a non-nuclear Korean Peninsula.

President Clinton is right to embrace those goals and reassure the new leader in the North that he wants to deal with him, not destabilize him.

-THE NEW YORK TIMES.

forced to treat with whatever unknown entity or combination of elements is thrown up by a Korean succession struggle. The impenetrability of the North Korean political process can scarcely be exaggerated.

It is not a formula for confidence, but it is a time for steadiness. Preparations for a serious negotiation must continue; these preparations must include a military buildup suitable to counter if not deter any of the dangerous military moves that North Korea has threatened in recent months. The United States knows what it wants from a negotiation, or certainly it should know.

Its purpose must be to contain the threat of a North Korean nuclear capability; that means heading off future bombs and somehow rolling back the one or two bombs that may already be in North Korea's arsenal. In return, Americans have much to offer North Korea in terms of security guarantees and economic and political cooperation.

That is the deal that was on the table when the United States and North Korea resumed their direct talks in Geneva on Friday, the day Kim II Sung died. As far as the United States is concerned, this deal ought to remain on the table. The first clue will be the manner in which the new leadership in Pyongyang picks up the thread in Geneva.

ernment aid for development. But governments will never be able to provide enough aid to meet the urgent needs of the three-quarters of the earth's population that lives in the poor countries. The bank needs to do more as a catalyst for private investment and, except in the poorest countries, put less emphasis on

The IMF, over the years, has drifted into kinds of lending that often overlap with the World Bank's job. The Volcker group recommends a sharp division of labor, in which the IMF gets back to its original purpose of stabilizing exchange rates. That requires close coordination of economic policy among the major countries' governments, another em-

But those governments do not seem capable at present of that kind of coordination. The yen, for example, is rising uncontrollably for reasons directly related to Japan's huge trade surplus, and the present Japanese government is far too weak to make the changes necessary

Improving the international institutions can make substantial differences for the better, and the advice of the Bretton Woods Commission is useful.

But, like all cool and rational economic advice, it is useful only up to the limits set by political positions and habits

- THE WASHINGTON POST.

its own direct lending.

phatic recommendation.

to bring the surplus down.

which change slowly.

International Herald Tribune

ESTABLISHED 1887

KATHARINE GRAHAM, ARTHUR OCHS SULZBERGER

RICHARD McCLEAN, Publisher & Chief Executive

JOHN VINOCUR, Executive Editor & Vice President

CHARLES MITCHELMORE Deputy Editors . CARL GEWIRTZ, Associate Editor

ROBERT J. DONAHUE. Editor of the Editorial Pages

■ JONATHAN GAGE, Business and Finance Editor

• RENÉ BONDY. Derug: Publisher • JAMES McLEOD, Advertising Director

Directeur de la Publication: Richard D. Simmons

Directeur Adjoint de la Publication: Katharine P. Darrow

International Herald Tribune, 181 Avenue Charles-de-Gaulle, 92521 Neuilly-sur-Seine, France.

Tel.: (1) 46,37,93,00. Fax: Circ., 46,37,0651; Adv., 46,37,52,12. Internet: IHT@eurokom.ie

Editor for Asia: Michael Richardson, 5 Consentury Rd., Singapore (ISH, Tel. (65) 472-7768, Fee: (65) 274-2334

Mary, Dir. Assa, Rolf D. Krainepolst. 50 Glass ester Rd., Hong Kong, Tel. 182-1922-1188. Fax: 852-9222-1190.
Gen. Mgr. Germann: T. Schlüser. Friedricher. 15, 60323 Frankfurdt. Tel. (019) 72-67-55. Fax: (019) 72-73-10
Pro. U.S.: Machael Control, 850 Third Ave., New York, N.Y. (0022-Tel. (212) 752-3890. Fax: (212) 755-8765

U.K. Advertising Office: 63 Long Acre. London WC2. Tel. (071) R36-4802. Fax: (071) 240-2254.
S.A. un copital de 1.300,000 F. RCS Nanterre B 732021126. Commission Paritaire No. 61337

© 1994, International Herald Tribune. All rights reserved. ISSN: 0294-8052.

- THE WASHINGTON POST.

After Kim Il Sung Comes the Reunification Process

HONG KONG — Korea now has no dominating figures, and no Cold War role. What then will be the focus of achievement on this restless peninsula, where so much energy is bottled up? The most likely answer is nationalism, the one element that North and South have shared, although expressing it so differently — the South seeking to prove Kore-an talents to the world; the North practicing juche (self-reliance), seeking identity in a curious combination of Stalinist autarky and the Hermit Kingdom's traditional shunning of the foreigner.

With the death of Kim Il Sung, Korean nationalism's focus is likely to be how to achieve peaceful national reunification in a way which suits all parties. Unification is something that governments on both sides fear but over which they may have scant control. The inevitability of reunification now moves from the realm of the theoretical to the practical.

Predicting the North's short-term evolution — the fate of Kim Jong II, the role of the army, the course of nuclear policies — is a largely futile exercise. There are obvious dangers of fallout from domestic power struggles.

But for the medium term it is safe to predict an effort toward accommodation. The Northern elite's ability to survive will depend on its ability to deliver some material rewards to a long-suffering popBy Philip Bowring ulation, in the style of post-Mao China and that in turn depends on the cooperation, and money, of a South that has every reason to want gradual change. Indeed, before the nuclear issue came to dominate relations, North and South had been moving toward direct trade and investment. It made sense both for technocrats in Pyongyang (survivalists, if Peaceful reunification is now manifest destiny. Getting there is going to mean sacrifice.

nothing else) and for capitalists in Seoul for labor-intensive industries to move from Pusan and Taegu to the North rather than, as has in fact happended, to China, Indonesia and Vietna

Paranoia in Pyonyang was modified to the point of encouraging the develop-ment of border trade with China and Russia, through which news of realities of life in the South as well as among Chinese Koreans must gradually filter.

Although North-South dialogue had ground to a halt, recent events have added to Korean national self-awareness. However worried the South has been over Northern nuclear intentions, two attitudes have been apparent.

Firstly, there is a sneaking admiration among many in the South that Koreans. may have developed a nuclear capability all on their own and are seen to keep the West and Japan off balance.

Secondly, at the official level, there is a sense that the Korean question ought to be settled by Koreans — an attitude that has led to strains in relationships with the United States, which is seen as having brought a bigger agenda to the nuclear issue than suits Seoul's Korea-centric interests, While American media have been full of war scenarios, for Koreans the subject is too painful for contemplation.
South Korea's recently democratized political system has also played a role in national awareness. It has added to the South's pride in its modernization, and it has brought to office a president, Kim Young Sam, who is a competent but not ominant figure. Likewise in the North; whatever happens next, no one can fill Kim Il Sung's oversized boots. The peaceful reunification of Korea is now manifest destiny. But getting there is going to mean sacrifice. Compare the situation with Germany. The barriers to exchange of people and ideas have been much higher, and for longer. The eco-nomic differences are daunting.

East Germany had one-third the popu lation of the Federal Republic, and per capita income was about half. North Korea has half as many people as the South, and per capita income is about one-fifth. Once the industrialized part of Korea, the North now has less than one-fifth the steel output, one-eighth the cement output.

The Northern climate is unsuited for intensive agriculture, so even with 37 percent of the population still on the land (compared with 15 percent in the South)

there is barely enough to eat. The North's economy is roughly where it was in 1970 when it was first surpassed by the South. Estimates of the capital needed over 10 years to bring the North up to Southern levels range from $600. billion to $1 trillion. Even if the process is gradual and controlled, the consequences for the South's increasingly globally oriented economy will be many and massive. In the long run, a united Korea has every chance of becoming as tich as Japan. That is not a prospect that Japan relishes. China, too, would prefer a divided Korea. But both recognize that divi-sion of the peninsula was an accident of history over which Koreans had little control and which will not last forever. With Kim II Sung having followed the Soviet Union into the history books, the remification process can begin.

A Scenario for North Korea: Exit Stalin and Enter Caligula

WASHINGTON — Stalin is gone, but it isn't good news. Caligula is taking his place.

That is the reaction of one senior U.S. official to the sudden death of Kim Il Sung. The death clears the way for the ascension of his son and designated heir, Kim Jong II, who is thought to be mentally unstable by U.S. intelligence agencies.

The disappearance of Kim Il Sung brings America's confrontation with North Korea over nuclear weapon ambitions to the flash point that U.S. officials most fear. The older Kim was predictable in the way Stalin was predictable: nasty, vicious, but not crazy. The younger Kim is seen as unpredictable, and less likely to strike the deal that the Clinton administration is seeking with North Korea.

Ironically, Kim Il Sung at age 82 had become an element of stability in the eyes of U.S. officials. His survival was essential to their efforts to stop North Korea from reprocessing enough plutonium to manufacture a halfdozen nuclear weapons, to go with the one or two devices that

By Jim Hoagland the CIA believes Pyongyang has already assembled. The Clinton administration's strategy had been to bypass Kim Jong II, 52, who had asserted more control over foreign and defense policy as his father groomed him for succession. With the elder Kim in charge and aware of the concessions that the United States was willing to make to get the North Korean finger off the nuclear trigger, there was just a chance of striking a deal. Getting the message to Kim II Sung was the biggest gain regis-tered by former President Jimmy Carter in his controversial meeting with the dictator in Pyongyang last month. Mr. Carter was able to convey the U.S. position directly to the elder Kim, without it being filtered through "Caligula."

Mr. Kim's death tears the bottom out of the U.S. negotiating strategy. The little that American officials thought they knew about the Hermit Kingdom's leadership died with the man who sent North Korean troops across the 38th parallel in 1950 to be beaten back by the U.S. Army. The elder Kim's memory of the beating he took before China intervened had been a key factor in U.S. hopes that he would eventually renounce assembling a nuclear arsenal and back away from another armed confrontation with America. That hope is now seriously di-minished. The formative political experience for the younger Kim was not a military defeat but the kidnapping and terrorizing of a South Korean film actress whom he apparently expected to fall in love with him. He is, in the view of some U.S. officials, a pampered psychopath.

The change from Stalin to Caligula leaves Washington with no attractive options. But for all the problems involved, Washington should stick with the un-derstandings that Mr. Carter achieved with Kim Il Sung and attempt to structure a negotiating process around them.
The temptation to abandon the Carter effort now that Kim II Sung is dead is understandable. The administration was not in any case that happy with the understandings, and the publica-ty, that Mr. Carter achieved.

Until Mr. Kim's death, Mr. Carter's mission looked like the end of the first phase of the con-flict between Washington and Pyongyang, rather than the deci-sive breakthrough that the former president describes or the capitulation that others fear.

Mr. Carter got the dictator into talks that could conceivably lead to a deal freezing Pyongyang's future muclear development. In return, the Korean achieved his overriding goal in the opening game: to preserve permanently the ambiguity around whether or not North Korea has already developed one or two nuclear devices. By endorsing a concession that effectively abandoned previous U.S. demands that plutonium. taken from North Korea's reactor in 1990 be accounted for by open international inspection, Washington has acknowledged that the bomb(s) North Korea may have already developed are so much spilt milk.

That is a distasteful and potentially dangerous concession for the region. But Kim Jong Il's intentions — in fact, his very nature and sanity — need to be established through the kind of negotiating process that Mr. Carter has initiated. If this Kim is indeed Caligula, Bill Clinton will have to take immediate steps to shore up the American military presence in South Korea and prepare for war. But that is not yet clearly established At present, North Kores is a giant inkblot test. Lacking reliable information, outsiders project the past and their interpretation of it onto the blank screen of crisis and isolation exected by the two Kims.

Mr. Carter's mission and his cultivation of the elder Kim did not bring a peaceful settlement to hand, as the doves had hoped. The younger Kim's ascersion does not in itself bring war, as some bawks will now argue. It is a time for owls, to watch vigilantly over a still unfolding crisis. The Washington Post.

In Our Postmodern World, a Search for Self-Transcendence

DHILADELPHIA — There are good reasons for suggesting that the modern age has end-Many things indicate that we are going through a transitional period, when it seems that something is on the way out and something else is painfully being born. It is as if something were crumbling, decaying and exhausting itself, while something else, still indistinct, arises from the rubble. The distinguishing features of transitional periods are a mixing and blending of cultures and a plurality or parallelism of intellectual and spiritual worlds. These are periods when all consistent value systems collapse, when cultures distant in time and space are discovered or rediscovered. New meaning is gradually born from the encounter, or the intersection, of many different elements. Today, this state of mind, or of the human world, is called postmodernism. For me, a symbol of that state is a Bedouin mounted on a camel and clad in traditional robes under which he is wearing jeans, with a transistor radio in his hands and an ad for Coca-Cola on the camel's back.

I am not ridiculing this, nor am I shedding an intellectual tear over the commercial expansion of the West that destroys alien cultures. I see it as a typical expression of this multicultural era, a signal that an amalgamation of cultures is taking place. I see it as proof that something is being born, that we are in a phase when one age is succeeding another, when everything is possible.

HE dizzying development of A science, with its unconditional faith in objective reality and complete dependence on general and rationally knowable laws, led to the birth of modern technological civilization. It is the first civilization that spans the entire globe and binds together all societies, submitting them to a common global destiny.

At the same time, the relationship to the world that modern science fostered and shaped appears to have exhausted its po-tential. The relationship is missing something. It fails to connect with the most intrinsic nature of reality and with natural human experience.

Classical modern science described only the surface of things, a single dimension of reality, And the more dogmatically science treated it as the only dimension, as the very essence of reality, the more misleading it became. We may know immeasurably more about the universe than our ancestors did, and yet it increasingly seems that they knew something more essential about it than we do, something that escapes us.

The same thing is true of nature as of ourselves. The more thorBy Vaclay Havel

The writer is president of the Czech Republic. This comment is adapted from an address at Independence Hall on July 4, when

oughly all our organs and their functions, their internal structure and the biochemical reactions that take place within them, are described, the more we seem to fail to grasp the spirit, purpose and meaning of the system that they create together and that we experience as our unique self.

Thus, we enjoy all the achievements of modern civilization that have made our physical existence easier in so many important ways. Yet we do not know exactly what to do with ourselves, where to turn. The world of our experiences seems chaotic, confusing. Experts can explain anything in the objective world to us, yet we understand our own lives less and less.

WE LIVE in the postmodern world, where everything is possible and almost nothing is certain. This state of affairs has its social and political consequences. The planetary civilization to which we all belong confronts us with global challenges. We stand helpless before them because our civilization has essentially globalized only the surface of our lives. But our inner self continues to have a life of its own. And the fewer answers the era of rational knowledge provides to the basic questions of human being, the more deeply it would seem that people cling to the ancient cer-tainties of their tribe.

Because of this, individual cultures, increasingly lumped together by contemporary civilization, are realizing with new urgency their own inner autonomy and the inner differences of other cultures. Cultural conflicts are increasing and are more dangerous today than at any other time in history.

Politicians are rightly worried by the problem of finding the key to ensure the survival of a civilization that is global and multicultural: how respected mechanisms of peaceful coexistence can be set up and on what set of principles they are to be established. These questions have been highlighted with particular urgency by the two most important political events in the second half of the 20th century: the collapse of colonial begemony and the fall of communism. The artificial world order of the past decades has collapsed and a new, more just order has not yet emerged. The central political task of the final years of this century, then, is the creation of a new model of coexistence among the various cultures, peoples, races and religious spheres within a single interconnected civilization. Many believe that this can be accomplished through technical means — the invention of new organizational, political and diniomatic instruments

Yes, it is clearly necessary to invent organizational structures appropriate to the multicultural age. But such efforts are doomed to failure if they do not grow out of something deeper, out of generally held values. 'N SEARCHING for the most

I natural source for the creation of a new world order, we usually look to an area that is the traditional foundation of modern justice and a great achievement of the modern age: to a set of values that were first declared in this building. I am referring to respect for the unique human being and his or her liberties and inalienable rights, and the principle that all power derives from the people. I am referring to the fundamental ideas of modern democracy.

Even these ideas are not enough. We must go farther and deeper. Today, we are in a different place and facing a different situation, one to which classically modern solutions do not give a satisfactory response.

After all, the very principle of inalienable human rights, conferred on man by the Creator, grew out of the typically modern notion that man, as a being capa-ble of knowing nature and the world, was the pinnacle of creation and lord of the world.

This modern anthropocentrism inevitably meant that He who allegedly endowed man with his in-alienable rights began to disap-pear from the world. He was so far beyond the grasp of modern science that He was gradually pushed into a sphere of privacy of sorts, if not directly into a sphere of private fancy — that is, to a place where public obligations no longer apply. The existence of a higher authority than man himself simply began to get in the way of human aspirations.

The idea of human rights and freedoms must be an integral part of any meaningful world order. Yet I think it must be anchored in a different place, and in a different way, than has been the case so far.

DARADOXICALLY, inspira-I tion for the renewal of this lost integrity can once again be found in science. In a science that is new - postmodern - and producing ideas that in a certain sense allow it to transcend its own limits. I will give two examples. The "anthropic cosmological principle" brings us to an idea, perhaps as old as humanity itself, that we are not at all just an accidental anomaly, the microscopic caprice of a tiny particle whirling in the endless depths of the universe. Instead, we are mysteriously connected to the universe, we are mirrored in it, just as the entire evolution of the universe is mirrored in us. The moment it begins to appear that we are deeply connected to the entire universe, science reaches the outer limits of its powers. With the "anthropic cos-mological principle," science has found itself on the border between science and myth. In that, however, science has returned, in a roundabout way, to man, and offers him his lost integrity. It does so by anchoring him once more in the cosmos. The second example is the

"Gaia hypothesis." This theory brings together proof that the dense network of mutual interactions between the organic and inorganic portions of the Earth's surface form a single system, a kind of mega-organism, a living planet, Gaia, named after an ancient goddess recognizable as an archetype of the Earth Mother in perhaps all religions.

According to the Gaia hypothesis, we are parts of a greater whole. Our destiny is not dependent merely on what we do for ourselves but also on what we do for Gaia as a whole. If we endanger her, she will dispense with us in the interests of a higher value - life itself.

What makes the "anthropic orinciple" and the "Gala hyposo inspiring? One simple thing: both remind us of what we have long projected into our for-gotten myths and what perhaps has always lain dormant within us as archetypes. That is, the awareness of being anchored in the Earth and the universe - the awareness that we are not here alone nor for ourselves alone but are an integral part of higher, mysterious entities against whom is not advisable to blaspheme.

This forgotten awareness is encoded in all religions. Cultures anticipate it in various forms. It is one of the things that form the basis of man's understanding of himself, of his place in the world and ultimately of the world as such. This awareness endows us with the capacity for self-transcendence.

POLITICIANS at international forums may resterate a thousand times that the basis of the new world order must be universal respect for human rights, but it will mean nothing as long as this imperative does not derive from the respect of the miracle of Being, the miracle of the universe, the miracle of nature, the miracle of our own existence.

Only someone who submits to the authority of the universal order and of creation, who values the right to be a part of it and a participant in it, can genuinely value himself and his neighbors and thus honor their rights as well. The Declaration of Independence, adopted 218 years ago in this building, states that the Creator gave man the right to liberty. It seems man can realize that liberty only if he does not forget the One who endowed him with it. The New York Times, negroes unexpectedly marched into Scottdale in Pennsylvania yesterday [July 9] armed with revolvers and clubs. The burgess, Mr. Robinson, called on them to disperse, but they refused and one or two of their number fired at him. The burgess then called a number of citizens to his assistance and a general riot ensued, which resulted in the negroes getting the worst of the encounter and being compelled to flee from the town.

IN OUR PAGES: 100, 75 AND 50 YEARS AGO

1894: Scottdale Riot NEW-YORK - A body of 100

1919: Watching Mexico

NEW YORK - After several years of patient toleration of the turnoil in Mexico, described as "watchful waiting," the United States is prepared to intervene in the Federal Republic. The programme, it is said, will be similar adopted regarding Cuba, occupying all ports and not withdrawing troops until the establishment of a stable government based on law and order and the protection of life and property.

1944: Foreign Forces WASHINGTON - [From our

New York edition:] While all the German officers captured in the fighting on the Cherbourg peninsula were 100 per cent German professional soldiers, a "vast majority" of the regular troops was made up of Russians, Poles, Czechs and some Frenchman, Lieutenant Colonel John K. Daly, observer for the provost marshal, revealed today [July 10] at a press conference. Some of the prisoners were boys of 16 or 17 who had been with the Hitler Youth movement and were used as laborers until the invasion to that which the United States started, when they were armed.

Page 7

-:-.

6 (m. 17) 21 (19) 21 (19)

Selected in UNIQUE

THE FIRST INTERNATIONAL MAGAZINE FOR HOUSES, CARS, YACHTS, CRUISING, AIRCRAFT, ARTS, AND UNIQUE PEOPLE...

FRANCE VIEW ON THE GOLF COURSE... Set on approximately I heet of land at Saint Nom La Brenche, 20 km west of Paris, the lay windows of this sumptions will overlook one of the most presignus got courses in the Paris area. Boilt on freezone, in '900 sq. to include race recipcion monte with inspirate. a drining room, 6 bedrooms, staff accommodations and 5 Feat Sociegos - FRANCE. Tel. (33) 1 46 04 50 89 Trac. (33) 1 46 04 10 23

PARIS Standed in a private residential area, this house has a total area of 500 square metres including 3 reception rooms, bedrooms, 4 bathrooms, staff accommodation and a garage, plan a basement and garden.

Fects Auteuil - FRANCE. Tel. (33) 1 45 24 06 72 - Faz. (33) 1 45 24 09 11

Charming Medicervances residence. 3 man, from the Principenite of Monato in an oasis of calm and governery. 5000 mr garden terrace planned with 100-year of office trees and lermon and orange trees. Panoramic view of the sea and bay of Roquebrane. Pool o guest house. Ref 30°.

Bremond Dotte «Les Boulingmes» 5 bis Av. Princesse Alice MC 98000 M Tel. (33) 93 25 50 25 - Fex. (33) 93 50 95 81

RIVIERA PARCS DE BEAUVALLON Unique setting, bordering the Beauvaline golf course, king the sea, tennis courts, beach and private por mon. cuckent villes. large integ room (41 m2), covere

Les Pares de Beauvalion - Beauvalion-Gris 83120 Sainte Maxime - FRANCE. Tel. (33) 94 56 48 48 - Fax. (33) 94 56 48 82

PARIS 7TH DISTRICT *COMP INT GARCIE This 17th Country tremboure is situated in the beast of the antiques about quarter. Approximately 300 square-metres include indended recreation areas, there bedinames, there backs and commercial offices.

JOHAN TAYLOR 36, Avenue Victor Hugo 75116 Paris France. Tel (33) 1 45 53 25 25 Fox. (33) 1 47 55 62 97

The state of the s

Set on top of a bill, this villa enjoys a beautiful view of the sea and bain de la Naponale. Very hymeritous femores. In 3,200 on, it of fiving area includes fiving room, daining mean, 3 bedrooms, 2 guest moms, cantalar' lodges, rooter garage, pool, pool house. Ref 261.

JOHN TAYLOR-Jouques Chatalgoier 55, La Croisette. 06400 Cannes Franco. Tel. (33) 93 38 00 66. Fax. (33) 93 39 13 65

RIVIERA

Beautiful mansion with view of the sea, receptly built on 5000m. Situated a few kilometres from Nice and Monaco. 500 m Bring space, guest house, guarden quarters, existences pool o tennit court. Ref 410

. Brismond Dotte: «Las Boelingrins» 5 bis Av. Princesse Alice MC 98000 Ma Tel. (33) 93 25 50 25 - Fax. (33) 93 50 95 81

RIVIERA PARCS DE BEAUVALLON (Following the above ad) 2.3 or 4 bedrooms, individual swimming pools, plus a share in the golf course. The ज्यातः व्या व्यव्य व्यव श्री क्षेत्रक्त reduces of unspursioned John brobesti.

Les Parcs de Beauvollon - Beauvollon-Grimaud 83120 Sainte Maxime - FRANCE 1cL (33) 94 56 48 46 - Fax. (33) 94 56 48 82

A translable property located on a benefiel ever with a waterfall 65 best of woodland and fields. Large reception rooms, comy half and lovely statetise. 8 bedrooms, 7 bests. (achietes a respect mill foote with 2 bedrooms.

LUBERON

bathroom, birchen and living room. Large bars to be res-tored. Price on request. Ref. 2522. Headquaters: Googles Locolulus - 84726 Gordos -Tel. (33) 90 72 07 55 - Jun. (33) 90 72 08 97

LUBERON

A particularly well-restored old stone house is a charming Laborou wilege. 2008 or garden with a neissuring pool and pool house. Living space of the house 350 m; restored using old stone, tiles and heartful old furphases. 4 hedroups with iring room of 55 m. Charming and well agained in Prior on request. Ref. 3004.

HEADQUAINTERS aba - 84220 Gordes - FRANCE Tal(33) 90 72 07 55 · Faz. (33) 90 72 06 97

SWITZERLAND

Fabrilos 19th century prestigious property, 15 minutes from Geneva. Superb views overlooking Lake Geneva and the furnous Mont-Blane, 6/ bedrooms. Eachsming fireplaces in every room. Imposing Bleary. Outdoor swining pool, pool brosse with santa and a summer veranda. Must be seen. Price: Str. 5.500,000.

Creative Marketing Group Swiss Real Estate. Tel. [41] 2] 962 8000 - Fax. [41] 2] 962 8019.

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL HOUSE

FOR SALE IN GREECE. or in landerated syntax with over 5,000 decarative and trais bearing trees. Price on request.

Hellenic Properties & Investment Services Ltd Solonou 18, Lykovrissi, 14123 Athens, Greece. Tel. (360) 1 2845060 - Fox. [30] 1 2845060

A MINI ESTATE IN U.K.

At MINE ESTATE IN U.R.

Convolds The Stonglarges. This immediate Convold house has the hear possible location and views. About 6000 m2 (1,5 acres), remounded by superh English countryside. Reception hell, drawing mons, 4 bothcoms, 2 bathcoms. Guest educate Sable block with a minege, large hum. Price £ 610,000 (STG).

Contract in London, England:

Tel. (44) 71 602 2023 - Fox. (44) 71 602 6747

DARROS ISLAND

A unique would of summal busing. These superb villus in a s of property general and remunite seas accommodate up to fear-teen parapased guests. Exceptional curains of wide variety. All needs control to by an attention staff of featuress.

For information about private resist tact: Vérosique Manies et UNIQUE/Cassino Peris FRANCE Tel: (33) 1 42 30 81 00 - Fex (33) 1 42 24 00 72

SWITZERLAND

Charming 19th-century excess. Exquisitely renovated Swigs style Expulsionse which extudes character and charm "/8 bestrooms, homeoffice. fireplaces, apartment on 2nd facer, Count-rand with stables, burn and formatin. 20 min om Genera Temain of 45,000 to . Prior : Sir 4,500,000

Creative Marketing Group Swiss Real Estate. Tel. (41) 21 962 8000. Fax. (41) 21 962 8019.

GREECE

(Following the above ad) Horels, holiday homes, offices for development, islands, nown houses, industrial buildings. Cooperation possible with other agents. Full service estate agency providing advice, retommending lawyers and fatagency providing advice, a ding houses to specification

Helienic Properties & Investment Services Ltd Solamou 18, Lykovrissi, 14123 Athens, Greece. Tel. (360) 1 2845060 - Fax. (30) 1 2845060.

PALACE IN TANGER

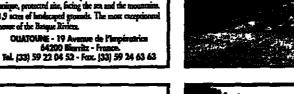

Marvellous and unique palace in the heart of the Kastah.
15 rooms approx. located on different levels, with sources zad imade pation. Reof-up swimming pool, facing the bay. Palace for sale with its caquisin: Oceanal and Chimese luminuse.

Contest in Temper, Morento, Tel & Rex. (212) 9 93 88 58 - or the magazine UNIQUE in Paris, France. Tel (33) 1 42 30 51 00 - Fox (33) 1 42 24 00 72

BASQUE COUNTRY

Built in the 1930's, this specious house resides in unique, protected site, facing the sea and the mounts: 1.9 acres of handscaped grounds. The most exception house of the Busque Riviera.

BASQUE COUNTRY

Magnificent 97 acre estate, 25 minutes from Biatrita and Programment 97 acre estate, 20 minutes from near the near sery close to Spain. Ideal for home and nature lovers. From the spacious reception rooms, view of the splendid stables with features of high quality, 10 stalls, saddle room, horsing, lovely sheepfold, A margical place.

OUAPOUNE - 19 Avenue de l'Impératrice.

Tel. (33) 59 22 04 52 Fax. (33) 59 24 63 63.

ARGENTINA

Winter ski resort - Summer Resort, Beautiful knowy manisten wiview of lake, fully furnished. 5 suites. Large

FRANCE CHATEAU DE LA LOIRE

parks. Luxurously decorated with period features. Swinning pool, Tennis court, 3-car garage, possibility for scanning as additional 200 lexts of lumning ground. For further information, contact owner's office in France, Francise Brocand. Jol. (33) 1 47 40 00 40 - Foc. (38) 1 47 40 07 77

5 here of wooded grounds with a pond and gardens. Very taxefully restored with a selection of original materials.

Seeshore REALTORS - Greece Tel. (30) 1 8952212 or 895 6733 - Fest. 895 8317. Paris - France Tel. (33) 1 64 07 66 66 -Fest. (33) 1 64 07 66 23.

FRANCE

Near Venailles, this house sits in the heart of a 7.110 sq. n, densely-wooded preserve in the Vallet de Chevrense. Living area of appear, 450 sq m, 8 bedrooms, 5 bashs large reception room and simple listchen. Geordian's quarters. Heated swimming poel. Very sturactive price. Please call Paris, France. Tal (33) 1 47 04 25 41 er (33) 1 46 08 98 76

or (33) 1 47 63 94 52 (gaswering machine)

ARGENTINA (Following the above ad) Heared covered pool w/suma and outside smaderit. Heared green house and wagetable garden. Caretakers house and hungalows. Access to the lake. Residence of Houseary Control, could be used as a health farm or country club. 2.5 lon from town, 15 lon from ski center. Asking peice USS 2,8 M. Contact Mr Sigi up to Aug 15, at Fax. (1) 305 920 7989 - USA. After Aug. 30, at Fax. (54) 944.41381. Argentino

D-(t)

100 200 400 440

25 100

CASTLE NEAR PARIS
St-Cland, Menly, St-German, Versailles, Widerlife are
she? I super-essues were of Paris, Widerlife, less than 30 has from Paris, in the quity coule in its class which is for other 142 hereing updated delivery, anything from the couside. Eigens 1,600, continy residence with country; woodwork and chaptel.

CASTLE NEAR PARIS

(Following the previous ad) Modern heating, decircal and security rechaology successfully integrated. Helipoot and hungis, convertible mainten. 1,3-km-automobile track, pured made which agreed throughout the extra-

FRANCE ANTIBES

Across from the Port Carri and the Marina, in a leasely residential complex, first-rate shopping area. Garages also smallable on the basement levels. From 1 000 000 FF (VAT excluded) for 36 m² to 4 100 000 FF (VAT excluded) for 36 m².

Port Prefige, 11 avenue Soisi Bock, 06600 Antibes

FRANCE ANTIBES

Across from the Port Carré and Port Vanhou, 34 unique fluts in a luxury residential complex. Mostly 2 and 4 room fluts in a former sho available. Finest appointments and finishings. Two room fluts, 54 m2 and 19 m2 ter-tacts: from 1 500 000 FF. Four noom fluts, 115 m2 and 40 m2 terraces : from 3 900 000 FF. Port Fredige, 11 Avenue Soint Rock, 06600 An

COUNTRY ESTATE IN UK

is owning a country estate in England or Scotland your pipe death? Ascyon source of the substantial text and inhe-cioner benefits of owning farminat in the UK? Midwells boates, values and reporting for you the postbase of the farm or cause of your choice and super

Combridge, UK. P.B. W Pemberton Prics. Tel. [44] 223 841 841 - Faz. [44] 223 845 150

LOUISIANNA - FOR CHARTER

The after- yacht to chance, jaconzais, matthe floor Major refit this year to include new swittening platform. beach area and new smaleck. Very quiet to ensure ustal rivacy. Accommodation for 10 in super statements. Compar & Nicholsons. London - UK. Yal. (44) 71 491 2950 - Fax. (44) 71 629 2068.

JAMAICA BAY - FOR CHARTER

A thoroughbred amongst charter partns. Classic lines and traditional English managemy interior for 8 guests in 4 cabins. Spacious decks suitable for extensioning and relaxing, Highly expeniescod professional crew ensure a

Tel. (44) 71 491 2950 - Fez. (44) 71 629 2068.

PRINCESS TANYA arrany charter in the Med and Carib. 188.99' (57.60m) housy mossyacht very high spec 1961 Austin and Fickersgill Ltd. Extensively refined rebuilt 1992. 2:840bup Suher diesel engine crus speed 12 kaous.

ours, plas crew. Contact your Charter Broker for full informati and colour brockure.

LEGEND OF TINTAGEL 143' (43,5 m) Ocean going luxury memoryache. Built in Italy, 1982 Lloyds Class Accommediations for 12 m 6 saites plan creit. Schappunes intestor, Latest mangation opopy. Exceptional General record Caribbean, Med. For sale scaling pane.

UK. Tel 149 0273 571722 - Fast 144) 0273 571726 er

Frusten Tel. (32) 93 34 01 00-Fep. (33) 93 54 20 40

SENSATION 33,7 MT doop, sensainn yachts 1991. Actonomodations for 8 in 4 cabins. Ron Holland design, Andrew which interior. Excellent condition, stalishie immediately, lying USA.

Covenciab White. Tel. (44) 71 352 6565 - Fax. (44) 71 352 6515

NICHASI

24,4 MT versionali 1990. Accommodations for 8 in 4 cabias, 2 r ann 1100 HP - 22/25 Knots Comprehensively equipped, very good condition, available immediately. Lying S. France.

Tel. (44) 71 352 6565 - Fex. (44) 71 352 6515

ROSENKAVALIER Superb 219' classic motoryacht for charter. In these hec-tic days of fast fiving, there are a few hideaways where one an muly relax and recom to the quieter pace of life of a bygone era. Travel back in time to the glorious days of 1930's - experience life aboard ROSENKAVALIÉR. Contact your Charter Broker for full inform and colour brachure.

COLOMBAIO SUN 126 (38.5 m) 1991 Durch world craims mone sale High quality 6 deathle cabins, big extends deck space, sale well, all instance of heavy motoryache. Modern and

YACHTING PARTNESS INSTERNATIONAL UK, Tal (44) 0273 571722 - Ros. (44) 0273 571720 or France Tal. (33) 93 34 01 00 (fox. (33) 93 34 20 40

BLUE SHADOW C FOR CHARTER A lumary 165 ft (50m) motoryachs with spacious exper-ning/recreational ateas and accommodation for 12 guests served by a professional crew of 12. The ideal yacht for summers along the French and Infinn Rivierse, with winners based in the Caribbean. USS 85,000 per week +

Crestor Yockis Itd., Landon. Tel. (44) 71 730 9962-Fox. (44) 71 824 8691. USA Toll-free : (7) 800 222 9985.

aston martin db4gt zagato

MARANELLO SALES LIMITED Tower Geroge, The By Poss Egisten, Surrey TW20 GAX. UK Tel. (44) 0784 436431 - Ftts. (44) 0784 436510

ction U. One of four built 1991, chause 6197 is the lag unused example. Serious enquiries invised. The UK's largest selection of Fernaci cars always available plus full service, responsion and parts facilities.

MOONMAIDEN II FOR CHARTER As featured in James Bond's - The Living Daylighus, this servactive 128 it (34m) occur-going mototyacht accomattractive 128 ft (39m) ocean-going motoryache accom-modates 10 goests in 5 double cubins and is already boo king Caribbean winner chargers. Excellent British crew of II. USS 49,000 per week + running expense. Crester Yecther Utd, London. Tel. (44) 71 730 9962, Fox. [44] 71 824 8691. USA Toll-Free: [1] 800 222 9985.

32 x 5.20 x 4.20m, built 1920 by William Fife. A Unique J-Class, once owned by Prince Rainier of Manaco. 350 Sq. M.mil, 2 x Rolls Royce 185 bp. 12 know, generators, Aircon, Radar, GPS, Antopolos, SSB, Accommedation for

FOR SALE & CHARTER. SEAHORSE Greece. Tel. (30) 1 8952 212 - Fox. (30) 1 8958 317

FIFANELLA Elegant 133' Feadship with very successful charter history. 5 dumble statements for 18 guests, crew of 8. Luxury, privacy, superior caisine, lots of toys. 5 70,000/week.

Bob Sexon Associates Pt. Losderdale, USA.

ALMAYIVA

143' (43m) alatminum M/Y, built in Hulhard, Pentr Berkönnjer design. Kanarwa wanziers, 2 z 2,500 hp MTU, 20 km. Lupamious attenumodusion for 16 giorns in

BLUE ATTRACTION

Tel (34) 24 700445 - Fax. (34) 21 700551

110 (33m), Amels 1983. Extensive refe in 1993, inch-

LIU COMB. Augus 1703. CHESIAN PER IN 1975, including new spholutery, carpets, genetimes, paintwesk, etc. 2 x 435 hp CAT. 13 km, 3,000 miles range. Accommodants 10 guests in 5 luxurious double cabins, 7 crew. For charger in the Caribbean and Mediterraneas.

LÜRSSEN YACHTS Spain. Tel. (34) 7) 700445 - Fex. (34) 7) 70055)

ZULU SEA Jon Ramenberg design
113' (34pp) Coderate contr sively refuted under the super ision of builders and Jou Bannesberg, New 2 = 755kp Caterpolius installed in 1991. Ten guests in five state rooms plus crew. About 4900 taile range - 100A1 - LMC.

Commi agents. Associated Yocks Broken Tel. (33) 93 25 00 25 - Fest. (33) 93 25 83 10

125 FT CAMPER & NICHOLSONS Classical designed steel half motoryache, excellent accom-motorion for 10 guests in double cabins. Owners Full-Beam same on dock. Large professional style giller, Huge, and complexely encloseable aft dock area complements the species release to people competer dissiplements in species release to people dissiplements in gare. Very sectionally for sile and branky paced.

Globe Regal Merhalle, Specie.

Tel. [34] 5 281 5162 - Ferz. [34] 5 281 5194

AMERICA 104' (32m) balls by Goody and Stevens in 1967. Near replica of the original AMERICA winner of the hundred Gaines Cap in England in 1851 which was the foundation for the America's Cap. Unique opportunity. Central

Associated Yarlst Brokers. Tel. (33) 93 25 00 25 - Fez. (33) 93 25 83 10

98 FT BROWARD COCUPIT MOTOR YACHT

Offering a spaciousness normally associated with much larger states NLARA cares for the guests with exceptionally comfortable surroundings. Very large saloon and separate formal disting area. Large Mad-orde of deck with दश्य कर्त प्रकटांट्री अध्यक्ष का क्या ग्रेंग में विशेषह राजेक्स Many toys and nor-expirement. 3 large entains suite guests cabba Globe Reged Morrbella, Spoin. Tel. (34) 5 281 5162 - Fezz. (34) 5 281 5194 1937 MERCEDES BENZ 540K.

Tel. (1) 305 760 5801 - Fex. (1) 305 467 8909.

State / Country -

SAFE CONDUCT II Extremely popular 119' charter yacht in New-England ||Caribbean/Bahamas. 4 double staterooms for 8 guess, 6 crew. Sevish surroundings including fine oris collection. S 34,000/week.

Bob Sexon Associates Ft. Lenderdole, USA.

1

Tel. (1) 305 760 5801 - Fax. (1) 305 467 8909

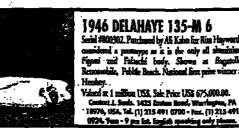

Demonstration Vising 50' moneyarist, model 1991: Cruises 19 lance, Top Binsini. Exceptional price USS 700.000 HT.

Please coli Mode-Carlo Tal. (33) 92 16 16 80 - Fox. (33) 92 16 01 05.

Diombia USA Tel (1) 305 354 1699 Fox (1) 305 856 4616. House Helland, Tel (31) 4120 22510 Fox. (31) 4120 3785 nodzion for 8 curv. Lamaded i

1946 DELAHAYE 135-M 6 Serial #800302. Purchased by Ali Kalas for Riss Hayworth, considered a prototype as it is the only all aluminium Figori and Falaschi body. Shows at Bagatelle, Remonabile, Poblike Beach, National first prine winner at Conversible Special roadster Tapental. Serial # 154086. AAC Sr. Jr. Clause Car Club Highers Hunor, Public Beach best in Class, Barn Foundation - Best foreign valued at ten million US dollars - officeed at 5.5 million US dollars.

Content Jacome Souls. 1425 Baston Boad, Wynington, PA 18976, USA. Tal. (1) 215 491 0700 - Foz. (1) 215 491 1974, Sum - 9 pm Ett. English speaking only places

SUBSCRIBE TO UNIQUE BY FAX!

6 issues/1 year sent by aimail:

FF150 그 - 518 그 - DM60 그 - SF46 그 - BF1150 그 - Lt 58 000 그 - Pte4000 그 년 USA USS 36.00 → - Cos. (including GST) US$46.00 → - other countries US$ 50.00 → Name Mr/Mrs/Miss ___ Address

Payment by credit card only Please charge my 😅 Visa 😉 Master Cord 🗀 Amex 😊 Diners Club Card number Expiration date Date Signature UNIQUE, 65, rue Chardon Lagache, 75016 Paris, France.

To advertise in UNIQUE, please call Véronique Manios or Alexandra Guillard on (33) 1 42 30 81 90, or fax (33) 1 42 24 00 72 The offer expres on December 31, 1994.

LADY CHRISTINE Whitlieged III. 43m abaninium monorachi. 5 cabin

5 badavoms, accommodation for 8 crew. Laurehod in Sept. 93. Traditional imenior, chemy, wood. Dischip Design Testa, apperwised by Fusik Laurenan.

WEEKLY INTERNATIONAL BOND PRICES

Provided by CS First Boston Limited, London, Tel: (071) 516 40 25. Prices may vary according to market conditions and other factors. July 8.

Canadian Dollars Spd Can Met Price Yki Tray

Adder 17 July 17 18 Adder 18 July 18 July

Combook Falls 97

Combook Fall Dolinker Oct Dolinker Oct Do Hor Apr Do Fin Apr Do Fin Feb Dominary I My Dom

Romery Oct. J. 1144, 95
North Charles J. 114

Toronto Mary Fig. (22 Toronto Air Fig. (22 Toronto Ser. Fig. (22
Toronto Ser. Jun 1985; Fig. 1985; ECU Straights

SKYSTALISTSKALSTRANDER SERENDER SELEKTARAKANAR SERENDEN SKYARTER SELEKTARAKAN SERENGAN SERENDER SELEKTARAKAN S SKYSTALISTSKALSTRANDER SERENDER SELEKTARAKAN SERENDEN SKYARTER SELEKTARAKAN SERENDER SELEKTARAKAN SELEKTARAKAN

EST AUG STATE AND AU 主要简先是古名在古代古圣文本的与表在人士生态与主张中国古典古代与自己古 说?是只有了我们的我们是我们的我们的我们的人,我们也不是一个人的人,我们是一个人的人,我们也是一个人的人的人,我们也是一个人的人的人,我们也是一个人的人的人,我们也是一个人的人的人,我们也会会会会会 有写写过是是记忆的话题为的话还写信记号是自己是是记忆是完成是信仰的话题的话看是记录的是是有 这点为这话是这多古古古古主义的是古古古文学。 古古史山南美名士李林文古古古本古古本主文学圣圣文

CORRECTOR

SOFT TO SECURITY SE

Lick Jave V. 16
Lick Jon 9, 16
Lick Jon 9, 16
Lick Jon 9, 18
Lick Jon 9, 18
Lick Jon 9, 18
Lick Jon 19
Altrait Act Oct Pra 18
Altrait Act Oct Pra 18
Altrait Act Oct Pra 18
Altrait Act Oct Pra 19
Altrait Dan 19
Altrai Pound Sterling 42 26 801 16% 15% 16% 401 11.0 17 4 3% 3% 787 22% 20% 21% FERNANDERS STATE DE S 类

なる おおなをなされたはまままなととなると Green s Greenist Greenist Greenist Greenist Greenist Greenist Greenist Greenist Ground 쓢

李子士说:"我们是我们的是我们的是我们的是我们的是什么,我们们是我们的是我们的是我们的是我们的是我们的是我们的,我们们是我们的是我们的是我们的是我们的,我们们们 Londarick man Marwart Apr Marwart Apr Marwart Feb Marwart Feb Mar Ser. Colo Mer

のは、我に我に母はなななないにはなるないで

NASDAQ NATIONAL MARKET

Consolidated trading for ended Friday, July 8.

Sples Div Yld 100s High Law Cise Chgo

34 My 44/5

- 34 My 44/5

- 466 11 9/6

- 140 14 13

- 433 19/4 18/4

- 432 11/6 18/4

- 20 14 57 18/4

- 20 14 57 18/4

- 20 17 18/4

- 20 17 18/4

- 20 17 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- 20 18/4

- | 1964年 | 1974年 | 19

Amestar
Anonya
Amestar
Anonya
An

Company | Com

Brown with a street with a str CBrewer CCUSE IN CONTROL CONTR

Confidence of the control of the con

| The content of the

| 120 | 544 | 544 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 | 144 DENT HIS DEN

Britis Cold
Britis

Howers
History
History STAT ICAT STATE OF ST 10.24 20.05

H

- 201 10 4 5h

- 101 10 4 5h

- 101 20 10 4 2h

- 101 21 10 4

- 101 21 10 4

- 101 21 21 24 2h

- 101 21 20 2h

- 101 2h

مبكنا من الاعل

CAPITAL MARKETS

Despite Tension, Experts Insist: Now Is Time to Buy

By Carl Gewirtz

ARIS - The rise of the Deutsche mark against the dollar is renewing pressure on rates within Europe. The mark is also gaining against its neighbors and this, in turn, is putting upward pressure on short-term interest rates as traders begin to fear that such moves will be forced on Germany's allies to defend their currencies.

The French franc slipped past its old support level of 3.4305 per mark to 3.4390 last week, its low for the year. The Belgian franc, the peseta, as well as currencies not formally linked to the mark such as the pound, the lira and the Swedish krona also weakened. The threat of beightened currency tensions within Europe, upward pressure on analysts report, could increase bank to intervene to support the dollar. The desire to deflect ten-the willingness of the Bundes- short-term rates.

sions also raises the possibility of a reduction in official German rates at the Bundesbank's July 21 policy-making meeting, the last

Although investors still are largely sidelined by the upset in all bond markets during the first half of the year and by fears of yet more turbulence, analysis continue to insist that now is the time to resume buying.

2 "There's as much risk staying out of the market as there is getting in," advises Sushil Wadhwani at Goldman Sachs in London. Recalling the experience of 1984 when recovery swept financial markets and was completed in three weeks, he notes, "If you weren't already positioned in the market, you missed the recovery."

Allowing that prices may yet weaken further, Mr. Wadhwani argues, "It's hard to know exactly when markets hit bottom. On a month view, there's a good probability prices will be lower, but taking a six-month view there's money to be made investing now."

"It's clearly time to start buying," asserts Henry Looser at Bank Julius Baer in Zurich. "We've seen the worst. The major markets, apart from Britain, should see yields in six months half a point lower than they are today and prices up accordingly."

His preferred investments, he adds, are in Deutsche marks,

European Currency Units, guilders, lire and pesetas. Perhaps because German interest rates are expected to decline further, the DM portion of this week's global issue of floating rate notes from Italy is reported to be the least popular. In all, Italy aims to raise the equivalent of $4 billion - at least $1.25 billion, 150 billion yen and 1 billion DM. That totals some $3.4 billion and managers intend to allot the remainder in response to final demand. All three will carry the same coupon of the London interbank offered rate (Libor). But pricing will be different so that purchasers of yen paper are expected to

See MARKETS, Page 12

THE TRIB INDEX

113

110

Raw Materials

The index tracks U.S. dollar values of stocks in: Tokyo, New York, London, and Argentices, Australia, Austria, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, Chille, Desmark, Argentices, Fintend, France, Germany, Hong Kong, Italy, Maxico, Natherlands, New Zastand, Norway, Singapore, Spain, Swedan, Switzerland and Venezuela. For

CURRENCY RATES

THE TEST WITH CASE THE COURT OF THE THE THE THE THE THE THE THE THE CHARMEN IN CHARMEN LONDON NEW YORK TO route and Zurick Richard In other content.

Chasings in Amsterdam, London, New York, Toronto and Zurick, Richard In other content.

Chasings in Amsterdam, London, New York, Toronto and Zurick, Richard In other content.

The Day one powers, by To boy one dollar; ": Units of 106; N.G.: not quoted; N.A.: not remained."

Per 5 738_36 7,728 101_27 31_35 2170,04 0.659 1032 1032 10375

112.47 111.01 +1.32

124.29 122.07 +1.82

Pession 1,255  1,267  2866  1266  1,257  1,457  1,570  1,570  1,570 **

Consumer Goods 98.92 97.45 +1.51

Per 5 3.395 1,6439 4,5148 25.36 22.66 142.43 2012.68 3.676 1.5765

Industrial Sectors/Weekend close

Milities 120.17 118.32 +1.56

Finance 118.30 116.65 +1.41

Services 116.34 115.30 +0.90

International Heraid Tribune 120 World Stock Index, composed 118 of 280 internationally investable 117

ed by Bloomberg Business News.

Of Dollar: Is a Crisis Brewing?

Decline

PARIS - Dismayed by the Group of Seven's apparent complacency over the dollar's weakness and the failure of the U.S. and German central banks to adjust their interest rates, analysts are uncertain whether the dollar is headed for a collapse or whether officials last week were trying to bait a trap for Under either scenario, the immediate outlook for the dollar is grim.

"The risk of the dollar's recent decay becoming a crisis has intensified," warns Paul Chertkow, London-based analyst for Union Bank of Switzer-

"A new test for the dollar and dollar-denominated assets is imminent," says John Lipsky at Salomon Brothers in New York. "The combined weakness of the dollar as well as that of bond and stock markets suggest that investors consider that U.S. policy is too loose."

The dollar ended trading last week at a 20-month low of 1.5610 Dentsche marks and at 98.055 yea - within spitting distance of its record intra-day low of 96.78 yen. Traders said that volume was light and that in the absence of buyers, the dollar had only one way to

The currency is weighed down by the large and rising U.S. current-account deficit, which provides a constant outflow of dollars looking to be converted to foreign currencies, as well as by the growing disillusion of international investors who loaded up on the dollar earlier this year and who are giving up waiting for its recov-

There's no quick fix to that combination, as was demonstrated two weeks ago when concerted central bank inter-See DOLLAR, Page 12

After Kim, North Korea's Next Step

By Steven Brull ional Herold Tribune

International Herald Tribune, Monday, July 11, 1994

free to the state of corte a prior

SEOUL - Whoever emerges as North Korea's leader after the death of Kim II Sung will be forced by economic necessity to speed up the Communist country's tentative steps toward integration with the outside world.

Yet while greater trade and investment will help the rattered economy to plod on for a few more years, nothing short of a full-blown economic opening can reverse the long-term decline of the Stalinist state's economy — an option ruled out, however, because it would probably undermine the regime, analysts said Sunday.
Instead, the betting is that Kim Jong
II, Kim II Sung's son, will become North Korea's leader and pursue a modestly accelerated program of economic reforms once he consolidates his grip on power over the next several months Kim Jong Il has been a key player in the North's hesitant openings to the outside world, a process modeled after China's open-door policies begun in the late 1970s, but North Korea's have been far less ambitious and effective. In contrast to China's roaring economy, North Korea's gross national product dropped 20 per-cent from 1989 to 1993 and the economy is beset with shortages of food, energy, foreign exchange and clothing. "He will have to prove his legitimacy, but he's also a part of the Kim Il Sung tute. "If Kim Jong II feels secure, he'll try to advance the open-door policies, but I doubt he can dissociate himself completely from what his father achieved."

Even if North Korea wished to open up more aggressively, it's unlikely it could match Beijing's success in grafting market economics onto a state-planned system. Beijing has benefited enormously from Hong Kong and the special economic zones along the coast. The closest Pyongyang comes is a community of North Koreans living across the border in China.

"He will try to follow the Chinese way of economic reform, but it might not work as well," said Masashi Nishihara, director of research at Japan's National Institute for Defense Studies in Tokyo. So he will have to go very slowly in opening up the economy and may lose legitimacy in the process."

Despite the pitfalls and potential for political collapse, some businessmen in Seoul viewed the death of the 82-year-old Kim as a positive catalyst for North Korea's economic policies and the South's economic development.

Greater openness to foreign capital and technology would slow the pace of the North's economic decline and minimize the eventual cost of reunification with the South -- estimated at more than legacy," said Chun Hong Tack, research fellow at the Korea Development Instiopen up a new source of cheap workers for South Korean companies, which have lost cost-competitiveness in laborintensive industries.

"The business community is very eager to go," said Lee Young Sun, professor of economics at Yousei University. "They are already calculating their profits."

South Korea's chaebol, or conglomerates, have long had plans to invest hundreds of millions of dollars in North Korea. None of their proposed projects is in operation, however, because of Pyongyang's suspected nuclear development program.

But companies, spurred by the summit meeting of North and South Korean leaders, planned for later this month but canceled, have been stepping up their preparation. Lucky-Goldstar, for instance, plans first to invest in light and medium-size industries such as textiles and toys; later, it will move into heavy industries such as cement, chemicals and electric power generation.

"We're all seeking labor that's cheaper than it is in Vietnam or China but much more skilled and diligent and which speaks Korean," said Kim Do Kyoung, research director at Lucky-Goldstar's economic research institute. "This will allow South Korea to be competitive for a longer time, even against Japan."

China's 'Mobile' War Cry

New Phone Firm To Be Launched

Bloomberg Business News BELJING - In an attempt to break the dominance held by foreign companies in China's booming mobile phone and pager markets, eight Chinese concerns will join forces to form a competing entity, the official China Daily reported Sunday.

Jinfeng Telecommunications Co., to be launched in Beijing in August, will try to cut into the phone handset market leadership of U.S.-based Motorola Inc. and into the switching equipment strength of Sweden's Ericsson AB, the paper said.

Explosive growth has already made China's mobile telecommunications network the world's third-largest behind the United States and Japan.

The enterprises forming the new company include giant consumer electronics firm Changhong Electronics Co., Changling Electronics Co., Beijing Huaxun Telecommunications Corp. and Beijing Catch Telecommunications Corp.

An Ultimatum to GATT

China has thrown down an ultimatum in its bid to rejoin GATT, setting this month's GATT meeting in Geneva as the deadline for the world trade body to accept its package of concessions, the China Daily Business Weekly said Sunday, Agence France-Presse reported from Beijing.

Ministry of Foreign Trade and Economic Cooperation of-ficial Li Zhongzhou said China that Malaysia was still interested in buying more F/A-18's despite its decision last month to purchase 18 Russian-made MiG-29's, valued at over $500 cm.

"GATT can take it or leave it,

Lockheed to Sell F-16s to Singapore

By Michael Richardson

tional Herald Tribate SINGAPORE — Asia has become the key market for United States manufacturers of combat aircraft, analysts said Sunday, following an announcement by Singapore that it would buy eighteen advanced F-16 fighters made by Lock-heed Fort Worth Co. of the United States for an undisclosed price.

The deal is a setback for rival U.S. maker, McDonnell-Doug-las Aerospace Co., which bid for the same order by offering Singapore 18 of its latest F/A-18 fighters at an estimated cost of $1.5 billion.

that the F-16 had been chosen ment that Kim Il Sung, the "because it is the most cost-long-time Stalinist leader of effective aircraft for our defense and security needs."

He did not disclose the value of the deal, which includes armaments, spare parts, technical training and support.

But analysts said that by insisting on a competitive tender between the two leading American manufacturers, Singapore had probably achieved a substantial reduction in the cost of the F-16 package, originally estimated at around $900 million. "It's a buyers' market now," said one analyst. "With U.S. arms makers facing sharp cuts in orders at home, Asia has the strongest sales prospects." Strategic uncertainty in the Lee Boon Yang, Singapore's region intensified over the defense minister, said Saturday weekend with the announce-

North Korea, had died Friday. ers, five - Singapore, Thai-South Korea has been a major buyer of U.S. arms, includ-

Mr. Lee said that deliveries of the advanced model F-16 C/D to Singapore would start in 1998, and that the existing seven F-16 A/B's belonging to the Singapore air force would be phased out of service.

The advanced model has a more powerful engine and a more potent combat capability. Speaking before the Singapore order was announced, Dwain Mayfield, vice-president of marketing for Lockheed Forth Worth, said that a back-log of 540 F-16 orders from would keep the assembly line busy through 1999.

Of the nine foreign custom-

Pakistan — are in Asia. Indone-sia also has F-16's and, like other Asian operators, may make follow-up orders or upgrades. McDonnell Douglas made its first breakthrough in the Southeast Asian fighter market when land, Taiwan, South Korea and Malaysia agreed to buy eight F/A-18's in December, after extensive negotiations on price and other terms. Najib Razak, the Malaysian defense minister, said recently 29's, valued at over $500 million. Analysts said Sunday that both U.S. and foreign buyers Singapore might also buy F/A of A-4 Skyhawk bombers.

but it's final," said Mr. Li, adding that there would be no room 18's in future to replace its fleet for future talks if China's offer

Hong Kong Notebook

Colony Regulators Pursuing 'Big Fish'

From individual stock exchange floor traders to prominent businessmen and establishment banks like Standard Chartered PLC, a growing list of Hong Kong identities are finding themselves on the sharp end of regulatory enforcement.

Most people believe that Hong Kong, besmirched by its decision to close its stock and futures exchanges for a few days after the October 1987 market collapse and numerous tales of corporate scandal, should welcome a trend toward

But Chim Pui-chung, the gold Rolls Royce-driving businessman who represents the financial community in the colony's Legislative Council, disagrees wholeheartedly.

"If the regulation is too strict, then perhaps some of the well-healed will be reductant to invest here," said Mr. Chim in well-healed will be reinctant to invest here, said Mr. Chim in a local newspaper report. "That will be detrimental to Hong Kong's status as a financial center."

Mr. Chim tends to speak for small, local business interests.

Until high-profile Standard Chartered's local merchant bank and stock broking subsidiaries were disciplined for misconduct in the trading of shares by newly listed companies, many local brokers believed that the colonial government unfaith targeted and players such as themselves.

ment unfairly targeted small players such as themselves.

"There are plenty of sharks in Hong Kong, but it's about time they started catching a few big fish instead of the little ones," said one local trader who asked not to be identified, referring to the widespread belief that many of Hong Kong's biggest corporate names regularly manipulate stock trading.

Rebates and Soft Commissions Challenged

While fund managers from larger, blue-chip firms might be rejuctant to ride in Mr. Chim's gold limo, they may find themselves allied with him in a fight against another Securities and Futures Commission campaign: a crackdown on the payment of cash rebates and "soft dollar" commissions.

A paper published last week by the SFC indicated it wants to ultimately ban cash rebates paid by brokers to fund managers in return for business placed with them. The SFC also called for tighter regulation of soft dollar commissions, through which brokers provide goods or services to fund managers in return for their stock trading business.

Cash rebates are generally prohibited in the United States, Britain and Australia, and soft commissions are tightly regulated.

"We don't want this turn into an us-against-the-SFC is-sue," said an executive with one securities firm now preparing a response to the SFC proposals. "But we feel the outright banning of rebates would disadvantage Hong Kong as a global as well as regional financial center."

A Wealth of Investors for Programming Guru

Known in local television circles for an ability to select hit programming, Robert Chua has a few tough business choices of his own to make. Armed with coveted space on a satellite whose signal will cover China, and a strong track record as a Chinese entertainment producer, Mr. Chua says he can't decide whose money to accept as investment capital in his nascent Mandarin-language China Entertainment Television

"I only need $50 million, but about $100 million wants to come in," said Mr. Chua, a producer of game and variety shows, corporate videos, and adult entertainment telephone services and programs. "I must have the right partners, ones that bring more than just money to the deal."

Mr. Chua plans to launch three channels for distribution throughout Taiwan and China, where cable television networks which now may serve up to 20 million households. The first, a food, entertainment and lifestyle channel — "very safe: no sex; no violence; no news" — should be ready in 1995.

Mr. Chua waves off his doubters: "I have a special gift for giving people what they want." Stay tuned.

Kevin Murphy

SEPTEMBER 21-24, 1994 · BALLIOL COLLEGE · OXFORD

Renowned scholars and corporate leaders assess the global business climate

Three days to refresh your mind. A creative blending of business and intellectual perspectives. A chance to challenge conventional wisdom and gain new insights. These are the opportunities presented by the annual International Business Outlook conference.

Effectiveness achieved by drawing on our vast resources to give timely and objective comment on the world's most business sensitive developments.

Exclusivity secured by a strict limit on participants to ensure a 2:1 ratio of business leaders to specialists.

Stimulus provided by a reflective atmosphere, prominent global figures and intimate debate.

The Oxford Summit - combines the discipline of scholarship with the experience of business.

SPONSORS OF THE BLENHEIM PALACE BANQUET WILL INCLUDE COOPERS & LYBRAND; GIBSON, DUNN & CRUTCHER, AND THE UPPO GROUP.

Herald Eribune

For further information, please contact Jane Benney at the International Herald Tribune, 63 Long Acre, London WC2F 9JH Tel: (44 71) 836 4802 Fax: (44 71) 836 0717

| Page 10 | INTERNATIONAL HERALD T | IBUNE, MONDAY, JULY 11, 1994 | With Grant With Grant With Car Name |
|---|--|------------------------------|--|
| Coop of backless rather, July & Coop of backless rather, July | Column | | |
| ORCHIDS LONDON PARES ESCORT AGENCY CREDIT CARDS WELCOME UK 07:1 589 5237 MADISONS LONDON - PARES - COLOGNE Scort Service - Credit Cards Agespted LIK 07:1 266 0586 | PARES*SOUTH OF FRANCE-LONDON R • • • • • • • BOOKET SERVICE BY GREAT COME BY G | Married 11.27 + .01 | Nasign 1233-125 Nasign 1233-145 Nasign 1233-146 Nasign 1233-146 Nasign 1233-147 Nasign 123 |

حيكنا من الاعل

New International Bond Issues Floating Rate Notes Banco Nazionale dei $100 1999 0.375 -100 Over 3-month Libox, Reoffered at 99.725. (Cithank Int'L) LCIVOTO (Hong Kong) Bank of Ayudhya 1.20 100 Over & moreh Liber, Neperlinkle, Fees not disclosed, Denomi ons $500,000, [Merrill Lynch.] Over 3-month Libor, Monomum interest is 9%%. Noncollable. Fact 0.125%. (Salaman Brothers In 1.) 2004 0.50 100 Essar Gujarat $200 1999 2.65 100 Over 6-month Libor, Noncollable, Fees 114%, Denominatio $250,000. (Chase Investment Bank.) Hanil Bank 1999 0.34 100 Over 6-month Libor. Noncollable. Fees 0.75%. (BJ Asic.) Lonrho Finance Public 1997 114 Over 3-month Libor, Noncellable, Fees 0.50%. Denominations Shandong Int'l Trust & Over 6-cronth Libor. Callable and redeemable of par from 1999. Fees not disclosed. (BJ Asia.) 2001 · 0.60 Investment Corp. Australia and New 1997 0.125 99.93 Zealand Banking £10,000 (UBS List) Robobank Nederland $250: 1997 - 65 100%: 99:30 Noncelloble, Fees 1966, (Swiss Book Corp.) $300 1996 6% 100.675 99.55 Noncollable, Fees 199%, (Nomera Int 1.) Commerzbank III.300,000 1999 101/2 101:10 -99:65 Noncollable, Fees 195%, (IMI Bank.) Overseas Finance (Curacao) Deutsche Bank m. 200,000 1014 1999 1014 99.50 Noncollable. Fees 18% (Deutsche Bank.) Oesterreichische ITL 200,000 1999 10 1011/6 99.30 Noncolloble, Fees 1855, (Swiss Bank Corp.) DSL Finance . C$ 125 1998 9% 101.161 99.70 Reoffered at 99.761. Noncollable. Fees 1% Paribas Capital British Columbia Y 50,000 1999 4 99.90 100.10 Non British Columbia Noncollable, Fees 0.1875%, (Merrill Lynch Int'L) 1997 3.40 F00:088 — British Columbia British Columbia Noncolloble. Fees not disclosed. Denominations 100 million yen. (LP. Morgan Securities.) 1997. 3.20 109 Caisse Nationale de Y 10,000 1999 4 100% — Noncollable, Fees 0.25%, (Nomera Int'l.) Deutsche Bank Y 50,000 - 1999 - 41/4 700.20 - 100.55 Noncollable. Fees 0.25%. [Merrit Lynch let 1] Finance (Curamo Mitsubishi Corp. Finance Mitsubishi Y20,000 2001 4.55 100.15 -Petrochemical Mitsubishi Petrochemical New South Wales Y 20,000 1997 3.20 100.087 Treasury Corp. Norddeutsche 1997 3.20 100.237 — Landesbank yen, (Nomura let'l.) Communications Robobank Nederland y 10,000 1999 4

WORLD STOCKS IN REVIEW

$360 2004 Open 100

Equity-Linked

Amsterdam

Amsterdam ended the week down slightly as tracing fell off late in Friday's session. The AEX index dipped 0.38 points Friday to close the week at 385.84 points.

Dealers were generally await-ing the outcome of the Group of Seven meeting in Naples before committing themselves on the

Among leading issues, the chemical group Akzo Nobel gained 0.30 to close at 193.50 guilders, but Royal Dutch/ Shell slipped 0.40 to 189.70. Philips lost 0.10 to end at 50.50, and Unilever gained 0.70 to end at 184.30.

Frankfurt

The Frankfurt stock market had an uncertain week in lowlevel trading, as investors waited for decisions by the U.S. and German central banks on interest rates and for the end of the G-7 meetin

The DAX index ended at 2,050.85 points, up 0.70 percent from the previous week. Commerzbank said the Frankfurt market was on the way back after sharp losses in June, when the DAX fell 5 percent. The bank expects to see the DAX at 2,350 in six months, primarily because of improved business earnings.

Bank issues were mixed.

Dresdner Bank lost 0.50 Deutsche marks to end at 378.50, but Commerzbank gained 3.50 to 331.50 and Deutsche Bank moved ahead 10 to 714.

Carmakers were strong, with VW up 2.50 to 473 and BMW up 15 to 799.

Hong Kong

Stocks fell to their lowest point in two months in Hong Kong, as continued uncertainty over U.S. interest rates and currency values kept investors on the sidelines.

The Hang Seng Index ended at 8,432.96 points, down 201.41, or 2.33 percent, from the previous week and its lowest level since May 9. Because U.S. Federal Reserve had not raised interest rates last week, brokers said investors would look to the G-7 meeting for signs of renewed currency stability.

Milan

The Milan stock exchange gained marginally in sluggist trading, the Mibtel index advancing 0.09 percent to close at end of the G-7 meeting. With regard to domestic issues, financiers were anticipating a package of economic mea-ing a package of economic mea-week at 2,162.94. ing a package of economic measures expected to be announced Thursday by the government of Prime Minister Silvio Berlusconi. The unveiling of the package was officially postponed to next week because of the G-7

Y 50,000 1997 3.10 100 100.05 Noncollable. Fees 0.15%. (RU lest.)

London

Prices fluctuated last week ending slightly higher, as dealers waited in vain for news from the U.S. Federal Reserve and the Bundesbank.

The Financial Times-Stock Exchange 100 index of leading shares closed at 2,962.4, a weekly gain of 26 points, or 0.8 percent, on publication of figures showing that Britain's the control of the control showing that Britain's trade deficit narrowed to £803 million in April, from a revised figure of £1.213 billion in ocuroders, which said it was On Tuesday, the Nikkei in-raising its 42.5 percent stake in dex had moved up to 20,834.37 U.S. investment bank Werth-eim Schroders 25 merchant bank eim Schroder to 85 percent, rose 42 pence to 1,180.

But inflationary fears and worries of higher interest rates remained.

Eurotunnel rose 9 pence to 270, after falling from gains ear-lier in the week. The result of its rights issue, published on Thursday, showed it was 95.1 percent taken up.

Paris .

The Paris Bourse ended in an optimistic mood, with the cAC-40 index Friday up 2.5 Toyota Motor Corp. rose from percent at 1,920.78 points. But 2,170 year to 2,210 year; Nissan that was still 19 percent down Motor Co. fell from 864 year to from its Feb. 2 record high of 831 year. 2,360,98 points, as trading mained thin at an estimated 1.7 nillion francs.

The market remains in the bear mode into which it slamped after the U.S. decision to raise short-term rates in Febmary. The resulting jitters on bond markets dragged Europe-an stock exchanges into their slipstream, as rates crept up in Germany and France. Of leading issues, Eurotunnel shipped 40 centimes to 22.55 francs: Pechiney International was down 2.90 francs at 146.

Singapore

Exchange ended lower this 9 to 400. CS Holding pushed week as investors stayed on the ahead 16 to 566.

Investors were waiting for sidelines for most of the five right that conditions were in trading days awaiting fresh place for a rise in economic acleads from similarly cautious tivity and sitting tight until the overseas markets.

Coupon indicated at 4 to 41/1/2. Noncullable. Convertible at or expected 4 to 8% premium. Fees 29%. Terms to be set next week. [Morgan Skorley Int 1.]

Coupon indicated at 6%-6.5%. Convertible into shares of Libery Life Association of Africa Ltd. The bonds will be collable from 1999 if the stack trade at 140% as an ac-

Libery fute Association or Amos suc. The boncs was or collable from 1999 if the stock trades at 140% or more of conversion price, Terms to be set next week. (South Africa.)

The key market indicator, the Straits Times Industrials index

Dealers said that in the first four days of the week, investors were reluctant to move before knowing the results of the U.S. Federal Open Market Committee meeting U.S. institutional funds, which played a part in last year's bull run here, were not eager to enter the market.

Even the release of improved trade figures for May failed to create any interest in the market. Volume for the week amounted to 412.66 million shares worth 1.2 billion Singapore dollars, 12.7 percent down from the previous week.

Tokyo

The Tokyo market finished the week slightly off, with the Nikkei index slipping back to 20,526.51 as investors sat back to await developments at the G-

There were some buybacks but arbitrage-linked selling per-as the yen further eased to 99 to the dollar. But its upward thrust was curbed in late trading as brokerage houses stepped up selling on their own accounts. Despite the yen's strength, which makes Japanese products less competitive abroad in terms of prices, export-led elec-tricals and autos had mixed fortimes. Somy Corp. closed at 6,030 year, off from 6,010 year a week earlier, but Sharp Corp. gained 30 year to 1,840 year.

Zurich

Zurich slipped back again in low-volume trading that failed to reach the 500 million-franc mark, as the Swiss Performance Index dropped 15.23 points to end down 0.8 percent at

Dealers said the market needed more indications of the state of companies before committing themselves, and the continued weakness of the dollar hit export-linked issues.

Despite the gloom, banks were up, with UBS gaining 12 Prices on the Singapore Stock francs to 1,164 and SBS gaining

Long Rates At Highest Level Since

By Kenneth N. Gilpin New York Times Service

Late 1992

NEW YORK - Long-term interest rates have risen to their highest level since just after President Bill Clinton was elected, as the bond market sold off after a June employment report that was much stronger than

The Labor Department said the 379,000 rise in payroll employment reported for June might have overstated the growth by as many as 100,000 jobs. But analysts said the figures, coupled with upward revisions in the number of jobs created in April and May, were consistent with an economy showing momentum.

U.S. CREDIT MARKETS

In order to slow growth to a more sustainable pace, and thus keep inflation in check, analysts said the Federal Reserve Board would probably push up shortterm interest rates for the fifth time this year.

The numbers were undeniably strong," said David H. Resler, chief economist at Nomura Securities International. Even though the employment data and anything else that happened in June was too close to previous Fed moves to have had any impact, I don't think the markets will give the Fed the luxury of waiting much longer."
The Fed made its last move in carly May. Committee met early last week to consider whether the federal funds rate should be raised zain. No decision was reached at that time, and the Fed did is the No. 1 performer. nothing Friday to indicate that it had raised the funds rate, which currently is at 4.25 percent. price of 83%, down more than % each $1,000 face amount of bonds. Its yield, which moves in the opposite direction to the price, jumped to 7.69 percent, from 7.61 percent on Thursday.

At 7.69 percent, the 30-year bond is at its highest yield since Nov. 9, 1992, when bond yields stood at 7.74 percent.

Slide of Dollar is Overplayea, Waigel Asserts

Bloomberg Business News S&P 100 S&P 500 S&P Ind Minister Theo Waigel says the NYSE Co world economy is sound and the dollar's recent slide against FT 30 the Deutsche mark should not be overdramatized.

In an interview with the DAX newspaper Welt am Sonntag, Mr. Waigel said from Naples Hong Sens that finance ministers from the World Group of Seven leading indus-Group of Seven leading indus-trial nations had discussed the world inde weakening dollar, but were not ready to act. On Saturday, Mr. Waigel had said that a further fall in the dollar was "neither desirable nor justified." But in the newspaper interview, he seemed to adopt a less urgent tone.

"The dollar right now is roughly where it was in 1990 and is very stable," he said. "For all of the G-7 nations, Naples has bolstered their determination to consolidate and stabilize the dollar in the midterm."

The dollar this year has fallen more than 10 percent against the mark, 11 percent against the Swiss franc and more than 12 percent against the yen.

Euromarts At a Glance

Weekly Sales July 7

$ New$ $ New$ 14.00 74450 2737.00 1.465.50 2130 5370 2920 8820 4550 2730 4145 52280 5370.50 267100 1.774.30 5.774.00 4.574.00 1.475.00 12.799.40 8.010.70

1,3040 11,3510 30,570 37,7430 1943 47,50 96,25 1,160,46 5,1710 1,25400 20,707.50 1446,00 4,25120 11,781.00 7,742.00 22,531,46 19,824,10 21,232,40 59,861,70 59,615.9 Source: Euroclear, Cedel. July 8

4 13/16

6-month 514 474 5 7/16 5 15/16 Devische mork 4 13/14 413/16 Powed sile; New 4 15/16 French franc 63/16 21/16

> information Read the MONEY REPORT every Saturday in the IHT

For investment

The Week Ahead: World Economic Calendar, July 11-15

Asia-Pacific

July 11 Heag Kong The Consulta-tive Committee on the New Airport and Returned Projects holds meeting Hong Kong Hong Kong branch of Swiss Bank Corp. holds news conference to ennounce the launch of a new product. Mongolia Three-day arriversary of the People's Revolution holiday. July 12 Hong Kong Chéirmán and CEO of McDonnell Douglas Corp., John McDonnett, speaks at an American Cham ber of Commerce Luncheon. New Delbi U.S. Energy Secretary, Hazai O'Leary, addresses indo-U.S. Energy Summit.

Tokyo Australian Trade Minister Sob McMullan begins a lour-day visit to Japan to discuss trade issues. • July 13 Camberra John Maitland, president of United Mine Workers, to ac-dress National Presa Club on why UNIW

Bernie Fraser to address an investment forum sponsored by Bardays de Zoete Wedt. 1

July 14

Adetaide Don Argus, man-aging director of National Australia Bank, addresses Socurities Institute of Australia on what the aconomic recovery means to

Carberra Australian Prime Ministe Paul Keating addresses Australia-Asia Women's Business forum on Australia's push Into Asia, Landon Australian Industry Minuster Pe-

to discuss investing in Australia with government and industry officials. July 15 Hong Kong Hong Kong Government issues its index of industrial production for the first quarter of 1993. Tokyo Economic Planning Agency leases monthly economic report.

Europe • July 11 Brusselle EU finance minis taxes, including value-added taxes and

Basel Governors of the central banks of price index figures released. Berlin European Commission President Jacques Delors, Trade Commissioner Leon Britten and External Altairs Com-missioner Hars van den Broek meet with U.S President Bill Clinton for EU/US sum-July 13 Frankfurt Bundesbank to London June unemployment figure leased. Forecast: Down 20,000 jobs

• July 12 Amsterdam May producer believes government should intervene in coal negotiations with the Japanese. Telepo Reserve Bank of Australia Gov. elict securities repurchase agreements Loaden June retail price index ligures

Paris French m
Day holiday.

July 15 Am

Waigel, presents 1985 draft of tederal budget to cabinet for passage. Brussels Emergency European Union surmit to resolve disputs over next EU sion cresident.

- July 11 San Jose, Call Semicon

sume dollar trading after suspension of Caracas Price controls on about 130 goods expected to take effect

صكدا من الاعل

stakes gaming on riverboass and at Carimutuel facilities Chicago UAL Corp.'s shareholders meet to vote on a $4.9 billion employee buyout plan ton The American Petrole institute lasues its weekly eport on U.S. petroleum stocks, production, imports and refinery utilization. - July 13 Washington June of ering on the Treasury's plan to rede-issues its weekly report on U.S. petroleum stocks, production, imports and refinery Washington The Mortgage Bankers As sociation of America releases its report on mortgage applications. New York Money Magazine/ABC News release their weekly consumer confi-

 July 14 Washington June monthly money supply figures released.
Wastington June retail sales figures re-on The Labor Department reports initial weekly state unemployment compensation insurance claims.

New Truth Serum for Mutual-Fund Advertising

By Susan Antilla New York Times Service

NEW YORK - It's just no fun being in the mutual fund business anymore. Portfolio managers are being told to dust off and read the company ethics policy, and fund companies are getting rapped on the knuckles for putting volatile securities in "safe" funds.

And as if all that isn't bad enough, fund companies may soon be putting up with a new The central bank's policy-set of rules that will cramp their making Federal Open Market advertising style. Among other advertising style. Among other things, the proposed new regulations would demand that a fund refrain from claiming it is the "No. 1" performer unless it

Not that a fund company would ever do that, of course. Mutual funds have resorted On Friday, the Treasury's to all manner of creative adver-benchmark 6¼ percent 30-year tising over the years, wooing tising over the years, wooing bonds were being offered at a holders of certificates of deposit to volatile bond funds that play point, or more than $7.50 for in the derivatives market, and trumpeting "first place" status whether they were No. 1 or 600.

learn that some of the short-term bond funds that supposed-ly had little more risk than the

All figures are as of close of trading Friday

181,72 1,602.52

416.01 .449.55 522.48 248.11

Stock Indexes

DJ Indus.

FTSE 100

DJ Util.

money market ("an ultra short

Last Week's Markets

Discount rate Prime rate

Call money

3646.65 + 1.71 % Prime rate 178.22 + 1.% % Federal funds rate

Herald Cribune

LIVING IN THE U.S.?

NOW PRINTED IN

NEW YORK

FOR SAME DAY

DELIVERY IN KEY CITIES

TO SUBSCRIBE, CALL

1-800-882 2884

(IN NEW YORK, CALL 212-752-3890)

16:047 - 0.47% 412.97 + 0.88% 446.20 + 0.75% Discount 518.64 + 0.74% Call month 246.33 + 0.72% 3-month i

229530 + L43 %

615.20 + 0.26 %

: From Morgan Stanley Capital Intil.

-- 0.03 %

Most recently, investors who believed the marketing hype were unpleasantly surprised to bond fund for minimal risk," ment that winds up being dissaid one) are about as stable as closed on the 95th page."

the White House staff. Watching over the flood of advertising and sales material for the National Association of Securities Dealers Inc. is R. Clark Hooper, leader of a staff of 15 who pored over 37,000 pieces of investment advertising last year — 90 percent of which was produced by mutual funds. "This year, we're running at a rate of closer to 45,000," said Ms. Hooper in a recent interview. "And 45 percent of the material sent in has to be revised" before it gets the NASD blessing to be printed or put on

When a fund ad gets bounced by Ms. Hooper's staff, it can be for any number of reasons, the most innocent of which can be some arcane technical violation of Securities and Exchange Commission rules that can be easily corrected. But fund companies also try to get away with "disclosing" the risks in ways that have no impact, said Ms.

"Sometimes they put material in a footnote that Superman couldn't read," she said. "Sometimes there's a claim in the headline that should be explained on the first page of a sales docu-

31/2 71/4

6.00 574 5.00

5 1/16 5 3/16

Ch'se

400

495

July 8 July 1

London p.m. ffx.$ 385.10 384.60 + 0.13 %

43/16

And sometimes, she added, there is a question about what the advertisement is implying. Typical is the ad that makes it sound as though there is no risk involved, as was the case with the "stable" short-term bond funds that blew up when interest rates soared earlier this year. Another neat trick in recent years has been the "No. 1 fund" claim in the category you couldn't possibly care about. The new advertising rules submitted by the NASD to the SEC mitted by the NASD to the SEC papers and a company has mis-last November propose, for ex-subcategory that is based upon the mutual funds' asset size."

Ms. Hooper said that abuses in fund advertisements tend to be quickly addressed — a persuasive claim when you consider where she gets most of her leads about the seamy side of advertising.

As it turns out, fund companies quickly inform the NASD when they see an ad that raises an eyebrow "This industry is great about self-policing," she said. "If something shows up in the newsample, that advertisements three basis points, the competimust not use any category or tion will let us know about it."

BusinessWeek

This week's topics:

- O Japan's Surging Yen Shouldn't Hurt In Long Term
- O Europe's PC Market: From Cozy To Cutthroat
- O Silicon Graphic, The Gee-Whiz Company O Can Beijing Jump-Start Its Car Industry?

O Who's To Blame For Recent Airbus Crashes?

Now available at your newsstand! BusinessWeek International

14, av d'Ouchy, CH-1096 Lausanne Tel. 41-21-617-4411

For subscriptions call UK 44-628-23431 Hong Kong 852-523-2939

INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFIED

MARKETPLACE International Conferences and Seminars

Tuesday Education Directory

Wednesday

Business Message Center Thursday

International Recruitment Friday

Real Estate Marketplace, Holidays and Travel Saturday Arts and Antiques

Plus over 300 headings in International Classified Monday through Saturday For further information, contact Philip Orna in Pans:

Tel: (33-1) 46 37 94 74 - Fax: (33-1) 46 37 52 12 Herald Eribune

SWIFTCALL COMMUNICATIONS

LONDON - NEW YORK - LONDON

 PRIVATE VOICE CIRCUITS - £10K PER ANNUM

Calls to USA - 20p per minute Japan/Hong Kong - 56p per minute

CALL: LONDON 071 488 2001, DUBLIN (01) 67 10 457

MARGINED FOREIGN

EXCHANGE TRADING

Fast, Competitive Quotes 24 Hours

Tel.: + 44 71 815 0400

Fax: + 44 71 329 3919

CURRENCY AND CAPITAL MARKET SERVICES

MEMBER SFA

CURRENCY MANAGEMENT CORPORATION PLC 11 Old Jewry - London EC2R 8DU Tel.: 071-865 0800 Pax: 071-972 0970

FOREIGN EXCHANGE & GOLD 24 Hour London Dealing Desk

ECU Terminvest PLC

29 Chesham Place

London ŠW1X 8HL

Tel.: +71 245 0088

Fax: +71 235 6599.

Member SFA.

Competitive Rates & Daily Fax Sheet Call for further information & brochure O 130+ software applications O

O RT DATA FROM $10 A DAY O Signal SOFTWARE GUIDE O Call London: (44+ (0) 71 231 3556 for your guide and Signal price list.

$32 ROUND TURN

EXECUTION ONLY

FUTURES & OPTIONS BROKERS

For further details on bow to place your listing contact: PATRICK FALCONER in London Tel.: (44) 71 836 48 02 - Fax: (44) 71 240 2254

Herald Eribune

Tackling the 'Waste' of Unemployment

NAPLES — There were few surprises in the final communique issued at the end of the summit meeting of the Group of Seven industrialized nations, but leaders made good on the promise made at the G-7 jobs conference in Detroit last March to announce special measures aimed at reducing unemployment.

While noting that economic recovery is under way, with inflation at the lowest levels in over three decades, the statement pointed out that it was still "an unacceptable waste" for over 24 million people to be unemployed in G-7 countries alone

Apart from measures aimed at maintaining low-inflation growth, the communique commits G-7 members to tackling unemployment through the following structural reforms:

• Increasing investment in better basic education and on-the-job training. Reducing rigidities in the labor market that add to employer costs or deter as trade and the environment, and trade job creation, and eliminating excessive and labor standards. regulations.

• Promoting the spread of new, jobcreating technologies, including the development of an integrated worldwide information infrastructure.

• Promoting job creation in areas where new needs exist, such as environmental protection.

On trade, the G-7 members pledged to seek the ratification of the Uruguay Round accord of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade this year so that GATT's successor, the World Trade Organization, can be established by Janu-

The G-7 also encouraged the study of new international trade issues by the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development, especially the search for rules that would remove obstacles to foreign direct investment. It also supported study by the WTO of issues such

The communiqué called on the World Bank to strengthen efforts to reinforce private capital flows to the world's poorest countries, and asked the Paris Club of industrialized creditor nations to press ahead with debt write-offs for them. In the most desperate cases, these write-offs could amount to more than half the existing debt, U.S. officials said.

The G-7 expressed alarm at the growth of organized transnational crime, including money laundering, and promised to strengthen international cooperation to address the problem.

Finally, it was agreed that the G-7 summit next year in Halifax, Nova Scotia, should focus on ways to sustain economic growth in the 21st century, and on adapting multilateral institutions and building new ones to reflect the changing structure of the world economy.

—ALAN FRIEDMAN

SUMMIT: G-7 Leaders Shrug Off the Weak Dollar and Stress Recovery

Continued from Page 1

dollar, G-7 finance ministers fanned out to repeat the same, agreed points about exchange rates. Lamberto Dini, who as Italy's treasury minister was the main spokesman on the dollar, said the fall in the dollar against the Japanese currency lately was "neither justified nor desirable. Mr. Dini underscored agreement for European governments to step up efforts at deficit reduction and for Japan to continue stimulating its economy as it heads into recovery. But he acknowledged that "you can't dictate to markets, you can only try to persuade mar-kets."

> to our READERS LUXEMBOURG

it's never been easier to subscribe and save. Just call toll-free: 0 800 2703

WORLD CUP

TICKETS

World Cup Package (4 sects) + Hotel Semi, 3 & 4 game, final, $8,000. USA Tel-202-393-3885.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Attention visitors from the U.S.!

If you enjoy reading the IHT

when you travel, why not also get it at home?

Same-day delivery available in key U.S. oties.

Herald Eribune

ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS English specialing meetings dolly. Tel: PARS (1) 46 34 59 65, ROME 678 0320, FLANKFURT 597/265.

ATTENTION EXECUTIVES

ATTENTION EXECUTIVES Publish in the International Internat

BUSINESS

OPPORTUNITIES

OFFSHORE COMPANIES

OCRA ASIA LIMITED 24-02 Bonk of America Tower Harcourt Road, Hong Kong Tel: +852 5250772 Fax: +852 5211190

IRISH NON-RESIDENT

COMPANIES £195

Mr. Dini and Edmond Al- cials from most other G-7 counphandéry. France's economics tries to have cut a less than minister, expressed the hope authoritative figure. Although that the Naples talks would be termed the summit a success have a calming effect on curren-cy markets. "I think we sent Sunday with President Boris N. some good signals," Mr. Al-phandery said.

Some officials acknowledged that markets might be disappointed that the summit meeting did not result in any immediate concerted action to prop up the dollar, but Mr. Bentsen was careful to stress that governments and central banks retained the option of intervening in foreign exchange markets. "The one thing I don't telegraph is our future actions," he

Kenneth Clarke, Britain's chancellor of the Exchequer, summed up the view of G-7 ministers in remarks made on British television. "We are dis- Trade. cussing the state of the markets," he said, "but nobody be- tried to hide their embarrasslieves that the politicians here ment at having to scrub the should take any initiative to trade initiative, which they had leap into the markets, which ought to settle down because But French officials, who were the fundamentals are good in joined in their objections by the Big Seven countries." weak on foreign policy, the terparts just 10 days before the president was judged by offi- Naples meeting.

A.A.C.T.S. The free Anglo American AIDS counseling & treatment support siviles spouses, portners and invest of persons HLV. + to meet friends of FAACTS Monday 11 & 25, American Cathedrol, 23 Georga V Paris 8ti, 7pm

MOVING

4GS 41)

A.G.S. PARIS (33-1) 40 90 20 40 A.G.S. LONDON (44-91) 961 7595 A.G.S. BRUSSES (22-2) 224 25 00 A.G.S. BRUSSES (22-2) 224 25 00 A.G.S. MADRID (34-47) 269 71 A.G.S. BUDAPET (34-1) 163 60 50 A.G.S. PRAGER (42-2) 655 7716 A.G.S. WARSAW (48-22) 552 555 with a friendly personal touch! Tel: Paris (33-1) 48 11 71 71

☆INTERDEAN

FOR A FREE ESTIMATE CALL PARIS (1) 39201400

GROSPIRON

The Int'l movers Around the world
corefully, solely

INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFIED

REAL ESTATE

FOR SALE MONACO

PARIS & SUBURBS

REAL ESTATE

TO RENT/SHARE

PARIS AREA FURNISHED

PARIS PROMO
operiments to rent furnished or not Soles & Properly Management Services
25 Av Hoche 75008 Paris. Fox 1-4561 1020

Tel: (1) 45 63 25 60

MONTAIGNE - 95 SQ.M.

Yeltsin of Russia, Mr. Clinton's performance was marred by two events:

• His remarks on the dollar Friday, which effectively ruled out an immediate dollar support package, sent the U.S. currency plunging.

On Saturday, he was forced to withdraw a proposal that G-7 countries begin a one-year review of new ways to reduce trade barriers after President François Mitterrand of France vetoed the idea on the grounds that it could damage efforts to ratify the recently signed Uruguay Round accord of the General Agreement on Tariffs and

Mr. Clinton and his aides called "Open Markets 2000." Chancellor Helmut Kohl of Although Mr. Clinton was Germany, called the Clinton counting on the Naples talks to proposal "sort of a UFO" and improve his standing as a world criticized the last-minute way it leader and correct the percep-tion that his administration is from Mr. CLinton to his coun-

Robert Rubin, Mr. Clinton's assistant for economic policy, said in an interview that "we deferred to the French view because ratifying the GATT agreement is our highest priori-" Mr. Bentsen tried to make light of the setback on Sunday by saying, "You're not gonna win them all."

Other results of the talks included an agreement among G-7 members to pledge a total of $200 million in new grants to help Ukraine to pay for the shutting down and cleaning up of two daugerous nuclear reactors still operating at the Chernobyl plant. This is in addition to $600 million of loans and grants pledged by the European Union at its recent summit in Corfu, Greece. Senior U.S. and European officials said the total amount expected to be commit-ted for the Chernobyl shutdown and to help complete three safer nuclear reactors would be close to $1.5 billion. The money is to come from government grants and loans as well as from the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank.

The meeting also held out the prospect of more than $4 billion of World Bank and IMF funds for Ukraine over the next two years, providing the government there pursues serious economic reforms.

7th, [secr involves 2 furnished 6 hilly so 31 GERMANN, 55 sq.m. 6th theory expected may be determined in the secretary of the DOLLAR: With the G-7 Looking Complacent, Is There a Crisis Brewing?

Continued from Page 9 vention failed to arrest the dollar's decline. The current situation in the foreign-exchange market is unusual because speculators are not prominent.

But a dash of speculative excess now, even if it means a further temporary setback for the dollar, might clearly be wel-come to officials. Speculators are notoriously fickle and often easily frightened into reversing positions, buying what they had just sold and thereby capable of setting off a bandwagon in the direction intended by the intervention that caused the scare.

So the question emerges, if there's relatively little speculation, are the laconic comments about the dollar emanating from the leaders of the world's seven richest industrial democracies at their summit meeting in Naples really aimed at entic ing speculators to get active so that the next round of intervention can be successful?

"It's a very seductive thesis," says George Magnus at S.G. Warburg in London. "The situation is ripe for such a trap."
Neil MacKinnon at Citibank in London concurs, although both analysts doubt it would be a successful ploy.

Mr. MacKinnon insists that economic fundamentals are working against the dollar. "I'm not persuaded that intervention coupled with changes in shortterm interest rates can sustainably reverse the dollar's downtrend," he says, noting that previous increases in U.S. interest rates and declines in German levels have had no impact on exchange rates. Mr. Magnus reads the public cating that "no one is willing to take the measures necessary to arrest the dollar's fall or to push it up." He sees no reason to mand there will be for 10-year expect an imminent change in paper.

so high and the currency so low and likely to raise its key over- to 1.65 DM by year-end.

Avinash Persand at J.P. Mor-U.S. interest rates were not increased after Friday's June employment report that they won't other half point, which he times year

He sees the Federal Reserve that international investors feel night cost of money by half a compelled to buy U.S. assets." percentage point to 4.75 percent. That might give the dollar currency to resume its decline convinced it's headed for reuntil the Fed increases rates an cord lows of 1.39 DM and 80

He believes the dollar will dollar comeback when yields Board acting after this week's head noward 1.50 DM until on U.S. bonds have been driven data on retail sales and inflation then and subsequently recover to high and the convergence of the conver

Mr. MacKinnon does not rule out a temporary bounce in the dollar, to perhaps 1.65 DM gan in London warns, "It's some temporary respite, Mr. the dollar, to perhaps 1.65 DM wrong to assume that because Persand says. But he expects the and 105 year, but he remains wrong to assume that because

— CARL GEWIRTZ

MARKETS: It's the Time to Buy, Bond Analysts Say for mid-August.

Continued from Page 9

receive 8 basis points over Li-

The yen portion looks to be the most attractive as a price of 8 over Libor can be asset shows. swapped back into dollars for a yield of 16 over Libor.

Also scheduled for this week is the long-awaited $1.5 billion issue from the Federal National Home Board. The five-year issue of global noncallable bonds is expected to be priced between 15 and 17 basis points over benchmark U.S. government paper, saving the borrower some 3 basis points com-pared to what it usually pays to Spain will tap Japanese de-mand for yen by selling up to 150 billion yen of 10-year bonds. As the calendar for new issues shows, there is tremendous demand in Japan for pacomments preceding and dur-ing the summit meeting as indi-ernment issues. But this is largely confined to maturities of two to six years and underwriters question how much de-tap the domestic market.

and the unwillingness of Japanese to consider any currency mternational capital market

Overall, new-issue volume. The French franc nudged dropped 33 percent from the into third place behind the year opening three months of the with a market share of 8 peryear with total activity in the cent, just ahead of sterling v

The search for investments lowest quarterly volume since Given the dollar's sharp de-bor, dollar purchasers will like other than year catapulted that the down 12 percent liber and DM buyers 11 basis share of overall activity in the cent against the Deutsche mark points. - space the start of the year - it's during the second quarter, data no surprise that the dollar's compiled by Salomon Brothers share of total second-quarter activity fell to a low 31 percent. latest period valued at the a 7.6 percent share and the equivalent of $88.2 billion, the mark with 7.4 percent

Iran Airline Buys Airbuses

TEHRAN - The private Iranian sicline Safiran has signed a contract in Paris to buy three ased A-360-B4 Airbuses for more than $100 million, the newspaper Risala at reported.

Risala'at quoted Mohammed Baqer, the general manager, as saying that Safiran had been negotiating the parchase for a year with Aerospatiale, one of the four partners in Airbus Industrie. It said no bank guarantee had been required for the deal, signed after last week's agreement between France and Iran rescheduling debt that some diplomats put at $300 million.

Payments for the Airbuses will be stretched over eight years, Mr. Bager was quoted as saying. The contract covers equipment and spare parts. The planes, which can carry 300 passengers, were made in 1983 but had relatively low flight hours, he said.

Safiran, formed four years ago as a charter transport airline, will use them domestically and on regional routes to such destinations as Middle Eastern and Central Asian countries.

NASDAQ NATIONAL MARKET

| DAG IMIII | | | - | المناجعة ا | | ` | |
|---|---|---------------------|---------------|---|--------------------------|--|--|
| ated trading for week | Stocks_ | Div | Υ¥ | Scales 100s High | Low | Cise | Onge |
| (Continued) | Kevilin KevnSc KeyPrd KeyTech | | Ξ | 16 214 35 315 363 474 211 615 | 黎 | 2% 4% | +4 |
| Soles fv Yld 1005 High Low Cae Chge | KeyTm KeyFn KeysHrt | 1.26 1.04 | د | 977 7Va 726 3194 49 3394 | 50% 30% 31% | 6% 31% 31% | ************************************** |
| 10 34 112 22% 21% 22% 17 503 14% 14 14 230 2% 15% 15% 15% 10 37 102 16% 15% 16% 16% | Kimbal KndrL wi KndrLr Kinetic | .84 .15 | 38 - 44 | 619 2344 69 544 194 131/2 1275 344 | 22% 4% 13 3% | 2274 5 1374 376 | +22 |
| 40 2.6 7 2234 2244 2244 + 44 403 1344 13 1336 — 16 10 1.9 1 16 16 16 — 15 | Kinnerd Kinness Kinschn | | 30 | 436 3% 1832 4% 1674 9% | 3% 3% 8% | 3% 4% 9% |   |
| 137 376 314 375 - 16 - 5 36 36 36 - 16 - 97 2636 25 2574 + 14 - 266 4 336 376 + 14 | Kleinrt Knape¥ KnwjW Kodia | ₩, | | 7 12 82 28% 73365 5% 114 6% | 12 1874 274 676 | 敠 | -1% -2 -2 |
| | Kolinas Koline Kolini pr | | = | 54 141/2 3207 % 1693 % 5007 20% | 10% 10% | 14% % | +% |
| 212 916 814 9 + 174 = 6436 15 1346 1446 136 = 46201 1736 1546 1736 + 136 | Kornag Kopin Kass Kranas | | Ξ | 4493 1014 331 1314 984 17 | 11 124 1572 | 躁 | -1% -1% |
| 6 6.4 382 1096 1096 1096 | Krug Krystol Kulcke Kurzwell | .171 | 4.9 _ | 159 3% 1295 11% 2021 16% 201 314 | 3W. 13% 2% | 3 ¹ / ₂ 14 ¹ / ₂ 3 ¹ / ₄ | -2 +% |
| 1758 346 3 346 — 44 418 18 18 — 5 95 2 1½ 1½ — 16 433 644 644 64 | Kushi c wi | ١. | Ξ | 6584 118 ₂ | (1) 2/4 | | +1/4 |
| 2 2.6 386 8% 8% 8% 2 114 1% 1% 1% | LATSet | | | L |  | 4 50. | _ |
| - 5510 25 23 1/2 24 1/2 1/2 1 5370 20 1/2 19 19 19 20 - 1/2 1 1 1/2 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 | LCI Int s LCI Int Pf | 1 .25 .10 | 14 | 4675 1694 1127 2494 26 714 | 14% | 14% 22% 7 | 134 |

THE AMERICAN UNIVERSITY OF PARIS

resides seutoro, very bright, combo sops. F3,700. Tel: 1-43 26 69 30

PARIS AREA UNIFURNISHED

Embassy Service YOUR REAL ESTATE

AGENT IN PARES

Tel: (1) 47.20.30.05

EMPLOYMENT

GENERAL POSITIONS WANTED

PRESECT PRICE, 28, seeks employment worldwide, French Licenses valid for any land of circusts. Twist jet engine and 8000 rating. Tel: Paris $33-11 32 66 80. Face Paris $33-11 42 24 34 67

EDUCATIONAL POSITIONS AVAILABLE

ECONOMIST with Ph.D. and teaching experience specialized in International Trade and Finance, to such part-fire for Fall sensitive 1994. French work pareit received. Send CV to Professor FATEM. The American University of Paris 31, ownue Basquet. 7500. Poris.

NGLISH TEACHEIS, bilingtol, experi-enced, full-fine. Legal or financial knowledge preferred. Tet Cybele Langue - Paris (1) 42,89,18,26. AUTO RENTALS

RENT FROM DERGI AUTO WESTEND: FF 515 SPECIAL OFFER - 7 DAYS: FF 1499 PARES TBL: (1) 45 87 27 04 HEALTH/MEDICAL

SERVICES

LEGAL SERVICES DIVORCE FAST. $295.00, P.O. Box 8040, Anchem, CA 92802. Call/Fax (714) 968-8695 USA. LOW COST FLIGHTS

THE BEST FARES TO THE UNITED STATES Tel PARS 1-40 13 02 02 or 42 71 46 94 Fore 1-42 21 44 20 MINITEL 3615 ACCESSVOYAGES Tel: LYON 78 60 67 77 or 72 56 15 95

ACCESS VOYAGES

BOOK NOW by phone with credit card Government Leance: 175111

| 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150

| Second | S

| Div Yiel 360 High Line City Class | Startes | Div Yiel 700 High Line City City City | Div Yiel 700 High Line City City City | Div Yiel 700 High Line City City City | Div Yiel 12 | 170 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | 170 | Div Ytd. 1806 High Law Cise Chare

Tel: +353 1 6618490 Fex 6618493 WHOLESALE GROUP. Our company is specialized in closeout brand name products. We are looking for new sortests in Eastern and Western European countines. We have permanent stock in shoes and apparelts. We are interested in dealing with other groups like us. No traders. Fax Belgium + 32-3-541 77 33. Sources of copied available for avestments worldwide. Real estate, business start upon refinance. Long terms - best rates - broker fees paid and protection. Fact your proposal summary to: Fee Seet levestment Group, Inc. After Freezied Department Fees (307) 43 5035 (Panama).

ASTON CORPORATE TRUSTES LTD 19, Peel Road, Douglas, life of Mon Tel: 0624 626571 Fax 0624 625126

WHOLESALE SOURCES. The world will scon stort to opply the GATT Agreement. So you will need tources for products from around the world. We will provide you with 3,000 sources and over 40,000 products from around the globe. For smore free information, send your request to International Durectones, Pollons 6209 Maldach, Sources and Arobia or four in 10 766-2-528-14(3).

AGENTS NEEDED. My company First Security Profile Boncorp are investing in protects secured by A-ples rated activated. Are you working in 12 of more than 12 of the mortal Please contact as of fax +41 (8) 122 3340 Switzerland

CHTSHORE BANK with Class A licence. Full sections of contact of the contact for the contact

OFFSHORE COMPANIES
Free professional consultations Worldwide incaparations lamediate availability
Full confidential services Lamed montrepatities

gra 91av. Lanada (SDA) 942 6169.
COMMODITIES OUR BUSINESS. Any land of trading will do for you. Contact Tal- 973-215655 Fex 215355, ABC, P.O. Box 2171, Belwan.
OFFSHORE COMPANIES: JPCR, 1/5 Charch Steet, Douglas, late of Man. Tal: (DE24 627529 Trans (DE24 629662.
HONG KORNG CO. 5520 Annual Co. HONG KONG CO. $520. Annual cost $420. SR Ltd. 771, 25 Queen's Rd. C HK. Tel: 852-5250275 Fax: 852-8400217

OFFSHORE COMPANIES. For free brochure or advice Tel; London 44 81 741 1224 Fax: 44 81 748 6558 BUSINESS TRAVEL 1st/Business Class Frequent Travellers to Griets/Australia/Africa/No. 8. Sc. America. Sove up to 50%. No cou-pors, no restrictions. Imperiol Canada [ct. 514:341-720] Fas 514:341-7998.

Perfect condition, refined decoration.
Porting, FT32,000 net.
REANCOIS Ter - neer
45 sq.m. double studio, chorm, colm.
FT10,000 net. COREM
Tel 1-45 89 92 52 Fax 45 65 44 13 BUSINESS MESSAGE CENTER BUSINESS SERVICES AVAILABLE CAPITAL

$AVE ON International Phone Calls

Now you can call the U.S. and save as much as U.S. and save as much as So compared to local phone conspanies or calling and plants. Call from home, office or hotels and count surcharges. Available in all countries. Call now for rates and see have you can begin saving today. Lines open 24 hours. kaliback

Tel: 1/206-284-8600 Fax: 1/206-282-6666 417 Second Averue West Secrete, WA 98119 USA

SERVICED OFFICES YOUR OFFICE IN PARIS

is ready when you need it, even for a cospile of hours.

• Fully functional modern offices and conference rooms to need by the hour, day, mostly, etc...

• Your locked or personant base a presige making address. All services B E even.

• If you have a service and the services are services.

• Total (1) 4471.3636. Fax (1) 4266.1560

BRUSSES - BELGRAM Your office & oil vervious Tel: 32-2-534 85 54 Fee: 32-2-534 02 77

FINANCIAL SERVICES PRIME BANK

agence Champs Elysees

Tel: (1) 42 25 32 25 Fee (1) 45 63 37 09

YOUR HOME IN PARK

Luxury rentals & sales 31 rue de Monoscu, Paris 79008

Tel: (1) 45 63 17 77

LAMY, 75116 PARIS 5 Ave. Fierre 1er de Sarbia Tek 1-40 70 18 84 or 1-47 23 53 14 Short and Long Term Rentots

CAPITALE . MATTHERS

MARAIS - CHATELET superb top floor 100 sq.m. doplex, beams, fereplace, charming view, very sussy. F11,000 XVIIth cent, balding, Tel. 1-0723 0484

GUARANTEES
Venture Copital Business Fisuacione Real Estate Long Terms Financio and Financio Georgentees
All Types of Projects
No Comession Unit Francial
Brokers Protected REPRESENTATIVE Needed to act or Liaison for in the processing of them flooring applications.

Piezza reply in English VENTURE: CAPITAL CONSULTANT: Investment Bunders
16311 Venture Bird, Soile 999
findino, Colifornia 91436 U.S.A.
Teles: 651355 Venture BisA
fee: No.: (818) 905-1698
Tel.: (818) 789-0422

CAPITAL AVAILABLE

FUNDS AVAILABLE FOR ALL BUSINESS PROJECTS
LETTES OF CREDIT
BANK GUARANTIES
OTHER ACCEPTABLE COLLATERAL

FUNDS AVAILABLE TO PURCHASE Letters of Credit Book Guarantees Other Acceptable Collecteral Booked by Private Investors THIRU MALIOR INT'L SANICS CAPITAL SUPPORT CORP. U.S. (714) 757-1070 Fex 757-1270

NORLD AVIATION - SCHEDULED FLIGHTS, 1st, business, occupany of lowest fores. Tel FT Peris (1147551313) HOLIDAY RENTALS PARIS & SUBURBS 146, ALESIA, 75 sem. ground floor with 80 sem, gorden, very quiet and charming, 178,700 net. 1-4545 3337 along the road to Poitiers had a cooler seat than the riders in the Tour.

Tour Continues to Take a Toll on Riders

the big picture.

and carried on, protecting a

That was more than enough

By Samuel Abt.

mal Herold Tribune TRELISSAC, France - The Curse of the Rainbow Jersey sounds like the title of a novel Lance Armstrong might read during a bicycle race, but it's not. He insists it's autobiogra-

Since he won the rainbowstriped jersey of the world champion in the professionals' road race in Oslo last summer, Armstrong has had problems winning again in Europe. Everybody knows who he is now, he says accurately, and nobody will let him make an unaccompanied attack in a race.

This's always going to attract attention," the 22-year-old American rider for Motorola said Sunday morning, referring to his jersey. It travels in a crowd, and so Armstrong did again in the Tour de France's cighth of 21 stages, a 218.5-kilometer (135.7-mile) slog from behind the leader, but has not with the sci-fi name of Nonbeen able to come close to individual victory.

He finished 53d among the 176 riders. So far in the 81st ished 2:16 down.

The rider who finished first Sunday wore the jersey of the TVM team from the Netherlands. He is Bo Hamburger, a Dane, who easily pulled away from Angel Camargo, a Colombian with Kelme, in the last few dozen meters. A fine climber, Camargo proved again that there is no such thing as a Colombian sprinter.

companions in a long break- a week of stages meaningless in away on a scorching day over rolling countryside, Luc Leblanc, a Frenchman with Festina, and Rolf Aldag, a German with Telekom. Hamburger was timed in 5 hours, 9 minutes, 27 seconds at a speed of 42.3 kilometers an hour (26 mph). Ca-margo was a second slower and the two others four more seconds behind. The pack, including all the overall leaders, fin-to put him in the yellow jersey if The yellow jersey of the overbreakaway had held the Tour, Armstrong has been rac-ing strongly enough to rank in eightn place overall, 42 seconds

MG, despite a crash in a village

MG, despite a crash in a village

MG, despite a crash in a village Leblanc was 3:20 behind the tron. Museeuw scrambled up start of the stage and succeeded only in reducing that by 2:16, five-second overall lead on which lifted him to 14th place Gianluca Bortolami, an Italian with Mapei-Clas. overall, and exhausting himself. And, because Aldag picked up Leblanc, who will never win that scholarship from MIT to more bonus seconds than Lebstudy rocket science, was the lane in sprints along the way, if major victim of Sunday's stage. the breakaway had gained more As the leader of the Festina than 3:20 it would have been team, he should have been saying himself for Monday's long jersey.

Allez Lulu, indeed. As Armana de lulu, indeed.

Third and fourth were their big rendezvous of the Tour after strong could have told him, an eye-catching jersey brings nothing but grief.
It's so much harder to race Instead Leblanc could not resist the temptation to break with this," the American had away in his native region of the said earlier, plucking at the jer-Perigord, which was festooned sey. "Even if you're had in that with banners exhorting him to "Allez, Lulu." Allez he did, going at Kilometer 106, being joined shortly by his three comjersey, they're going to follow your every move. Because of that jersey.

It just sticks out, it sticks out panions and helping build a lead that peaked at 7:30. to the eye. People assume it's dangerous

> In fact, Armstrong is dangerons and has been since he turned professional right after

But few opponents realized at first how strong a rider the man in the yellow jersey at the Texan is. Last spring he won a clutch of races in the United States, far, far from European notice. In his debut in the Tour de France last July, he slipped away in a small attack and finished first, confirming his tal-

> Then, on a rainy day in Norway, he broke away from the pack toward the end and cruised across the line, blowing kisses to the vast crowd. King Harald presented him the jersey -- and the curse that often accompanies it. Gianni Bugno, an Italian with Polti, for example, wore it the previous two years and won nothing of note be-yond the world championship. Armstrong knows that he will not win this Tour and probably will not finish it, avoiding the Alps to save his strength for the world championships on Sicily late in August.

His goals, he said, are to win a stage and "show some improvement in the time trials and the climbs."

The climbs will have to be in the Pyrenees, which start Thursday. "The last week, in the Alps?" Armstrong said. "I'm pretty sure I'm not going to do it." He and Motorola team officials also decided last year that, at his age, he was not yet ready for too many de-manding mountains and he dropped out soon after they began.

As for time trials, he would see Monday whether he is improving. The 64-kilometer race against the clock is, Armstrong said, "a little bit long for me. I've never done a time trial that ong.

"I feel I have good form, so where it I'm interested to see where it puts me compared to last year," he continued.

He finished 27th then, 6:04 behind the winner, Miguel Indurain.

"I'm starting two minutes ahead of Indurain this time," Armstrong noted, "so I better go fast. I've got to go really fast" or risk being overtaken.

Poitiers to Trelissac in the Périgord region of southwestern

Penalty Slows Schumacher, Hill Wins Prix SILVERSTONE, England --Damon Hill took advantage of Michael Schumacher's controversial stop-go penalty to cruise onds to a comfortable victory Sun-"I t day in the British Grand Prix. Hill took the lead on the 27th lap when leader Schumacher was given the black flag and ordered to take a five-second penalty for passing on the war-mup lap before the start of the

"I'm real unhappy about The stop-go penalty was a this," a stem Schumacher said. bit of a godsend for us," Hill "It's nothing I want to talk about.

Hill who had been trailing by two seconds before the German was pulled over, built a huge advantage as Schucher's Benetion Ford spent 35.5 seconds in the pits — the penalty plus braking and accelerating time.

Schumacher, who then had to deal with gearbox problems,

wiello

by 18.778 seconds in his Wilhams Renault. The time was one hour, 30 minutes, 3.640 sec-

"I think this is the best day of my life," said Hill, winning for the first time the race that his father Graham Hill, a two-time world champion, never won.
"It's like a dream. I feel this has completed the hole that my father left in his record and I'm conceded. "It would've been a titanic race right to the end." Frenchman Jean Alesi fol-sure that he'd be delighted."

lowed Schumacher to take third in his Fermi Mika Hakkinen, trying to pass Rubens Barrichello on the final turn of the race, collided with the Brazilian, crippling ooth cars. Hakkinen, his McLaren Peugeot pashed out of the gravel by the marshals, crossed the finish

cit and Hill won the 61-lap race line on the track just ahead of Barrichello's Jordan Hart, which limped across via the pit

> David Coultbard, who had to work his way from the back of the grid after stalling before the start, was sixth in the second

> Gerhard Berger, whose Ferrari was the surprise performer of both qualifying sessions, started third but retired on the 31st lap with engine trouble.

The results remained unofficial pending a meeting of the race stewards. It was not clear which incident the stewards were considering.

The controversy began when Schumacher, second on the grid, passed pole-sitter Hill be-fore the first turn of first warmm lan. Schumacher was given the black flag on the 22nd lap, but ignored it for five laps while the race director went to the Benetton pit area to explain the

"and we were all pushing quite which underwent extensive alhard and I just didn't want to terations as the part of the drive brake so hard and maybe lock for improved safety after the up my tires."

It was only the second race of the Formula One season not won by Schumacher, who retains a 33-point lead over Hill in the championship standings. Hill also beat Schumacher at the Spanish Grand Prix, where mechanical problems forced the German to drive much of the race in fifth gear.

the Formula One season, Schumacher has 72 points, Hill 39 and Alesi and Berger are tied for third with 17.

Benetton kept its commanding lead with 73 points in the constructors' standings. Williams moved into second with morning warmup. 42 points, with Ferrari falling to third with 40.

The race was the first with July 31.

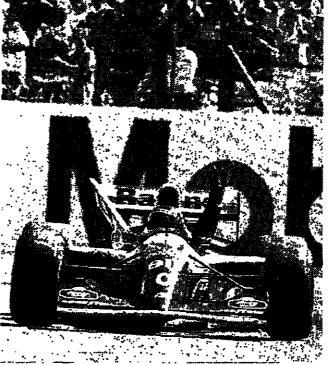

"He was going a bit slow in Formula One cars on the newly the corner," Schumacher said, remodled Silverstone circuit, deaths of Ayrton Senna and Roland Ratzenberger during the San Marino Grand Prix weekend earlier this year.

Five curves and the pit lane were reshaped to slow the cars down. As a result, the fastest lap, 209 kilometers per hour (129.9 miles an hour) by Hill, was some 19 kilometers per hour slower than Hill's lap re-After eight races, midpoint of cord set last year. The lap times were also slower, even though the track is slightly shorter.

Berger felt the full brunt of another safety change when he was fined $10,000 for breaking the 120 kilometers per hour pitlane speed limit during the

The next race is the German Grand Prix at Hockenheim on Damon Hill taking a victory lap at the British Grand Prix.

NASDAQ NATIONAL MARKET

| 100 | 7 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 |

115 4 (24) 1 (24

SPORTS

Orioles Come Up Short In Bid for AL East Lead

The Associated Press

Mark McGwire hit a two-run homer off Lee Smith in the ninth inning in Baltimore on Sunday, rallying the Oakland Athletics past the Orioles, 5-4. The Orioles were three outs away from taking over first place in the American League East when McGwire hit an 0-2 pitch over the center field wall. The homer, his seventh, followed a leadoff single by Ruben

A victory would have pushed the Orioles past the first-place New York Yankees. The Yankees, who lost to California, remained atop the division by a half-game going into the All-

Smith has four blown saves

Ron Darling allowed four nms and six hits in eight innings, walking five and striking out seven. It was Darling's first victory over Baltimore, the only AL team he had never beaten. Dennis Eckersley pitched the ninth for his 15th save. Baltimore starter Jamie Moyer retired 17 straight batters before leaving after the seventh with a 4-2 lead. He allowed two hits, walked one and struck

Pinch-hitter Brent Gates singled in a run for Oakland off Mark Eichhorn in the eighth, making it 4-3.

Scott Brosius also homered for the surging A's, who have won 14 of 17.

With the score 2-2, Rafael Palmeiro opened the Baltimore sixth with a single off Darling. After two walks loaded the bases, Chris Hoiles lined a two-

Geronimo Berroa singled in an Oakland run in the top of the first, but Baltimore took a 2-1 lead in the bottom of the inning when Harold Baines got credit for a two-run double after Sierra misjudged his two-out liner run single to left.

Brosius' eighth homer tied it in the second

Angels 9, Yankees 6: J.T. Snow homered and drove in when he gave them reason to Valentin made the 10th unassisted triple play in baseball his-tory in the sixth inning Friday night and then led off the bottom of the inning with a homer to lead Boston's 4-3 victory over

In joining Neal Ball, Bill

Wambsganss, George Burns,

Ernie Padgett, Glenn Wright,

Jimmy Cooney, Johnny Neun,

Ron Hansen and Mickey Morandini as the only players to record three outs on a single play, Valentin did not even realize he was on the verge of some-from first and second base in the top of the sixth. Valentin went to one knee to snare Marc

He stepped on second to dou-

With Seattle runners moving the Seattle Mariners.

thing special.

Newfield's liner.

Snow, a former Yankee. hit a two-run homer during the An-gels' four-run fourth off Terry Mulholland and singled in two runs in the ninth off Bob Wick-

Owen, also an ex-Yankee, hit a two-run homer in the first and Salmon led off the fifth with his 19th homer, both off Mulholland. Mulholland has allowed 23 homers in 19 starts, the second-highest total in the American League this season.

AL ROUNDUP

Tigers 6, Rangers 5: Tony Phillips hit a three-run homer with two outs in the ninth inning off Tom Henke, rallying Detroit past visiting Texas.

Henke, the fourth Texas pitcher, started the ninth and gave up a one-out single to Junio Felix and a two-out walk to Chad Kreuter, who was replaced by pinch-runner Juan

Henke got ahead of the count on Phillips, 0-2, who was fooled badly by an off-speed pitch for the second strike before hitting Henke's next pitch into the right upper deck for his 14th

Joe Boever pitched a hitless 21/3 innings in relief of starter David Wells for the win.

Cecil Fielder hit a three-run homer and a tripled for the Ti-

Blue Jays 7, Royals 3: Juan Guzman matched a career high with nine strikeouts and Joe Carter included a homer among three hits and drove in three runs as Toronto beat visiting Kansas City.

Guzman won his second straight start after breaking a streak of four consecutive losses. He allowed three runs on seven hits in seven innings. Danny Cox went the final two innings for the save in his first appearance of the season.

Carter hit a two-run homer in

John Valentin had barely given Fenway Park fans a chance to relish his historic moment John Valentin or run back to Griffey Jr. of Seattle for the first, so the Boston shortstop started thinking he had ended thought there was one out. I looked up to see the board and realized there was nobody out,"

Valentin said. "So I tagged one for Philadelphia against Pittsburgh in 1992. The previ-

was by Hansen of the Washing-

After some handshakes in the dugout, Valentin then homered off Dave Fleming, touching off ton Senators at Cleveland in homers.

a three-homer outburst by the RBI single."

"The guy didn't run, so I

the inning with a double play.

Valentin Adds Bonus to Triple Play

Tim Salmon also homered as for the final Toronto runs as the California beat New York at teams ended the season series with six wins each. Carter was

> Red Sox 9, Mariners 2: Rich Rowland had a homer among three hits and drove in two runs as Boston --- worst in the American League in batting — came alive at home with 13 hits in a victory over Scattle. Boston entered the game with a .263 batting average. But Jim Converse lasted just 1% innings for Seattle, allowing five runs

Rowland hit a two-run homer into the screen atop the left-field wall in the third, his sixth of the season.

The Red Sox, who scored two more runs in the second on a throwing error by catcher Dan Wilson, added two more in the fifth on Scott Fletcher's RBI groundout and the first major league error by shortstop Alex Rodriguez, the 18-year-old who made his debut on Friday.

■ In Saturday's games: Mariners 7, Red Sox 4: Edgar Martinez hit two solo nomers, Tino Martinez had a three-run shot and Mike Blowers drove in two runs with singles as Scattle beat Boston at

Ken Griffey Jr. had a single in five appearances and his homer total remained at 33 for

Rangers 10, Tigers 4: At Detroit, the Rangers, who had 18 hits, jumped on John Doherty for three runs on five hits in the first. By the time he left after 5% innings, the visitors had tagged him for eight runs, 14 hits and

Juan Gonzalez and Ivan Rodriguez homered for the Rangers and Kenny Rogers allowed three hits in seven innings. Travis Fryman hit a two-run homer in the Detroit first, his 13th, and Juan Samuel hit his fourth homer in the seventh,

Blue Jays 9, Royals 4: Pat Hentgen pitched seven effective innings and Toronto ended its seven-game home losing streak. Hentgen won his fifth decifour runs and Spike Owen and the eighth, his 19th, to account sion in a row, giving up two major-league lead at 33 as the Giants beat the Philadelphia

Neither player homered Saturday, when Frank Thomas of the Chicago White Sox hit his

Williams now has 10 homers

Griffey, Williams and Thom-

"I refuse to think about stuff

er Maris 1961 record of 61 like that," Williams said. "I've got a job to do. A solo home run is no more important than an

Three hits Friday - he also in his last 17 games. He hit three ble Mike Blowers and trotted a San Francisco. The National Phillies, 3-2.

order behind him.

32d.

It was the first unassisted tri- in the first two games with Dar-ple play since Morandini made ryl Strawberry in the batting ous one in the American League as are on pace to challenge Rog-

Which was one more homer singled —gave Williams 82 this than Matt Williams hit later in season, 43 for extra bases.

Houston's Craig Biggio stepping high over the Cubs' Mark Parant on a force at second.

nine and improved to 3-0 Kamieniecki took the loss.
against Kansas City.

Orioles 8, Athletics 7: Jeffrey

Ed Sprague's three-run homer off the foul pole in left off the ninth inning as Baltifield gave the Blue Jays a 4-1 more rathed from five runs lead in the fourth against Bob connected for New York, which led 3-0 after four.

New York, Spike Owen drove run, and Chris Sabo also hoin three runs, including one mered for the Orioles. with a single during California's five-run fifth inning.

Owen also scored the tying run on a double by Chili Davis in the fifth and had a two-run single during a three-run seventh that made it 8-3. Phil

NBA and Players

NEW YORK - Judge Kevin

Duffy of the U.S. District Court has given the National Basketball Association and its players until 10 A.M. Tuesday to work out details on a salary cap, free

If not, the case will go to trial for one day only and Duffy will decide on a new system - one

The judge said the two sides were using the court as a bargaining chip. Similar suits were filed in 1976, 1983 and 1988.

The major issue appears to be

Glenn Robinson, chosen first in the draft by the Milwaukee that neither side might like.

agency and the draft.

the salary cap.

Given Deadline

By U.S. Judge

runs on six hits. He struck out Leftwich got the victory. Scott Hammonds homered leading down to beat visiting Oakland. Rafael Palmeiro had three Angels 10, Yankees 5: At hits, scored twice and drove in a

Ruben Sierra went 4-for-5 with his 19th homer and three Matt Nokes homered twice RBIs for Oakland, and Mike for the Yankees. Pat Kelly also Bordick also homered.

Indians 4, Twins 3: Dennis Martinez pitched his seventh straight victory and Eddie Murray hit a two-run homer to lift visiting Cleveland over Minnedating to mid-May. He allowed six hits in seven innings and struck out seven.

Martinez extended his streak

White Sox 11, Brewers .7: Frank Thomas hit his 32nd homer and drove in five runs to lead the visiting White Sox past Milwaukee for their fifth straight win and 17th in 21

Thomas went 3-for-5 with two doubles. Norberto Martin and Tim Raines each three hits apiece for the White Sox.

Scott Sanderson allowed eight hits and six runs in six innings, while Ricky Bones was hammered for 11 hits and eight runs in six innings.

SIDELINES

Mason Wins Scottish Open by Stroke

GLENEAGLES, Scotland (Reuters)—Carl Mason chipped in twice in successive holes Saturday to win the Scottish Open by one stroke over fellow Englishman Peter Mitchell.

Mason, 41, shot 68 and got his second victory in 21 years on the European tour just four months after he won his first tournament. Mark McCumber came from seven shots back with a 65 and led Bob Lohr by one shot going into Sunday's final round of the Anheuser-Busch Golf Classic in Williamsburg, Virginia. (AP) Fred Couples and Curtis Strange on Sunday became the latest Americans to withdraw from the British Open.

Eubank Ketains Title on Decision

LONDON (AP) -- Chris Eubank defended his World Boxing Organization super middleweight title Saturday with a unanimous 12-round decision over Brazilian Manricio Amaral.

• The championship belt Muhammad Ali won in 1964 by beating Sonny Liston goes on sale Monday at Sotheby's in Cuban super-heavyweight champion Roberto Balado, 25, was killed when his car collided with a train in Havana.

For the Record

Bucks, has made no secret of Scott Sterens' $17.1 million, four-year offer from St. Louis, wanting to be the first NBA player to get a $100 million conmaking him the NHL's highest-paid defensemen, was matched by

Cardinals Top Fading Braves

Mark Whiten hit a three-run homer in support of Allen Wat-son, and the St. Louis Cardinals reached the All-Star break at 500 by beating the slumping Atlanta Braves, 6-1, Sunday. The Cardinals emered the three-day All-Star break at 42-42, taking two of three games from the Braves following a five-game losing streak. The Braves, 52-33, have lost nine of the past 15 games.

Watson allowed one run and five hits in seven innings. The left-hander walked one and struck out four. John Smoltz, victimized by a four-run fourth inning, allowed five hits, four runs, walked two and struck out four in seven innings in Atlanta.

The Braves took a 1-0 lead on rookie third baseman José Oliva's first major-league homer, a shot over the center field fence in the second inning.

In the St. Louis fourth, Geronimo Pena led off with a double, took third on a grounder and scored on a wild pitch. After Ray Lankford and Todd Zeile walked, Whiten, who drove in six runs in the threegame series, hit his ninth homer, over the right-center field fence.

The Cardinals added two Wohlers on an RBI double by Gregg Jefferies, who stole third and came home on catcher Charlie O'Brien's throwing ex-

In Saturday's games: Braves 5, Cardinals 3: David Justice homered in the fourth, then doubled and scored the winning run in the sixth for Atlanta at home against St. Louis. Fred McGriff doubled in and scored in the fourth, then launched a 439-foot homer to break a 3-3 tie in the sixth. Tom Glavine, who reached 10 wins before the All-Star break for the fourth straight ear, retired 14 of the last 15 Cardinals he faced. Greg McMichael came on to strike out the side in the ninth for his 18th save, one shy of his 1993

Brian Jordan, left fielder for the Cardinals, broke four ribs in an collisional with third basement Todd Zeile in the second inning while chasing a foul fly, which landed about 200 feet down the line. Zeile was not injured. Cubs 7, Astros 3: Sammy Sosa drove in three runs and Young gave up one run and three hits in five innings. He left early because of a strained right elbow. Chuck Crim relieved to start the sixth and Jeff Bagwell led off with his 27th home run. Two outs later, Luis Gonzalez hit a solo homer.

Sosa list a sacrifice fly in the first and a two-run single in the second.

Giants 3, Phillies 2: Steve Scarsone led the attack as the Giants handed All-Star pitcher Danny Jackson his first road loss of the season.

Scarsone had two hits, scored twice and drove in a run in support of William VanLandingham. Rod Beck got the final four outs for his 18th save. sending Philadelphia to its fifth straight loss, matching their worst run this season. Jackson allowed three runs two of them carned, on 10 hits over six innings. He struck out eight and walked two, one intentionally.

Marins 4, Rockies 2: At Miami, Pat Rapp lost his no-hit bid on Mike Kingery's two-run homer - Colorado's only hit with two outs in the seventh

Rapp got the first two outs in the seventh before walking pinch bitter John Vander Wal Kingery followed by hitting Rapp's 3-1 pitch over the wall in right for his third homer. Rapp, who struck out six and walked a club record eight, was removed from the game for

NL ROUNDUP John Johnstone, who finished the eighth. Robb Nen pitched a perfect ninth to complete the combined one-hitter, the first in Marlin history.

Reds 5, Pirates 3: Hal Morris drove in a pair of runs and pitcher Jose Rijo doubled and scored the game-winner as the Reds extended Pittsburgh's misery at Riverfront Stadium. The Pirates have lost nine straight at Riverfront since July 2 of last year. They've also runs in the eighth off Mark dropped four in a row overall and eight of 10. The Reds have won eight of nine to open a 31/2game lead over Houston in the NL Central.

Rijo gave up homers to Jay Bell and Dave Clark to account for all of the Pirates' runs. Jeff Brantley got out of a two-on jam in the ninth for his 11th save. Dodgers 8, Mets 3: Rani Mondesi homered and drove in

Henry Rodriguez also hit home runs as Los Angeles beat visiting New York Ramon Martinez allowed three runs and five hits in 7%

four runs and Mike Piazza and innings. He walked two and struck out eight. Expes 5, Padres 1: Larry

Walker hit a two-run homer in the sixth inning and Montreal remained unbeaten in eight games against San Diego thig

Walker's 16th home run broke a 1-1 tie and gave the Visiting Expos their 18th win in 20 games against the Padres over the past two seasons. Butch Henry held San Diego to one run and six hits in 7%.

Montreal's Lou Frazier Anthony Young won for the reached base to lead off the sixth first time in eight starts as Chi-caro defeated visiting Houston. shortstop Ricky Gutierrez, his 21st this season. One batter latter. Walker homered on a 2-1 pitch into the left-field stands.

International Recruitment Every Thursday

Contact Philip Oma Tel.: (33 1) 46 37 93 36 Forc: (33 1) 46 37 93 70 OF YOUR necrest

IHT office

United States 13: 5, Florio Vo GB-MG, 14. 6. Diamolidine Abdoulaparev

or representative

- Chinolidine Abdouleparev, Uzbekiston 4. Dionolidine Abdouleparev, Uzbekiston Polit, 21; 7, Miguel Lodurain, Spain, Bonesko 30; 8. Lazace Armstrong, United States, Mater

olo, 42; 9, Armand De Las Cuevos, Franci Casteranio, 48; 10, Tony Rominger, Switzer of circ laws consisted on the $14-bilmeter (2.25-mile) Silverstone circuit — a tehni distance of 300.6 bilmeters (122.6 miles) for the lape—and winner's circuit (122.6 miles) for the lape—and winner's circuit time and overese speed; 1. Demon Hill, Britale; Willoria: Renoul; 60. 1 hour, 30 minutes; 23.46 seconds, 202.16 lab (125.407 min); 2. Michael: Schroncher, Germony, Benefiton First, 69, 19.776; seconds behind; 2. Jeon Alesi, Franco, Ferrori, 69, 19.778; s. J. J. 4. Miltor Holichen, Financi, McLorne Piezzoné, 69, 12.786; s. J. 1. Jeon Alesi, Franco, For College (12. Jeon Alesi, Franco, For Col

69, 198,728 3.D.7 4. Aliko Hotskinen, Finand, Akd. aren Persect, 69, 1.50459-3.L.5 4. Rubers Barrichella, Bruzh, Jerden Hart, 60, 11:07.25 3.D.; 4. David Coutherd, Bribein, Williams Renoult, 59; 7. Uliya Kolavena, Jason Tyrreit Yanada, 59; 8. Helian-Harad Frentzen, Germann, Subertinada, Beretton Ford, 59; 10, Caristian Hittiacida, Bruzh, Footwerk Ford, 58.
Grand Prix after standings (after 8 ruses): 1. Alichael Schumacher, Germann, 72. Pohlat; 2. Deston Hill, Bettyle, 59; 2. Germann, 73.

points; 2 Dector Hill, Estinic, 39; 3, Gettors Berger, Austrio, 17; (fig), Jean Alagi, France

AUTO RACING

British Grand Prix

SCOREBOARD

BASEBALL

Major League Standings .602 .600 .523 .644 .653 Hauston 51. Lauis Saturday's Line Scores Regers, Whiteside (8) and I. Rodriguez; Doherty, S. Davis (6), Codaret (7) and Flo-herty, W-Rogers, 10-4, L-Coherty, 6-7, HRS-Texas, I. Rodriguez (10), J. Gonzalez

(13). Defroit. Fryman (13), Somuel (4).

Knasos City 100 001 811—4 9 4

Torasto 010 330 60x—9 9 6

Allocki, Belinda (5), Magnarie (7) and Mocfarlone: Hentpen, Castillo (8) and Knorr.

iston 198 128 600—4 11 2 Bosic-M. Hill (6), King (7), Ayala (8) and D.

C. Turner; Komlenlecki, Harris (5), X. Her-nandez (7), P. Gibson (9) and Nokes. W.-Lettwich, 47. L.-Kamlenlecki, 5-5. HRS—New York, Nokes 2 (6), Kelly (2), Oakland 813 830 969—7 16 Ballimore 280 960 161—8 12 Baltimore 280 99 191—8 12 1
Ontiveros, Vosbero (5), Acre (7), Toylor (7), Laiper (8), Welch (9) and Steinbach; Fernandes, Williamson (5), Mulls (8) and Tockett, Holies (9), Wi-Mulls (3-1, L-Welch, 2-4, HRB-Ocksond, Bordick (2), Sterro (19), Sal-HR3—Octiond, Bordick (27, 3mm.)
HR3-Octiond, Bordick (27, 3mm.)
HR3-Cottiond, Bordick (27, 3mm.)
HR Martinez, Mesa (8), Russeli (9) and Pen Deshales, Stevens (6), Guithrie (8) and Walber Morfinez, Mesic Vo. Guthrife (8) and Warust Destades, Sievera (6), Guthrife (8) and Warust W.-Morfinez, 8-4, L.-Deshales, 4-7, Sv.-Russ (13), HR.-Cleveland, Murray (13), Chicago 162 302 239-17 13 Altworkee 189 628 391- 7 13 HR5-Chicogo, Thomas (32), Karkevice (10). (27). Gonzesez (7). Philodelphio 000 100 108—2 11 2 Saw Francisco 101 991 992—3 12 2 (18).

Celerade 909 908 209—2 1 1
Fleride 090 021 18x—4 7 1
Freeman, G. Herris (7) and Girardi; Rape, Johnstone (7), Nen (9) and Santiago, W—Rape,
5-2. L—Freeman, 7-2. Sv—Nen (9), HRS—Co-lorado, Kirpery (3), Flerido, Conine (14).

Pithstorah 100 209 900—3 7 1
Cincianah 101 111 90x—5 20 9
White, Smith (5), Wanner (2) and Sleught: White. Smith (5), Wagner (7) and Slought; Rije. McEirov (7), Carrasco (1), Brantler (9) and Taubensee. W—Rije. 8-4. L—White, 2-5. Sw—Brantler (11), HR3—Pittsburgh, Bell (9), Wilson; Valdez, Haward (5), Bankhead (7).

Fassos (8), Balley (7) and Bernyhill, W—Besto, 4-10, L—Valdez, 9-1, Sv—Ayula (13), HRS—Sactifie, E. Martinez 2 (10), T. Martinez
Martinez (10), T. M New York Friday's Line Scores AMERICAN LEAGUE
Cattornic 000 000 003—3 4 1
New York 010 000 182—4 11 1
Br. Anderson, Lowis (8), B. Potterson (8),
M. Leiter (8), Grobe (9) and Alvers. C. Turner (9); M. Perez, Howe (9), Wickman (7) and Stanley, W.-Wickman, 4-1, L.—Grohe, 1-4, HR—New York, O'Neill (15). Clayeland 800 804 191—6 10 1 HR—New York, O'Neill (15).
Cisveland 809 894 183—6 10 1
Minneseta 802 100 91x—8 6 8
Grimsley, DiPoto (3). Mesa (3) and S.Alomar; Tepani, Gethrie (3). Willis (8). Apullera (9) and Wolflock, W.—Taponil, 95. L.—Grimsley, 1-1. Sv—Asullera (17). HRS—Cleveland, Soerga (11). Thome (12). Minnesota, Mack (11). Youngs City 82 191 822—6 2 0
Torosto 910 829 296—5 9 9
Cone, Srewer (7). Picturdo (7). Montgomery (9) and Mayne; Stewart, W.Williams (8), Hall (8) and Borders, Knorr (8). W—Pictorda, 3-2. L—Hall, 1-1. Sv—Montgomery (14). HRS—Kanasa City, Hamelin 2 (16). Howard (1). Torosto, Olerud (7).
Oskiesad 900 818 902—2 9 1
Baltimare 823 825 60x—13 15 1 Saltimore 823 853 80x-13 15 1 B. Witt, Horsman (3), Rayes (5) and He-

mand; Mussina, T. Bolton (8), Poole (9) and Helias, W.—Mussina, T.-4, L.—8,Wift, 7-4, HR—Baltimore, Holles (17). Mussing, 13-4 L-B.Wift, 7-8. Imore, Holles (17). 967 010 001-3 8 1 980 001 982-1 7 1 Applea Box was and Hos-Fleming, Risley (6), Gossage (8) and Hos-Fleming, Risley (6), Gossage (8) and Rowland. Fleming, Rister (6), Gassage (8) and Hassatman; Nabhaiz, K.Ryan (9) and Rowland.
W-Nabhaiz, 1-2. L.—Ristey, 6-2. Sy.—K. Ryan (7), HR3.—Seaffle, Blowers (7), Baston, Jn.
Volentin (6), Brunansky (6), Rowland (5), Topass
881 225 888—3 6 8
Defroit 918 322 886—7 18 1
Folordo, Corpenter (5), Dn. Smith (6), Howel
(6), Bohanan (7) and L. Rodrisusz; Balchar
Gardiner (7) and Kreuter, W—Belcher, 7-9
L.—Folordo, 4-5 89—Gardiner (3), HR3.—06 L-Falardo, 45. Sy-Gardiner (5), HR5-De-troit, Pleider (20), Felix (13).

Sere. Dr.Johnson (6), McCoskill (6) and Karkovice, Lavelliere (8); Miranda, No-nurro (6), Lloyd (8) and Mathew, W.—Bere, 5-2. L.—Mirande, 1-1, Sv.—McCoskill (3), 112 876 800 88—5 14 120 118 888 61—6 11 (11 instings) Swindell, Veres (6), Tallones (7), Hudek (7) and Eusebio: Morgan Builinger (7), Bay-Colorado

000 000 200--2 5 1
Florida 900 207 282--5 7 1
Pointer, Haimes (77), Biair (7) and Girardi;
Weother & Manthews (77), Nan (7) and Girardi; Weother & Manthews (77), Nan (7) and Gonthaga.
W-Weathers. 8-7. L.—Paister, 2.3. Sw—Nen
(8). MRS—Colorado, Girardi (3). Florido.
Sheffield (18). Conine (13).
Pittaburgh 30 100 900--4 7 1
Cincinnoti 98 120 902--12 14 9
Lieber. Batierd (4). Minor (6). Devey (7) and Staucht; Smiley, Fortugno (9) and Taubensee. W—Smiley, 9-8. L.—Lieber, 4-4.
MRS—Pittsburgh, Hunter (10). Cincinnoti, Howard (5). Taubensee (7). Howard (5), Taubensee (7).

Hitrosbirna 12 Yemkuri 2 Chunichi & Honshin 2 Philodelphia 216 018 000—2 7 1 Son Frenchon 008 102 000—3 9 1 Valenzuela, Borland (d), Stocumb (7) and Son Prencisco 500 M2 69x-3 9 1 Valenzuelo, Borland (6), Slocutinh (7) and Praft: Partugal, Frey (8), Beck (8) and Man-waring, W.—Partugal, 7-6. L.—Valenzuelo, 6-2. Sv—Beck (17), HR2—Philodelphia, Moran-dini (2), Son Francisco, Bonds (23), Mo, Wil-Coms 2 (33). Setbu 11, Kintelsu 7 Niepan Ham 2. C Orix 17, Latte 5 Rueter, Shaw (8) and D. Fletcher, Spehr (8); Benes, Broccell (3), Mauser (4), P. A. Mar-finez (9) and Austrius, P. Clorik (5). W-Rueter, 4-2 L—Benes, 6-10, HR—Martreat, Cordera (12). New York 500 200 000 6-2 10 9 Los Anneles 200 600 10-3 7 1 (14 tephres) P, Smith, J. Montenillo (8), Misson (9) and DAVIS CUP lley; Hershiser, Voides (8), Td. w r) and Plazza. W—Td. Warrell, 4-4, L—M an, 2-4, HR—Les Angeles, Plazza (20).

The Michael Jordan Watch FRIDAY'S GAME: Jordon went 1-for-3 and shortstop in the sixth. He had two pulsuits in right field. SATURDAY'S GAME: Jordon went 0-for-$ a me memicas. He struck out looking in the first inning of the opener, prounded in third base in the third, and grounded to second in the stich. He was Sirminghour's designated in the second some and touled out to the catcher in the second and struck out in the 187th.

SEASON TO DATE: Jorden is building. 193

(57-for-795) with 25 runs, 17 doubles, one friple. 21 RBIs, 34 waits, 77 strikeouts and 20 stolen bases in 23 otherspis. He bias 141 sufests, 3 assists and 9 errors. Japanese Leagues

Sunday's Resetts Kintelsu & Selbu S. 10 innings

runnango melipeni, Brazil, del. Noriego, Peru, 6-2,6-2,7-4 (7-4) ; Joh Peru, del, Jalane Onçins, Brazil, 7-4, date Onclus, Breath 1-6-6-7-5-6-1. del. Jaime Oncins and Ferna zil, 64, 76 (74), 34, 64, la Bestod Semifinala Horat Skoft, Austria, det. Jego-Philippe

Fleurism, France, 1-6, 6-4, 7-5; Bernd Kor-bacher, Germany, def. Richard Frambers, Austrolla, 6-2, 3-6, 7-6 (7-5), Kurbocher del. Skoff 6-4, 6-2. SWISS OPEN (a Ostood Semificals Brusuero del. Porset 3-6, 7-5, 6-2, 6-1.

HALL OF FAME CHAMPIONSHIPS chey, Britain, det. David Witt, U.S. 4-4-3-4. 6-3; Dovid Wheaten, U.S., def. Dovid sii, Germany, 7-6 (7-1), 6-1 ; 8 yron Bjack Imbabwe, dei. Mark Koplan, U.S., 6-4. 4-1 remen; form woodernose, Australia, eg., Ja-ion Stoffenberg (2), Australia, 6-3, 5-7,7-6 (7-4), Samiffinals Woodbridge del., Black 4-6, 6-4, 7-6 (7-1); Wheaton del., Petchery 4-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Doubles, Semilineis Kent Kinneur, Greenwool, Ind., and Whee-ton, def. Josele Margon, Australia, and Stol-techers 7-6 (7-2), 7-6 (7-5). FOOTBALL

PF PAPS Brit.Colu Edmonton Los Vegas Saskatcher Pridey's Games taknesson 22, Calgary 21 Los Vegos 32, Socrement British Cotumbia 24, Winni

CFL Standings

RUGBY FIRST TEST.

GOLF

Scottish Open

Carl Mason, England 67-49-41-68-925 Pater Mitchell, England 67-44-5570-244 Jesper Pormeyik, Streden 70-45-64-48-267 Calla Montgarnerie, Scotland 67-64-68-268 coother Longs, England Brett Ogle, Austrolle
Andrew Oldern, England
Misuel Angel Marita, Spain
Jim McGovera, U.S.

6446-69-270
644-69-270
744-64-69-271
744-67-68-271
746-68-67-271

Tour de France

selts of Selectory's 26-kilometer (162-Rik slope from Rowes to Fe nce with cyclist, country, team and winning ime: 1, Jan Svoroda, Slovakio, Lampre. nurs, 54 minutes, 50 seconds; 2, Diamoüdin

Abductourar, Unickiston, Polit, same fine:
3. Olaf Ludwig, Germany, Telekten, $2; 4.
Moule Abduck, Indry, Gewess, $1; 5. Christophe Canelle, Pronce, GAN, $2;
6. Silvio Marrisello, Illuly, Mercantone, $1; 7.
Mario De Clerce, Belghun, Lotta, $2; 8.
Jesser Skibby, Denmark, TVM, $2; 9. Johan Macceure, Belgium GB, MG, $2; 16, Emmanuel Magnien, France, Costorane, $2;
Results, Sender of the Til-kilometer, (135mile) degeth single from Politicrs to Trelissor:
1. So Homburger, Denmark, TVM, 3 houce, 9 minutes, 27 seconds; 2-Angel Commun. Colombia, Kehme, 1 second behind; 1, Rolf Aldog, Germany, Telekom, 5; 4, Luc Leblenc, Germany, Teletom, 5; 4, Luc Leblanc, France, Festina, 5; 5, Emmanosi Magnien, Castoroma, 2:16; 6, Jen. Svorade, Slovalde.

itoly, Geneta, S.L.-10, Gigniuce Bertoland, Holy, Mapel, S.L. Oversall Stembleps: 7, Johan Musceuw, Bel-sium, GB-MG, 39 hours, 32 minutes, 45 sec-ands; 2, Giordico Bortoland, Holy, Mapel, 5 seconds behind; 1, Sean Yates, Britolin, Motor-ola, 18 seconds behind; 4, Frankle Andres, ters sur, Austral 17 (Te), Jean Alasi, Franci. 17; S. Roberts Bort-Leite, Brecht, 97; S. Milos Holddinen, Finland, 7; 7, Nicole Lurini, Italy, 6; (18), Mortin Brundie, Britain, 6; 2, Heizz-Haruid Franzier, Germany, 5; 78, Marix Bur-chil, Britain, 4; (18), Antirea de Casaris, Italy, Constructors Standings: 1, Benetion 77 dan, 13; (tie), McLaren, 13; & Sout reli, 6; 8, Minoral, 5; 7, Footwork, 3; 10,

American Legue

BOSTON—Activated Scott Bonkinead, pitcher, from 15-day disabled list. Sent Tim Van Esmand, pitcher, he Powtuckef, IL.
CALIFORNIA—Welved Crafe Letterts, pitcher, to give him his unconditional release.
Activated Scott Levels, pitcher, from 15-day disabled list, CLEVELAND—Signed_loretwo

احكامن الاعل

TRANSACTIONS BASEBALL

INTERNATIONAL HERALD TRIBUNE, MONDAY, JULY 11, 1994

PÖRTS WORLD (

WORLD CUP WRAP-UP

Compiled by Our Staff From Dispatches There were 118 goals scored in the first 44 match of World Cup '94 - an average of 2.68 per game - but exactly how were those goals scored?

Fifty-five came off right-footed shots, 26 off left-footed shots, 18 were scored on headers and 13 on penalty kicks. Another three were scored on direct free kicks, and the last three were own

Russia's Oleg Salenko was the top goal scorer, with six, four on right-footed shots and two on penalties.

The most well-rounded striker was Germany's Jürgen Klinsmann, who scored two with his right-loot, two with his left and one with his head. The top aerial threat was Sweden's Martin Dahlin, who had used his head on three of his four goals. Because of the time difference, two of Italy's games in prime time in Rome at 10 P.M., and the other three, including Saturday's quarterfinal against Spain, in early evening when shops are open.

Yet in a country of 57 million, each of Italy's first four matches drew a television andience of between 22.5 million and 25 million viewers. That represents up to 85 percent of the TV sets in the country.

However, five prime-time Italian appearances in the Italia 90 Cup drew bigger audiences. The most-watched game in Italian history came that year in the penalty-kick loss to Argentina, which stracted nearly 30 million viewers and 87 percent of people watching television.

In Ireland, its team's matches produced the highest television ratings in the nation's sports history, RTE, the Irish television network,

According to one telephone poll, 93 percent of all viewers watched Ireland's opening game against Italy. The percentage was even higher when Ireland played the Netherlands in the second round, with the Irish Times reporting that the game was seen by "virtually the whole population."

 Henry Winter of the Independent of Lon-don reminds readers that American's first soccer league was founded in 1921, but foundered in the Depression, ending some colorful club names: the Providence Clamdiggers, Bethlehem Steel, J&P Coats of Pawtucket, Brooklyn Wandeners, Boston Wonder Workers and Indiana Flooring of New York.

 Javier Clemente, Spain's blunt, chain-smoking coach, has been feuding with Spanish media-since the team arrived in Chicago on June 10. On Friday he announced, "I don't care what the media says. But if you know so much, you can make out the lineup. Why in the hell am I

NEW YORK — The dozens of foreign news crews in the United States for World Cap soccer spurred in part by the large number of news organizations that have come for the games from

Police say the thefts employ a "big-ticket" version of a popular technique in which the thieves create a diversion, sometimes spraying ketchup on their victim, and then grabbing the

TO OUR READERS IN LUXEMBOURG

It's never been easier to subscribe and save. Just call tall free:

0 800 2703

"Here they're getting a machine that's worth from unwary technicians.

around the world.

STEER SE

10 to 10 to

. . :.

4 1 5

ه چر در په په

.

1: - 21

...

He later confronted a Spanish reporter who had compared Clemente to a dictator.

"You should never say that about somebody from Spain! Or somebody from Italy!" he said. "Italy had Mussolini, we had Franco, those are bad memories. Please, I cannot be a dictator."

• The Financial Times of London quoted a report from the Albania newspaper, Koha Jone (Our Time), that a man short of gambling cash lost his wife after staking her on the outcome of a World Cap game.

The gambler was so sure Argentina would beat Bulgaria in their first-round match that he bet his wife. Bulgaria won, 2-0. The wife disappeared with the winner, and the loser was left to complain to the police.

 FIFA said it's campaign to put more emphasis on offense had produced an unexpected benefit: Two extra games.

Joseph Blatter, FIFA's general secretary, said the ball was in play an average of 61 minutes, 37 seconds during the first 44 games, or about six minutes more per game than in the last World Cup in 1990.

Doing some quick math and even quicker spin-doctoring Blatter declared: "That's like offering the fans two more games." Actually, three, if Blatter redoes his math for

• Placido Domingo's addition came out no At Italy's match against Spain Luciano Pavar-otti was rooting for Italy, while Domingo and José Carreras were rooting for Spain.

The three tenors, who will reunite next Saturday for a concert at Dodger Stadium on the eve of the final, discussed the possibility of a Spain-Italy game when they gathered in New York three months ago. ..

"Since we are two against one, perhaps Spain will beat Italy 2-1," Domingo said. Belgium filed a "very polite letter" criticizing a referee's blown call that might have helped minate the team from the second round. The Belgians did not submit a formal protest or complaint over the actions of referee Kurt Roethlisberger in a 3-2 loss to Germany last Saturday, said Joseph Blatter, secretary general

Roethlisberger acknowledged a mistake in failing to call a foul in the 70th minute of the game when Belgium's Josip Weber was tripped in the penalty box. A foul at that spot would have resulted in a penalty kick for Belgium. "We received a very polite letter from Belgium, saying they were sad to have the tournament end for them in such a sad situation," Blatter said.

FIFA publicly criticized Roethsliberger and another referee, Pierluigi Paretto, for missing key calls in the second round and dropped them from the list of officials for the quarterfinals onward.
(LAT, Reuters, AP)

$50,000. This is a good hit on the street. This is a good thing to go for," said Vincent Bowes, a New York detective:

crews based in New York and other big cities

"If you put that camera down, it's going to disappear," Bowes said.

Authorities have issued special alerts to news

The last three reported thefts in New York were from television stations in Scotland, Italy

One camera was stolen from a crew as they did

Amother was taken off the front seat of a car at

Giants Stadium in New Jersey in an area surrounded by police and security guards as the technician was using another camera to do a live interviews in New York's financial district.

Brazil's fans in Dallas, top, and Italian supporters in Rome celebrating victories in the quarterfinals.

CALVIN AND HOBBES

Sure, There's The Economy, But G-7 Leaders Bow to Soccer

Page 15

NAPLES - Italians celebrated wildly Saturday after their team's 2-1 victory over Spain carried them into the World Cup semifinals, and even the leaders from the Group of Seven industrialized countries assembled here for a summit acknowledged their interest in the tournament. Prime Minister Silvio Berlusconi took time out from the summit to declare "I believe in the new Italian miracle," just as Dino Baggio put Italy ahead in the 26th minute.

President François Mitterrand, of France, admitted that affairs of state could not compete with soccer. He offered to cut short a news conference that was under way when the match started.

"It would free you, and me too," he said. Warren M. Christopher, the U.S. secretary of state, apologized for keeping reporters from watching the game. He said he felt guilty holding a news conference while the game was being shown live on

Near-hysterical celebrations in Naples put police and troops guarding the G7 leaders on alert as 200 jubilant fans on motor scooters surged toward security cor-dons near the 18th century Royal Palace. Police turned them back.

At the palace, hundreds of staff, journalists and officials took a break from the summit to watch the game.

Japanese security guards protecting Yohei Kono, the deputy prime minister, visi-bly visibly flinched during a news conference when the roar went up at the palace to celebrate Dino Baggio's goal.

Throw-Ins Will Get the Boot In 3 Leagues Next Season

DALLAS — Three European leagues will experiment with kick-ins instead of throw-ins next season, said Sepp Blatter, the general secretary of FIFA, soccer's governing body.

Blatter said the Belgian and Hungarian second divisions and an English sami-professional league would test the kick-ins and said he expected the change to be written into the laws of the game within two years. "I am sure that in two years the kick-in will replace the throw-in in the laws of the game and then we will have an even faster game than we have now," Blatter said.

The kick-in, used in soccer in the 1860s and 1870s, was replaced by the throw-in in Blatter said the kick-in also would return another skill element to the game. There will be more technique than we have now, because by kicking the ball in it is easier to control it." FIFA tested the kick-in during last year's World Youth Cup in Australia.

Blatter also said that sudden-death goals would be introduced at the next World Cup finals with the first team scoring in extra time taking victory.

DENNIS THE MENACE

WHAT'S THE BEST THING

To our readers in Berlin You can now receive the IHT hand delivered to your home or office every morning on the day of publication. Just call us tall free at 0130.84 85 85

PEANUTS

Thieves Target Foreign News Crews

have become a bonanza for those in the highly Fourists coming to New York have been hurative business of stealing television cameras, warned about such ploys for years and news

Police say that the theft of cameras, which can know not to put down their cameras no matter crews from overseas.

The thefts are often brazen.

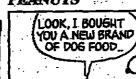

interview with soccer legend Pelé.

and Umguay.

PARTY EMPIRE

70 DOONESBURY

BEETLE BAILEY

SEETLE, TAKE THAT

TABLE BACK TO THE DINING ROOM

hunters - and anyone who so much as utters the word 'bison' can join Morgenstern in the corner!

THE FAR SIDE

BLONDIE

SPORTS WORLD CUP

This Italian Road Show Is Beginning to Look at Lot Like 1982's

PALO ALTO — No one ever said sports were fair. Don't tell me that you cannot remember moments on the school playground when - no matter how hard you tried, how much you hoped - you were made green with envy by the boy who seemed to be blessed with everything.

You know the one I mean. He could do with his eyes closed what you could pracover and Rob Hughes never suc-ceed at. He had skill, grace, timing. Especially timing. In games, it decides all.

We saw the adult version of that blessing, and that playground envy, in Foxboro Stadium outside Boston on Saturday. Eight minutes from the final whistle, Spain's Júlio Salinas had the opportunity to finish off Italy. The man and the ball were there, with the goal just in front of him, but Salinas, taut of nerve, could not for Italy. For the second match running. Baggio had snatched victory from the jaws of defeat; his timing was that of the playground gods.

Two minutes from the end of the match, from an almost identical position, Roberto Baggio did score, imperiously,

How jealousy must have settled on Salinas. He is a paid predator — in the eyes of his national team's coach the most dependable finisher in all of Spain. Sali-nas also is a deceptive fellow. He plays for the richest Spanish club, but plays mostly as a reserve. He is as willing as the day is long; a tall, lean, honest striver who never

Those qualities are trusted implicitly by Javier Clemente, the Spanish team's coach. They are hardly recognized at all by Johan Cruyff, the Barcelona coach who has made two foreign, exotic World Cup strikers, Hristo Stoichkov and Romário, his first choices.

So Salinas is obliged to put everything into his national team calling. He got Spain to this World Cup, scoring seven goals in seven qualifying appearances.

His methods are a triumph for perseverance. Salinas might look as if staying upright is a major act of control, a strug-gle against poor coordination, but he has the courage and the timing to get there. Up to a point. On Saturday, unusually, he had come on late, as a second-half substitute. By then Spain seemed to be capitalizing on the unfairness of the World Cup scheduling that had granted the team three days more rest than it had given Italy.

When the humidity exceeds 100 per-cent, when every stride seems to be in the quicksands of fatigue, those extra days ought to count. And they seemed to have, for by the time Salinas took the field Spain undoubtedly had the physical and emotional edge.

With Italy fading fast, it fell to Salinas to put everyone out of their misery. Italy's coach, Arrigo Sacchi, was twitching on the sideline; Spain's Clemente had lit a cigarette; all eyes were on Salinas. Italy's defense fell apart before Salinas. Goalkeeper Gianluca Pagliuca came slowly, reluctantly off his line. Now, Julio, hit it There was a split second, an iota of time between thought and execution. Do it, Julio, be a hero! Pressure gripped the moment. Finally, he shot. Too late, far too late - Pagliuca blocked the shot, instinctively, with his right leg.

I think we sensed then that Italy would be reprieved. We probably knew who would turn the screw. Roberto Baggio. Just where he had been this last half hour no one, least of all his Italian colleagues, seemed to know. Nicola Berti, a midfielder playing de-spite injury, lobbed the ball hopefully for-space injury, toroced the oan nopening forward. Giuseppe Signori, a front-runner fighting insecurity, flicked it on, quickly, intuitively, trusting that No. 10 would be lurking in the penalty area.

He was Now it was Baggio versus Andoni Zubizarreta, forward versus goalkeeper, in virtually the exact spot from where Salinas had failed.

Baggio is not Salinas. His clock seems to work in fits and starts, to have an alarm bell that wakes him to inspiration. He didn't hesitate. With a body swerve a mat-ador would kill for, Baggio dodged the goalkeeper with a sweep to the right and he could clearly see the whites of the goal-

Calmly, he balanced himself. He could see a defender on the goal line, knew the shot would have to be swift, powerful, precise. No problem: From an acute angle, he drove the ball between Abelardo Fernandez and the near post.

Did Baggio even knew the sweet irony of it? Abelardo had tried, the first opportuni-ty early in the game, to put a stop to Baggio's match-wiming tendency.

The Spanish defender had lunged at him, using the boot on his foot to pass over the ball and crash down on Baggio's shin. It is an evil trick, despised in the game, and one that should have brought out the red card and not merely the yellow that was shown to Abelardo.

Briefly, Baggio was battered. He was carried off on a stretcher, and those who accuse this Italian savior of timidity may well have assumed his match was over.

"Baggio is simply no good," one Rome-based journalist had written a week earli-er. "He has bags of skill and talent, but when the pressure is on, he disappears. If Sacchi is a man of courage and character, he will now drop Baggio, notwithstanding the player's status of national sporting

That and many other Italian editorials would have had Baggio out before the match against Nigeria — which he saved with a goal in the final minute and won with a penalty in extra time.

When, after that, the same experts who had referred to him as "the author of a had referred to him as "the author of a sporting betrayal without precedent" sought to praise him, Baggio had words as sharp as his finish: "I am nobody's savior. I'm the same as I was yesterday morning. The team always had commitment and the will to win. We've proved we are not the names some people in the press think we wimps some people in the press think we Fither Baggio had gotten twice lucky, or be had indeed proven those things. Heaven help us. The Italians, turning traumatic neurosis to triumph in the nick of time, might actually win this tournament.

The pattern is reminiscent of 1982, when the Italian team began dreadfully, found a talisman in Paolo Rossi, and proved all of us rotten forecasters by winning the cup. It is a strange, indefinable thing, but Italy's World Cup history always teases us with boredom. boredom, always trawls through self-doubt, always comes up with a thin man estined to score most or all of the goals.

Rossi, Riva . . . and now Roberto?

Baggio Follows His Script, Italy Advances to Semifinals

FOXBORO, Massachusetts — The final two minutes became Roberto Baggio's encore. It happens all the time in theaters, choreographed and rehearsed behind the curtains, but the 54,605 who paid their way in here would not dare have imagined the star confirming stardom in his country's biggest game.

Yet Baggio acts now with the audacity of someone whose heroics have been written out for him; he's the calmest, surest striker this side of Romário, and of course he has final editorial control. So he rode out the negatives until it was time to seize Italy's 2-1 victory over Spain in the 88th minute of their World Cup quarterfinal Saturday, when Roberto Donadoni's vertical ball ricocheted off of Giuseppe Signori — his was a desperate knee-high punch of a pass — and out wide to Baggio, whose own recent play is driving him toward the highest expectations.

The goal he scored was one of a champion," said Arrigo Sacchi, or so Italy's manager hopes.

An Achilles' tendon injury has slowed Baggio, and his tinkering manager has frustrated him as much as any trip-tackling defender. Following Sacchi's decision to remove Baggio early in their second game, the Italians had won a couple of matches short-handed to get this far. They wouldn't have returned for the quarterfinal if not for Baggio's tying goal in the 89th minute here last week against Nigeria, which allowed him to then create and convert the winning penalty in extra time. But that was just the prolog.

The Nigerian miracle had inspired not confidence but just four more changes in the lineup. If Sacchi were a painter he would never finish a painting. It is not entirely his fault. His fans who constantly say that Sacchi ought to be replaced can cite example after example of his impatience. In order to live up to their expectations, Sacchi makes more and more changes. Nobody sees the irony in this. The job is impossible.

One of his new starters in midfield, Dino Baggio, sliced in a wicked opening goal from beyond the box in the 26th minute. It was a rare, air was as humid and foggy as a bathroom's during talking of a second's fraction. The ball seemed to a hot shower, and the Spaniards had rested for six inhale and squeeze itself in between the right days. The second half belonged to them as sweep-post and Abelardo's stomping foot. Before the er Miguel Angel Nadal and midfielder Luis Enrique were sent forward, Fernando Hierro and Julio Salinas were brought in to run and, in the 59th minute, a dazzling build-up was finished by Josè Luis Caminero, deflected by the foot of exhausted defender Antonio Benarrivo.

But their advantages in work and effort turned against the Spaniards as they almost always do in this neighborhood rivalry.

Italy was looking forward to its seventh World Cup semifinal on Wednesday against either Ger-many or Bulgaria, while Spain has failed to last drop of energy you have." Roberto Baggio survive three quarterfinals. It almost always loses said.

to Italy in meaningful (non-Olympic) interna-tionals; the Spanish league is probably second only to Italy's, and just two months ago AC Milan swept away favored Barcelona, 4-0, in the European Champions Cup final. Five of those Milanese went up against seven embarrassed Barcelonans on Saturday, including Spain's most-capped player, Andoni Zubizarreta, the goalkeeper who was out the door and headed for Valencia after his display in Athens.

A brawl almost resulted (during the final injury time, aptly) when the elbow of Milan's Mauro Tassotti broke Luis Enrique's nose. The two had to be separated as teammates rushed in, and Enrique refused to board his referee-ordered stretcher. Led at last to the sideline, his trainer kept him still by sitting on top of him - and had to shove Tassotti aside as the Italian made another run at Enrique when the game was over. "I believe the play should have been whistled," said Javier Clemente, the Spanish coach. His team really should have gone ahead in the 83d minute when Salinas was alone with Gianluca Pagliuca. Pagliuca is the goalkeeper who unwarily got Italy going by getting himself ejected in the second game. He was given his job ahead of his replacement for 21/2 games, Luca Marchegiani, and in the crucial moment he made the great play of allowing Salinas to dribble blindly into his ankle.

"There are so many people I would like to congratulate for this victory, but most of all I would like to congratulate myself," said Pagliuca with a broad smile. "My being expelled, and then being able to come and play a good game, deceate my process." deserves my praise."

Roberto Baggio had practically been forgotten when, two minutes before the closing credits, a door was kicked open and there he was — in the right side of the box with only the 'keeper in his way. Zubizarreta, having already lost his Barce-lona career to these Italians, twitched and dove as if trying to tackle a cat. His forearms thudded together: Nothing. But he rolled to see that he had forced the ball out to a difficult angle, giving time for his teameven-handed lead for Italy, and wouldn't last. The mate Abelardo to race in and cover. We are curtain could jerk, Baggio was blowing a kiss to So the Spaniards, who, with Sweden, had scored the most goals (9) in the first four games, now go home earlier than they should. At the least, they should have gone into extra time and worn out Italy then. But the Italians have earned confidence in someone who may prove to be more valuable than all of Brazil's style or Germany's efficiency.

Spain's goalkeeper, Andoni Zubizarreta, stretched a leg — and failed in the attempt — as the match-winning goal was kicked in by Roberto Baggio.

Pagliuca Storms Back for Italy After Suspension

FOXBORO, Massachusetts - A

nightmare is over for Gianluca Paglinca. Pagliuca had a difficult time sitting through a two-game suspension, watching his friend and backup play goal for Italy. It was a lot harder than facing Spain in the quarterfinals.

Paglinca's outstanding performance after serving his suspension helped Italy to a 2-1 victory and into the World Cup semifinals. It also healed the bruised morale of the Italian goalie.

"I'm so happy for the contribution given to the team. I badly needed a good game," said Pagliuca, 27. "You can't imagine my sufferings in the last two weeks, following my ejection. And the doubt about my comeback, taking the Arrigo Sacchi, the coach of Italy, deplace of a friend who did well in my cided to put Paginca back in the start-

Red-carded after 21 minutes of Italy's first-round game against Norway, Pag-liuca missed matches against Mexico and Nigeria. Substitute Luca Marchegiani performed well

Pagliuca handled the ball outside the penalty area to stop a Norwegian breakaway, drawing an ejection and an automatic two-game suspension. Italy strug- goal. gied to a 1-0 victory playing one man

"I did it to stop the team conceding a goal which could have meant elimination," Pagliuca said. "But staying out for two games, at a crucial time of the competition, was a hard blow for me."

ing lineup on the eve of the game against Spain. His confidence was repaid with strong play.
In the 84th minute, he made a superb stop with the tip of his shoe on a shot by Julio Salinas, who had rushed uncovered into the Italian penalty area.

Four minutes later, the star forward

Roberto Baggio scored Italy's winning

"When Salinas came at the net all alone, I thought that our World Cup trip had come to an end," said Paginca, whose soccer career was threatened last year by a serious highway accident. "Instead, I managed to stop him and shortly after, Baggio scaled victory.

In injury time, as Spain pressed for a tie, Paginca twice jumped high in the middle of a group of players to grab dangerous passes.

"Paglinca was very good. He's the No. 1 goalie of the team and I thought he deserved his place back," Sacchi said after victory at Foxboro Stadium.

Paglinca said Spain's goal in the 48th-minute was actually scored by the Ital-ian defender Antonio Benarrivo. "I could have stopped the shot, Ben-arrivo deflected the ball and put it beyond my reach," Paglinca said.

Asked to whom he wanted to dedicate Saturday's victory, Paglinca never hesi-

"To myself. I deserved it."

Branco Scores a Point Against Critics

The Associated Press

DALLAS -- Brazil's "old man" came through, in style and in the clutch.

As Branco left the field in the final minute of Brazil's dramatic, 3-2, win over the Netherlands in a World Cup quarterfinal game Saturday, fans in the Cotton Bowl stood and applauded.

The defender not only created the play that resulted in the winning goal, but scored it on a booming left-footed free kick "I looked at the scoreboard and I saw

there were 10 minutes left," he said after the game. "I had to try something, and I figured now was the time.

His shot skirted the end of the wall and nicked the post on its way into the right

It was vintage Branco — he had been scoring like that through a long career that includes two previous World Cups. But Howing the U.S. midfielder Tab Ramos. Branco was back. But was he ready?

The Dutch team would provide the anthis one had a special significance.

"I call it my 'put up or shut up' goal," he said. "This shuts the mouths of a lot of people who said I was was through, that I didn't belong on the team."

It's been a long road back for the 30-year-old defender. Injuries late in the season and at training camp had cost him his starting berth. Leonardo, his replacement, was three years younger and a lot more spry. Many Brazilians felt Branco was too old to run both ends of the field as a lateral defender, one of soccer's most grueling

Suddenly, Leonardo was gone, out for the Cup with a four-game suspension for swer. Branco would cover Marc Overmars, a quick and dangerous attacker.

"It's funny, but I wasn't in the least worried about marking him, although he's one of the team's best players. And I don't think he had much of an influence on the game," Branco said.

Branco shut down Overmars, and the Dutch team didn't create much of any-thing on his side. The two goals, resulting from a corner kick and a throw-in, started on the right side.

But the criticism he took still rankles. "Certain people ran an orchestrated campaign against me," he said. "But my teammates and the medical staff stood by me, and God gave me this chance."

Branco, right, shut down the quick and dangerous forward Marc Overmars before beating the Dutch with his free kick.

The Spanish Lament: An Opportunity Missed

FOXBORO, Massachusetts - Depression hung over the Spanish camp as it dawned on them just how close they had

"This was a fabulous opportunity," said Jon Andoni Goikoetxea, a midfielder for Spain. "I think it will be a long time before we get another one like it."

After dominating most of the Saturday's World Cup quarterfinal, Spain learned how painful a missed opportunity could be 2-1 loss.

Zubizarreta, in goal, shouldered the bulk of critics' blame for the loss, and Salinas admitted he felt luck had deserted him. "The goalkeeper came out well but with

Júlio Salinas, at forward, and Andoni fused to place blame for the loss.

with my leg," he said, referring to a scoring opportunity with just seven minutes to

But Javier Clemente, Spain's coach, re-

"It would not be fair. We have to be comprehensive when people make mistakes," Clemente said. "I still don't understand it. Salinas doesn't normally miss sitters like that but today he was unlucky."

Luck bypassed the Spaniards again in the final seconds, when forward Luis Enrias Italy struck late to hand the Spaniards a que Martinez was set to intercept a lobbing pass that could have produced a second equalizer, but was knocked in the face and of decisiveness on Spain's part. grounded by Mauro Tassotti.

"Luis Enrique had his nose broken. I think it should have been a clear penalty but the referee decided to ignore it totally, the ball bouncing all I could do was hit it Clemente said.

But if the referee made errors, so too did Spain, and none greater than in allowing Roberto Baggio's goal.

"In football there's always mistakes. That second goal was genuinely a superb counterattack which caught us by surprise with only four men in the back," Clemente said. "I agree it was very lamentable." José Luis Pérez Caminero, who scored

Spain's only goal in the 59th minute, said "I don't know what went wrong in the midfield, but they told us that Baggio was offside, maybe it was that." José Maria Bakero saw it as more a lack

There's no room for lamenting," he said. "We had clear opportunities we couldn't exploit, more than the Italians The difference is with Italy if you don't hammer it home, they will.

ا ميكذا من الاعل

SPORTS WORLD CUP

It's Bang-Bang Bulgaria, Then Bye-Bye to Old Germany, 2-1

lordan Letchkov, rear, and Germany's Thomas Hässler watch the Bulgarian's header go goalward in the 79th minute.

International Herald Tribune EAST RUTHERFORD, New Jersey -Offered little more than a puncher's chance, the Bulgarian goals came from down around the ankles and toppled evcrything the world takes for granted in soccer. In the 76th minute, Hristo Stoitchkov's left hook popped the net from over the top; three minutes later came the knockout blow, delivered with every inch of Iordan Letchkov's airborne body.

For the first time since 1982, Germany will miss a World Cup final. The threetime champion was removed from its quarterfinal, 2-1, on Sunday by Bulgaria, which less than three weeks ago had never won a World Cup match. If not for the conscientiousness of a forgotten referee last No-vember in Paris, the Bulgarians would not have earned a place among the final 24 teams here - a place that was hardly

Its upset of France in the final moments of injury time eight months ago led to its first-round upset of Argentina — aided by the suspension hours earlier of Diego Maradona; which was then followed by an unlikely second-round shootout against Mexico that was won almost singlehan-dedly by Borislav Mihaylov, the unheralded French second-division goalkeeper. Over the final 15 minutes Sunday, he found himself preserving what might be the most surprising victory since 1954, when Hungary was upset for the first of three West Germany's three World Cup

The Germans, unified for the first time since 1938 by the same forces that have allowed the Bulgarians to gain club experience in the west, had won nine of their previous 10 World Cup quarterfinals, and they were on their way to a semifinal here against Italy when the Colombian referee, José Joaquin Torres Cadena, penalized

Letchkov for tripping Jürgen Klinsmann after the two had contested a high bounce

Twice more Hässler would cross dangerously to Andreas Möller, the first deflected in the 48th minute. Lothar Matthaus, the German captain who tied a record with his 21st World Cup appearance Sunday, was able to beat Mihaylov to the right corner as the Mexicans had failed to do, and Germany held a 1-0 lead.

Yet Matthaus, for all of his strengths, embodied the German weaknesses as well. Age had forced him backward from midfielder to sweeper, and a gash in his right foot had sidelined him from the latter half of the team's second-round victory a week-end ago. In the eighth minute, the whole world gasped at the sight of him pivoting numbly on that foot to mis-clear a ball directly to Nasko Sirakov in the German

Winking and nodding to each other, the Bulgarians smelled weakness and within four minutes they were attacking. A dead ball quickly taken exploited the German absentmindedness as Sirakov went deep to knock a short cross off the hands of goalkeeper Bodo Ilgner. It was gathered up by Letchkov, whose pass into the disarray found Stottchkov alone for just a moment, just long enough for him to cross to the charging Krassimir Balakov for what should have been the opening goal. It banged clear off the left post.

For 20 minutes the Germans were as ssive as sharpshooters, looking for space while their naive, hungrier opponents sought to create it. Slowly the champion warmed to that challenge, as a cross from Thomas Hässler — having created five of the eight German goals — came off the head of Jürgen Klinsmann, horizontal, six paces from Stoitchkov. Klinsmann hung there like a rille barrel, his shot knocking Mihaylov backward —though the Bulgarian had the wherewithal to catch the ricochet off his chest without falling into goal by Trifon Ivanov in the 33d minute, the second coming just one minute before the Bulgarian equalizer - and it's the second which Germany will remember: A ball laid back perfectly and whalloped, with as much boom as 18-wheel truck running over the ball, off the left post. Rudi Völler put in the rebound, but his partner, Klinsmann, had been ruled offsides. The Germans could have led by 2-0.

Nonetheless, they appeared to be as-suming control as they always do, forcing their ways on a smaller, less certain opponent. Romania had lost its breakaway zeal as Stoitchkov, who mostly had been si-lenced by his shadowing defender, Jürgen Kohler, stood over a free kick 25 meters out. Earlier, Ilgner had positioned his wall perfectly to blunt a similar attempt by Stoitchkov. But the Germans are elderly and occasionally prone to lapses, as South Korea and Belgium had proved in the preceding games, and the wall had a few loose bricks. Stouchkov left-footed the equalizer over them and under the bar as the goalkeeper watched flat-footed.

The Germans have come back so often that the next cross, in from Zlatko lankov abead of the trailing Hässler, was the most shocking of all. The balding Letchkov dove and bullseyed it off his lone tuft of hair and beyond Ilgner - or any goalkeeper in the world, for that matter.

The Germans need not be reminded that Letchkov, who celebrated his 27th birth-day on Saturday, plays for Hamburg. Nor that Bulgaria is beginning to look a lot like Denmark, the last to upset Germany in the 1992 European final. As the Bulgarians waited to learn whether Balkan neighbor Romania would join them in the final four, the surviving Brazilians and Italians each striving to become the first to win four Cups - have now to be wondering

Hagi's Family Back Home, to Wait, Hope

CONSTANTA, Romania - On the outskirts of this Black Sea port, the family of Romania's most famous soccer player was waiting waiting for Sunday's game at the World Cup.
"I wanted to be at home to watch the match because it was too much for my heart," said Chirita Hagi, 64, the mother of Gheorghe Hagi, Romania's most famous soccer player. She has been on medication since a heart attack nine years ago.

Six members of the Hagi family returned to Constanta after three weeks in the United States. They wanted to be home for Romania's quarterfinal against Sweden on Sunday in Stanford, California.

On Saturday, family and friends gathered in the afternoon to drink coffee in the courtyard of their five-room house shaded Constanta. He was the third child of a by vines. The mood was optimistic. "Hagi is at the peak of his career," said losef Bukoese, a 58-year-old ethnic Hungarian talent scout. "He is the creator on the field but he also finishes."

Nineteen years ago Bukoese, who played for Romania in the 1960s, discovered Hagi one morning in a school yard. "It was clear he was very talented," he recalled. Bukoese took Hagi under his wing until 1981 when the young soccer star joined the national youth division in the capital Bucharest. Now Hagi earns $900,000 a year for his Italian League club Brescia.

It wasn't always like this. Twenty-nine years ago Hagi was born in the village of Sacele, 30 miles (48 kilometers) north of peasant couple.

In Sacele, people grew corn and sun-flowers and raised sheep and goats. Soccer was seen as something strange.

Hagi's family moved to Constanta when Gheorghe was 7. His mother remembers her son always asking for money for tennis shoes and soccer balls.

"We didn't really have that much money, but you can't refuse your own child," said the tiny dark-eyed woman whom Hagi

Hagi's father, Iancu Hagi, 61, is a construction worker. He earns $83 a month. "Before we could only dream of hope," said his father. "Now we can feel it."

Brazilians Defeat Dutch, Helped by Disputed Goal

By Johnette Howard Vashington Post Service

DALLAS — It was a game in which both team's hopes dipped and rese, hit bottom, then skyrocketed. First Brazil seized a seemingly insurmountable twogoal lead late in the second half and began celebrating wildly, with Bebeto, Romario and Mazinho rocking back and forth in front of their team's bench looking like the Temptations doing a Motown song.

But this was the World Cup quarterfinals and the Netherlands stormed back, in a 12-minute burst evening with two goals of its own. Just like that, after a scoreless first half, this game was everything it was expected to be: high-test offense, harried

And in the end Saturday, narrowly fa-vored Brazil seized a 3-2 victory just nine minutes from the end of regulation on a storybook, game-winning goal by Branco
— a defender who wouldn't even have been playing had the usual starter, Leonardo, not been expelled from the tournament for injuring the U.S. midfielder Tab Ramos a match earlier with a wicked elbow that cracked a bone above Ramos's left

On Wednesday, Brazii will faces the winner of Sunday's Sweden-Romania game, set for the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Branco's goal -- scored off a free kick in the 81st minute after he drew a foul by racing in on the attack — blazed by Dutch goalkeeper Ed De Goej after just missing Romário. The striker had jogged back and forth in front of De Goe; as Branco prepared to kick, then arched his back as Branco's shot whizzed by. It missing Romário's jersey by an eyelash and sneaked just inside the post to De Goej's left.

Although Branco's shot was the one that gave Brazil its victory before a crowd of 63,998 in the Cotton Bowl, the play that's likely to be debated for years —especially in the Netherlands — was an offside that wasn't called against Romario seconds before Bebeto, his fellow superstar striker, chested the ball ahead to himself, then vected left past one sliding Dutch defender and De Goej. That left the net unmanned, and Bebeto easily tapped in the ball for Brazil's second goal.

Several of the Dutch players reacted furiously at the lack of a call. Their coach, J Dick Advocaat, leaped off the bench, his palms turned upward as he shouled at the referee, Rodrigo Badilla of Costa Rico. Advocast was circumspect afterward, limiting his criticism to saying "Everybody could see that it was offside. This shouldn't happen at such a level," But forward Dennis Bergkamp showed no such restraint.

"The referee is blind," the Dutch star said. This is something I'll never get over. This is one of the saddest moments of my chip over the head of the Brazilian soalkeeper Claudio Taffarel just one minute after Bebeto's disputed goal had made it 2-0. Bergkamp — steadfastly ignoring Bra-zil's marking and harsh, knockdown fouling -- hopped and cradled a pass into the penalty area with his left foot, then lobbed the ball over the ourushing Taffarel in the game's 64th minute.

Bergkamp rekindled Dutch hopes with a yards back, all by his lonesome. Had this

When teammate Aron Winter scored inthe 76th minute on a perfectly executed header off a corner kick by Marc Overmars, the players on the Dutch bench bolted up, began hugging each other and wav-ing their warmup jerseys and towels. The Brazilians might have succumbed to shock or pressure at that point, knowing they'd blown a two-goal lead, knowing their national media had hounded them about lackluster play despite the 4-0-1 record the team carried into Saturday's game. Several players had admitted they had begun to feel pressure from their countrymen back home, too.

An estimated 30,000 Brazilian fans have come to America to see this World Cup. And if this national team doesn't, as expected, end Brazil's 24-year drought without a World Cap title, the howling will so intense that it will make the noise that came from the Dutch camp Saturday sound like a whisper.

Mazinbo, left, and Romário, right, helped Bebeto celebrate his goal against the Netherlands during Brazil's controversial 3-2 victory in Dallas.

It Was a Referee's Whistle Unblown That Had the Loudest Echoes goalkeeper Ed De Goej out of his box and

By Mike Penner

Los Angeles Times Service DALLAS - Dutch midfielder Rob Witschge was shirtless by the time he hit the tunnel; the "Clockwork Orange" had turned "A Whiter Shade Of Pale." Except for the face.

The face was tri-colored — crimson scarlet and red - and it seemed to send off steam as Witschge was asked by an interpreter to assess this just-completed World Cup quarterfinal

Roughly translated. Witschge charged the officials with stealing the shirts off the Netherlands' backs. "He says it is terrible," the interpreter said. "He says the linesman is blind, absohately blind. "He says the Brazilian player was three yards offside — a terrible way to get a second goal. "He says it is one of the saddest things in his career."

Brazil held a 1-0 lead when the Brazilian defender Branco won a head ball at midfield and lofted a pass over the heads of two Dutch players trying to work an off-sides trap on Romário. Stan Valckx and Ronald Koeman appeared to pull it off splendidly, too. Up went the ball up stepped Valckx and Koeman ... and there was Romano several been the kind of football normally seen Romário, camped in center field, started to inside the Cotton Bowl, he would have walk away from the ball.

It was a leisurely stroll, and Romário

But Romário knows his fûtbol — and he will tell you with a wink that he had it also knew that trusty sidekick Bebeto was angling into the clear on the right flank. As hopelessly trapped offside, Valckx and the nass because to slice toward Release. the pass began to slice toward Bebeto, Koeman froze and waited for the whistle.

It was a leisurely stroll, and Romario

When they fly back to Amsterdam, Valckx and Koeman will still be waiting. The ball landed just beyond the two Dutchmen with a plop, accompanied by no other sound than Bebeto's feet.

He swooped in, pounced on the loose ball and took it home - drawing Dutch baby, my son," born Thursday. But elsewhere, the reaction was delayed. In the press area, two Brazilian journalists leaped to their feet, then began to grimace. "No goal," one of them told his colleagues with a glum shake of his head. "Romário was offside."

tapping the ball into an open net.

The play sent Bebeto into a jubilant celebration that he said later was "for my

Yet the scoreboard showed Brazil 2, Netherlands 0 and it was not going away. There had been no linesman's flag thrust into the air. There had been no referee's whistle.

The goal stood. Advocast was aghast.

Screaming, he made for the referee, Rodrigo Badilla of Costa Rica, but other members of the Dutch squad pulled him

Offsides is often a judgment call - and Badilla went to the brink on this one.

Because Romário walked away from the play, Badilla ruled, the striker was not involved in it and, consequently, was irrelevant to the play. Conclusion: No offsides.

"Terrible," Witschge said again and again. "All of a sudden, there's a different rule for offsides? If you're walking, you can go off?"

WORLD CUP QUARTERFINAL RESULTS AND SCORERS

QUARTERFINALS

At Dallas

pertends 2 Standay July 10 At East Rutherlord, N.J. SEMIFINALS

Wadanaday July 13 At East Rutherland, N.J. do 2005 GMT THIRD PLACE Salurday July 16 At Passiene, Calif.

CHAMPIONSHIP Sunday July 17 At Passions, Call.

Match Results

Belgaria 2, Germany 1 Seprets: Bulgaria - Hrista Slottel (76th), Jerdan Letchkov (77th); Germa Lotter Matthius (49th, penetty). Referce: José Torres (Colombio) Yallow cords: Germany - Thorpes Ha (15th), Martin Wagner (16th), Thomas Hässier (50th), Jörgen Kilmsmann (51st), Rugi Völler (90th): Bulgario - Triton Ivanov (28th), Hristo Stellichkov (83th), Boristov Min), Aren Winter (77th); Brezil - Romário 52), Bebelo (47), Bronco (81), Referee: Rodrigo Bodillo (Cesto Rico), Nuiv 2, Seats 1 Scorers: (fuly-Dino Boggio (26th), Roberto nagio (86th); Spain - Cominera (59th).

Goal Scorers

pla; Luis Gercie, Mexico: Jon Andoni Gol-imeheo, Spain; Hone Myone Bo, South Ko-rent Fortin, Leichkov, Butseria; Florin Roduciolii, Romenia; Adello Velencia, Co-

Comercon; Daniel Barlminy, Bulgaria; Bron-ca. Brazil; Tomas Brolin. Sweden; Stephone Chapulsot, Switzerland; Mahammed Chaputh. Chapulasi, Switzerland; Mahammed Chapula. Morecca; Mare Degryse, Belgium; David Embe, Camaroon; Alberto Garcio, Mexico.

Ireland; Hwane Sun Hons, South Karac; South Joher, Soudi Archio; Adrian Krue, Switzerland, Roser Liune, Sweden; John Harold Lazano, Colombia; Diego Maradona, Arpentino; Luis Enrique Martinez, Spain; Daniele Massaro, Halys Lottour Motthoeus, Garmany: Roser Miller, Comeroon: Hosson Noder, Marocco; Soed Owelfran, Soud Arabia; Doniel Vasile Petroscu, Rossenée; Doniel Rosidoneko, Russia; Ral, Brazil; Kletjii Rekdol, Norwey; Kortheitz Riedle, Germany; Bryon Roy, Neitherlands; Jáile Sallars, Spolin; Erwin Sanchuz, Bellivia; Márcio Sontos, Brazil; Seo June West, South Korca; Somens Sheila Nigerio; Maska Strakey, Bulgario; Ernie Stewert, Linhad Stotes: Akala Sutter, Santhwistad.

"Ragtime" (1975) depicts a cacophonous New York at the outset of World War I. "Billy Bathgate" (1989) is a coming-of-age novel about a young man's apprenticeship to the city's most glamorous 1920s gangster, Dutch Schuitz. "World's Fair" (1985) chronicles a facsimile of Doctorow's own Bronx boyhood in the 1930s. "The Book of Daniel" (1971), about the children of the executed Bronx couple,

Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, is set in the '60s but ventures frequently back into the McCarthyite '50s. The title novella in "Lives of the Poets" (1984) concerns a writer alienated by 1970s emui.

"It's nothing I planned, of course," Doctorow said. "I thought I was writing about life. But in my mind, life and

What this suggests is that though the details are various, the New York that finds its way into Doctorow's novels is, in many ways, the same one, which is a "New York is a gravy-stained, spit-flecked, bituminous, rough-necked livid place that we fall into in his pages, and if that sounds familiar, it should," the historian Simon Schama wrote of Doctorow in The New York Times Book Review, adding that the Doctorovian past "is plainly held up as a mirror in which we are meant to

But Doctorow is not quite willing to cop to writing literally about either the

"I will tell you what's the same, though," he said. "There's an incredible amount of energy here that should be anarchic, but is somehow controlled. I loved writing the street scenes in 'The Waterworks.' " He recalled as emblematic a scene that takes place on the corner of Broadway and Prince Street, what with horse carts and pedestrians a busy intersection even then. And indeed, it's a moment of stopped time, a moment when the perpetual frenzy circles around a person who sees through it

"Martin Pemberton is going down Broadway," Doctorow said. "And the rain begins, the thunder claps, horses shy and their hooves fly up and in the with perfect clarity.

see our own time and manners."

past or present.

reflection of the one we live in.

New York are the same."

Going Public in World of Overhears

yond," as in "to hear beyond the intended reach of the voice."

But what shall we call the overheard remark itself? Eavesdrop is a verb, rarely used as a noun. When my telephone was wiretapped, the content of that eavesdropping activity was called the tap, or when recorded in written form, the "tap transcript." No noun existed for the overheard conversation itself.

The language vacuum has been filled. The other day I called Joseph diGenova, a Washing ton lawyer who serves as an independent counsel. investigating the unlawful disclosure of the Clinton passport files during the campaign of 1992.

Department of State. Can't talk about the overhears," he said. Switching to a linguistic mode, I asked what an overhear is. Long pause, during which I presume the prosecutor was mentally reviewing Rule 6 (e) of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure, forbidding the disclosure of grand jury proceedings. Assured of the query's exclusively lexicoto me by fax. Which he did. An overhear, in law-enforcement circles, is defined by diGenova as "surreptitious interception (usually electronically) of graphic thrust, the lawyer promised to get back

Eavesdropping has a nice etymology. The eaves of a house are the ends of the roof that overhang the windows. The exvestrop is the water that drops from the caves. An intrusive person who wants to overhear what is going on inside stands. next to the window, close up against the wall, within the eavesdrop.

What the eavesdropper is getting is an

Beware of incorrections, a way of the chief language associate, Jeffrey McQuain, to denote those false settings straight by the mex-Beware of incorrections, a word coined by my pert or too-expert.

When I referred to one on one as "a basketball defense," the incorrections dribbled in Larry Lesser of Washington pointed out that what I meant was man to man: "One on one is a variant." basketball game for two people." Larry Craig of Huntsville, Alabama, agreed that one on is

"the tifle of a two-person basketball game ig

WASHINGTON — The language of penewhich one player plays against another."

That's one meaning, but in current usa That's one meaning, but in current usage, one The verb to overhear; "to hear what is not on one also refers to defensive maneuvering by a intended by the speaker to be heard, has been baskerball team, perhaps developed from man to intended by snoopers since 1549, when a man on the man and influenced by the general replacement used by snoopers since 1549, when a man on the man and influenced by the general replacement gallows murmored a message meant for a lieuof man by person ("one person, one vote"; "pertenant, but — according to a sermon by Bishop son of the week," etc.). "The Language of Sport"
Hugh Latimer — "the worde was over heard." by Tim Considing lists the two-player game as a The word over is used in this verb not in the secondary meaning, with the primary sense a sense of "above" but with the meaning of be attuation in which a player offensively or defensively ... is confronted by a single opponent" and an extended meaning of letting one person interact with another unbothered by interlopers. The term also appears in football. An undated citation in Merciam-Webster's Sports Dictionary quotes O. J. Simpson, in his playing days: "If we at least clear enough of their guys out to leave me one on one with the last tackler, that's cool, because one on one is my game."

Another incorrection: "The world of transportation shaves words and phrases," I wrote, "like no other," Isabelle Loughin of New York gently objects. "I'd correct like to as Maybe I'm not with it and the rule has been changed." Nope: My purpose was to find out the status of the like is correct as a preposition taking an object investigation, which has been delayed by the tainting of evidence by some illegal cavesdroptainting of evidence by some illeg replaced by the conjunction as. The rule is as it was (not tike it was); when a verb follows, the charge requires a conjunction as, not the preposi-

All this is a surly way of introducing a real double damning correction, from Manfred Kroger, professor of food science at PennState (that's the snazzy way the Pennsylvania State University styles used).

In a piece about the triumph of bagels over doughnus in the toroidal-pastry war, I described the latter as intle brownish bombs of chlores. terol." I must have been inhaling chloroforn.

You doubly, misspelled cholesterol," Kroger wines (And I flave been pronouncing it wrong all my life, too). "Second, there is no cholesterol in doughnuts from fixing in oil, though there is a little from the milk and eggs used. Only animal lats contain cholesterol, and doughnuts are no longer fried in the hog's fat as they were when Washington Living first mentioned them in 1809." -The PennState FoodSciProf suggests that I should have stressed the fat content of doughmust five grams of fail vs. one or two grams in the average bagel. Bagels have gone one on one with doughnests like no other pastry, but nobody could have been more mistaken about their cho-

57 Final notice

1.05%

East Side, West Side, According to Doctorow

By Bruce Weber

New York Times Service

NEW YORK — Entering Bryant
Park, the rejuvenated public square behind the New York Public Library, the novelist E. L. Doctorow regarded it, a lovely greensward on a lovely day, with the appreciative surprise of an infrequent visitor to the city. The park was reopened two years ago after a much-publicized renovation, but for Doctorow, a 63-year-old Bronx native clad like a natty tourist in a blue blazer and crisp white trousers, it was a discovery.

"They've done a nice job with this, haven't they?" he said.

It was a curious moment, because Doctorow, perhaps more than any other contemporary writer, is associated with New York. Of his nine novels, seven are set principally in and around the city.
"Big as Life," written in 1966, is basically a science-fiction novel in which Manhattanites wake up one morning to find two giant human figures standing immobile in the Hudson River. But since then, the books have fixed New York at particular moments in history and sought to render it realistically.

In fact, a key scene in his new book, "The Waterworks" (Random House), occurs on these very grounds, albeit more than a century ago, when a reservoir stood on the spot. Here it is described in the novel. The time is 1871:

"It was an unnatural thing, the reservoir. The bouldered retaining walls were 25 feet thick and rose 44 feet in an inward-leaning slant. The design was Egyptian. The corners were relived by trapezoidal turrets, and bisecting each long wall face were temple doors. You went in, climbed up a stair to the parapet, and came out in the sky. From this elevation the rising city seemed to fall back before something that wasn't a city, a squared black expanse of black water that was in fact the geometrical absence of a city."

Some of those walls still exist, beneath the Public Library. Before venturing out into Bryant Park, Doctorow, with a library escort, had gone to see them — for the first time. Then he went upstairs to examine a photograph, circa 1899, of the reservoir, emptied on the eve of its destruction.

'Weird, isn't it?" he said, looking at the photo, which was also new to him, and he noted that in his description he had left out the wall that divided the reservoir in two.

E. L. Doctorow on his view of New York: "It's a visionary thing."

It's not so weird, really. Doctorow's relationship with New York has only partly to do with familiarity; the rest is, well, fiction. Though he keeps an apartment in Greenwich Village, he spends most of his time at his homes in New Rochelle and Sag Harbor, New York. And though the narrator of "The Waterworks," a newspaper editor named McIlvaine, is someone who knows the city intimately, Doctorow, seated now on one of the green folding chairs scattered about Bryant Park, admitted that he does not. "I don't know the city as well as McIlvaine," he said, his tone characteristically avuncular and wry. "It seems to me that most people know the city better than I do. My view is not documentary. It's a visionary thing."

In "The Waterworks," Doctorow has written something of a detective story that begins when a reporter, Mar-tin Pemberton, disappears. One villain is based on Boss Tweed, the contract leader of Tammany Hall. The other is fictional, a brilliant, disturbed doctor whose twisted experiments on children for the evil spirit pervading the time.

The action takes place all over town, on sites recognizable now as SoHo and Greenwich Village and east midtown, what was then the northern reaches of the metropolis. "We live in the past to an astonishing degree, the myths we live by, the sumptions we make," Doctorow said. "Nobody can look in the mirror and not see his mother or father. So maybe there's not such a distinction to It has been pointed out by more than one commentator that, read in order of their chronological settings, beginning with "The Waterworks," Doctorow's novels describe a century of life in New York.

middle of everything Martin sees this white coach. And just then a veteran sticks a tin cup under his nose, and he hears the newsboy. And all these things are going on, and through it all, he has a sighting: He sees his father. That's my New York." ACROSS 19 On the level High mud ou

WEATHER

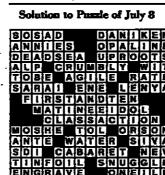

Europe

Forecast for Tuesday through Thursday, as provided by Accu-Weather.

North America Europe

20 River through 21 Mother-22 Helio in crime 23 Quad number se Quatrain rhyr 24 Lock 25 Torah readers

14 Like —— from the blue 29 Faraivina one 32 Oscar, e.g. 15 Environs 16 Wise guy 34 Draft org. 37 March events 40 Lolita

42 Phony prefix 43 Fond du ----44 New Zeal native

45 Where Spair and Portuga 48 Seasonino 49 Afterward. 51 Kind of show

53 Singer Minnell 33 Prefix with cycle 54 Kick locale

44 Shelten es Simila 66 Wan

1 R's a leuc 3 Daybreak 4 What's mon s To the ▼ Tortoise's 10 Glaring

12 Bouts til chills

24 Shortened 27 Coming-of-agi

30 Play on words 31 Some 35 Dried as Unit of com 39 Phys. or cher 41 Baby food 46 "Reds" star 47 Out of bed.

CROSSWORD

58 Roué e2 Hardly an underpertormer

Travel in a world without borders, time zones or language barriers.

Imagine a world where you can call country to country as easily as you can from home. And reach the U.S. directly from over 125 countries. Converse with someone who doesn't speak your language, since it's translated instantly. Call your clients at 3 a.m. knowing they'll get the message in your voice at a more polite hour. All this is now possible with AT&T1

To use these services, dial the AT&T Access Number of the country you're in and you'll get all the help you need. With these Access Numbers and your AT&T Calling Card, international calling has never been easier.

If you don't have an AT&T Calling Card or you'd like more information on AT&T global services, just call us using the convenient Access Numbers on your right.

How to call around the world

ACCESS NUMBER ACCESS NUMBER 004-0312 Chins, PRC++ 84196 80-11-0010 018-872 0-800-0111 Costa Rica w 0800-890-110 001-801-10 0039-111 009-11 800-190-11 800-0013 05017-1-288 New Zealan 000-911 · 105-11 235-2872 156 Spidaboue 800-0111-111 990-99-00-14 00:0410 .430-430 020-795-611 Talwan' 0060-10288-0 155-00-11 0019-991-1111 0500-89-0611 8×100-21 1-800-872-2981 8414111 1-800-872-2881 022-903-011 800-001 1-800-872-2881 1-800-872-2881 00-1800-0010 001-800-972-289 99-38-0011 800-28 0-800-872-2881 Czech Rep 00-420-00101 $26-80 001-800-872-2881 8001-0018 -0900-011-77 1-800-872-2881 9000-100-10 1-800-10 194-0011 00-800-12277 510-0200 200-12 00a-003 00-800-1311 00111 00a-800-01111

0800-10 797-797

© 1994 AT&T

ا مكان الامل